Memorandum 67-20

Subject: Senate Bill No. 252 (Abandonment or Termination of a Lease)

Attached as Exhibit I (pink) is a revision of this bill designed to effectuate the decisions made at the January meeting. Exhibit II (yellow) attached is a draft of a report for the Senate Committee on Judiciary to revise the comments to reflect the amendments to this bill.

The Board of Governors of the State Bar instructed that the Commission be advised that the Board takes no position concerning the merits of CAJ's report but concurs in the view of CAJ that the proposed legislation should be prospective only. The revision of Section 3325 (made at the January meeting in response to the CAJ report) may satisfy the State Bar, but it appears that the State Bar will have no position on the merits of the proposed legislation.

Respectfully submitted,

John H. DeMouilly
Executive Secretary

Introduced by Senator Bradley

February 6, 1967

15 3320. Subject to Section 3322, if a lease of real property
16 is terminated because of the lessee's breach thereof, the meas-17 ure of the lessor's damages for such breach is the sum of the 18 following:

19 (a) The present worth of the excess, if any, of the rent and 20 charges equivalent to rent reserved in the lease for the portion 21 of the term following such termination over the reasonable 22 rental value of the property for the same period.

23 (b) Subject to Section 3324, any other damages necessary
24 to compensate the lessor for all the detriment proximately 25 caused by the lessee's breach or which in the ordinary course 26 of things would be likely to result therefrom.

27 3321. Subject to Section 3322, if a lease of real property
28 is terminated because of the lessor's breach thereof, the meas-29 ure of the lessee's damages for such breach is the sum of the 30 following:

31 (a) The present worth of the excess, if any, of the reason-32 able rental value of the property for the portion of the term

41 ment caused by such breach that could have been avoided 42 through the exercise of reasonable diligence without undue 43 risk of other substantial detriment.

44 (b) When a lease of real property is terminated because of 45 the lessee's breach thereof and the lessor relets the property, 46 the lessor is not accountable to the lessee for any profits made 47 on the reletting, but any such profit shall be set off against 48 the damages to which the lessor is otherwise entitled.

49 3323. Notwithstanding Sections 3320 and 3321, upon 50 breach of a provision of a lease of real property, liquidated 51 damages may be recovered if so provided in the lease and if 52 they meet the requirements of Sections 1670 and 1671.

3 a lease of real property, he may recover reasonable attorney's 4 fees incurred in obtaining such relief if the lease provides for 5 the recovery of such fees.

6 (b) If a lease of real property provides that one party to 7 the lease may recover attorney's fees incurred in obtaining 8 relief for the breach of the lease, then the other party to the 9 lease may also recover reasonable attorney's fees incurred in 10 obtaining relief for the breach of the lease should he prevail.
11 If a lease of real property provides that one party to the lease 12 may recover attorney's fees incurred in successfully defending 13 his rights under the lease, then the other party to the lease 14 may also recover reasonable attorney's fees incurred in success-15 fully defending his rights under the lease. The right to recover 16 attorney's fees under this subdivision may not be waived prior 17 to the accrual of such right.

18 3325. (a) Subject to the lessor's right to obtain specific 19 enforcement of the lease, if a lease of real property is termi-20 nated because of the breach thereof by the lessee, the lessee 21 may recover from the lessor any amount paid to the lessor in 22 consideration for the lease (whether designated rental, bonus, 23 consideration for execution thereof, or by any other term) 24 that is in excess of the sum of:

25 (1) The portion of the total amount required to be paid 26 to or for the benefit of the lessor pursuant to the lease that 27 is fairly allocable to the portion of the term prior to the ter-28 mination of the lease; and 29 (2) Any damages, including liquidated damages as pro-30 vided in Section 3323, to which the lessor is entitled by reason 31 of such breach.

32 (b) The right of a lessee to recover under this section may 33 not be waived prior to the accrual of such right.

(c) This section applies only to leases that were executed or renewed on or after the effective date of this section

34 3326. (a) Nothing in this article affects the provisions of 35 Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1159) of Title 3 of 36 Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to actions 37 for unlawful detainer, forcible entry, and forcible detainer.

38 (b) The bringing of an action under the provisions of 39 Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1159) of Title 3 of 40 Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not affect the 41 right to bring a separate action to recover the damages speci-42 fied in this article; but there shall be no recovery of damages 43 in the subsequent action for any detriment for which a claim 44 for damages was made and determined on the merits in the 45 previous action.

46 3327. An agreement for the exploration for or the removal 47 of natural resources is not a lease of real property within the 48 meaning of this chapter.

49 Sec. 11. Section 3387.5 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

50 3387.5. (a) A lease of real property may be specifically 51 enforced by any party, or assignee of a party, to the lease 52 when a purpose of the lease is (1) to provide a means for

1 financing the acquisition of the leased property, or any im-
2 provement thereon, by the lessee or (2) to finance the im-3 provement of the property for the use of the lessee during the 4 term of the lease.

