Subject: Study L-3038 - Seven-Year Limit on Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care (Comments on TR)

Attached is the Tentative Recommendation Relating to Elimination of Seven-Year Limit for Durable Powers of Attorney for Health Care. We have received 13 letters, all in support. Three of the 13 letters have questions or comments. We also received two sets of comments handwritten on the face of the TR, one supporting the TR and the other opposing it. The comment in opposition was from attorney Linda Silveria of San Jose:

Clients should be encouraged to review their estate plans on a regular basis. I favor a limit on durable power of attorney for health care. Perhaps extending period to ten years would be appropriate.

The letters are attached as Exhibits 1 through 13:

Exhibit 1: Paul Gordon Hoffman
Exhibit 2: Jerome Sapiro
Exhibit 3: Frank M. Swirles
Exhibit 4: Henry Angerbauer
Exhibit 5: Roger V. Marshall
Exhibit 6: Patricia H. Jenkins
Exhibit 7: Paul H. Roskoph
Exhibit 8: Ruth E. Ratzlaff
Exhibit 9: Ruth A. Phelps
Exhibit 10: Wilbur L. Coats
Exhibit 11: David W. Knapp
Exhibit 12: John G. Lyons
Exhibit 13: Stuart D. Zimring

Keeping Seven-Year Limit for Existing Documents

Section 2436.5 keeps the seven-year limit for a durable power of attorney for health care executed during the period that the limit was in effect -- January 1, 1984, to January 1, 1992 (the operative date of the recommended legislation). Jerome Sapiro (Exhibit 2) and Frank Swirles (Exhibit 3) suggest that the seven-year limit be repealed for these powers as well. The staff recommends against doing this, both for policy and political reasons.

Some people who made a durable power of attorney for health care during this eight-year period may have omitted to put a time limit in the document, relying instead on the statutory limit. If the statutory limit is repealed for such documents, many of those people may be unaware of the change in the law, and the document will have legal effect when they expected it not to. It seems better to require people who want the document to be effective longer than seven years to make a new document, since most of them should remember that there was a seven-year limit when they made the old document.

It also seems likely that the interested groups who had the seven-year limit added to the legislation in the first place would strongly object to repealing the seven-year limit for documents made while the limit was in effect.

Revision of Comment to Section 2436.5

The Comment to Section 2436.5 says a durable power for health care is revoked by death of the principal or attorney in fact. Paul Hoffman (Exhibit 1) properly notes that this is not completely accurate, since an attorney in fact retains some authority after the principal's death: The attorney in fact may make a disposition under the Uniform Anatomical Gift Act, may authorize an autopsy, and may direct the disposition of the principal's remains. Civ. Code § 2434. Mr. Hoffman would revise the Comment to say that a power of attorney for health care is not revoked by death of the principal to the extent provided in Section 2434(b). The staff thinks the reference in the Comment to revocation by death of the principal or attorney in fact is unnecessary surplusage and should be deleted entirely.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert J. Murphy III

Re: Tentative Recommendation Relating to Elimination of Seven-Year Limit For Durable Powers of Attorney for Health Care

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I welcome the repeal of a seven-year limit on a durable power of attorney for health care. Even if people are warned upon signing that the power has a seven-year life, they are apt to forget about this limitation after a number of years have passed.

In your Comment to Amended Civil Code Section 2436.5, you note that a durable power of attorney for health care is revoked by the death of the principal. To avoid any question on the point, you should note that a power of attorney for health care is not revoked by the death of the principal to the extent set forth in Section 2434(b) of the Civil Code.

Very truly yours,

Paul Gordon Hoffman

Re: Tentative Recommendation
Elimination of Seven-Year Limit
for Durable Powers of Attorney
for Health Care
April 1990

Hon. Commission:

I do support the elimination of the 7 year limit for durable Powers of Attorney (Health Care).

The said Powers should remain in force indefinitely or until revoked. I think that you should add "or until revoked" wherever appropriate.

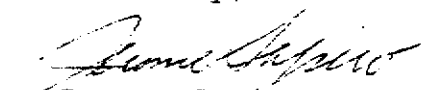

It does appear to me that the amendments are somewhat unclear and confusing, requiring another look. There is no intention to criticize the purpose to remove the limit.

In my practice, I found the 7 year limit to have been a serious mistake. It has always required explanation to clients interested in having health care powers. It does constitute the trap that you describe.

Unfortunately, you place those who presently have powers in the position of need to execute a new power before their present powers expire, assuming that they do not become incapacitated within the seven years. Is there any way by law to extend existing powers by a "grandfather" type clause until revoked or until death? Further thought should be given to this to save clients time and money. I realize the problem of giving extended life to an existing document, but this should be further explored.

Thanks again for allowing me to participate.

Sincerely,

Jerome Sapiro

Re: Tentative Recommendations -

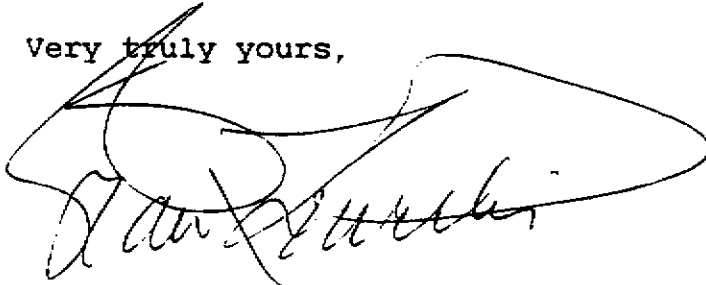

Gentlemen:

1. Litigation involving decedents - This appears to be straight forward. I have no objections to your recommendation.

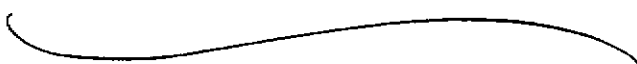

2. Elimination of the seven-year limit for durable powers