5 (b) Nothing in this section affects the right to obtain spe-6 cific or preventive relief in any other case where such relief 7 is appropriate.

8 Sec. 12. Section 1174 of the Code of Civil Procedure is 9 amended to read:

10 1174. If upon the trial, the verdict of the jury, or, if the 11 case be tried without a jury, the findings of the court be in 12 favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment 13 shall be entered for the restitution of the premises; and if the 14 proceedings be for an unlawful detainer after neglect, or fail-15 ure to perform the conditions or covenants of the lease or 16 agreement under which the property is held, or after default 17 in the payment of rent, the judgment shall also declare the 18 forfeiture of such lease or agreement if the notice required by 19 Section 1161 of the code states the election of the landlord to 20 declare the forfeiture thereof, but if such notice does not so 21 state such election, the lease or agreement shall not be for-22 feited.

23 The jury or the court, if the proceedings be tried without a 24 jury, shall also assess the damages occasioned to the plaintiff 25 by any forcible entry, or by any forcible or unlawful detainer, 26 alleged in the complaint and proved on the trial, and find the 27 amount of any rent due, if the alleged unlawful detainer be 28 after default in the payment of rent. Judgment against the de-29 fendant guilty of the forcible entry, or the forcible or unlawful 30 detainer may be entered in the discretion of the court either 31 for the amount of the damages and the rent found due, or for 32 three times the amount so found.

33 When the proceeding is for an unlawful detainer after de-34 fault in the payment of rent, and the lease or agreement under 35 which the rent is payable has not by its terms expired, and the 36 notice required by Section 1161 has not stated the election of 37 the landlord to declare the forfeiture thereof, the court may, 38 and, if the lease or agreement is in writing, is for a term of 39 more than one year, and does not contain a forfeiture clause, 40 shall order that execution upon the judgment shall not be 41 issued until the expiration of five days after the entry of the 42 judgment, within which time the tenant, or any subtenant, or 43 any mortgagee of the term, or any other party interested in 44 its continuance, may pay into the court, for the landlord, the 45 amount found due as rent, with interest thereon, and the 46 amount of the damages found by the jury or the court for the 47 unlawful detainer, and the costs of the proceedings, and there-48 upon the judgment shall be satisfied and the tenant be restored 49 to his estate.

50 But if payment as here provided be not made within five 51 days, the judgment may be enforced for its full amount, and 1 for the possession of the premises. In all other cases the judg-2 ment may be enforced immediately.

3 Sec. 13. This act applies to all leases, whether executed, 4 renewed, or entered into before or after the effective date of 5 this act, to the full extent that it constitutionally can be so 6 applied.

Sec. 14. If any provision of this act or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.

EXHIBIT II

DRAFT OF REPORT FOR SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

REPORT OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY ON SENATE BILL NO. 252

In order to indicate more fully its intent with respect to Senate Bill No. 252, the Senate Committee on Judiciary makes the following report.

Except for the new and revised comments set out below, the comments contained under the various sections of Senate Bill No. 252 as set out in the Recommendation of the California Law Revision Commission Relating to Abandonment or Termination of a Lease (October 1966) reflect the intent of the Senate Committee on Judiciary in approving the various provisions of Senate Bill No. 252.

The following new and revised comments to various sections of Senate Bill No. 252 also reflect the intent of the Senate Committee on Judiciary in approving Senate Bill No. 252.

Civil Code Section 1951.7

Comment. Section 1951.7 is included to make it clear that the provisions of Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 3320) of Chapter 2 of Title 2 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Civil Code are applicable when a lease terminates as a result of its repudiation.

Civil Code Section 1954.5

1951.7,

Comment. Sections 1951, 1951.5, 1952, 1953, and 1954 are designed to make the ordinary rules of contract law applicable to leases of real property and thus relieve both lessors and lessees of the forfeitures to which they had been subjected by the application of feudal property concepts. Subdivision (a) of Section 1954.5 will secure to the parties the benefits of the preceding sections by prohibiting the restoration of the previous system of lease law by standard provisions in leases.

Subdivision (b) permits a waiver of the right to specific performance because such a waiver does not result in a forfeiture or an uncompensated loss. A lease containing such a waiver provides in substance for an alternative performance—actual performance or payment of damages in lieu thereof.

Subdivision (c) makes it clear that this section is not intended to limit the arbitrability of disputes arising under leases of real property, nor is it intended to limit the powers that may be exercised by the arbitrators of such disputes.

Under subdivision (d), a provision in a lease that specifies remedies at variance with those specified in Sections 1951-1954 may be enforced only if the lease containing the provision antedates the effective date of this section. Sections 1951-1954 prescribe the remedies that may be used to enforce a previously executed lease that does not contain any provisions governing the available remedies.

[Note: We do not consider it necessary to have a comment to Section 14 -- the severability section.]
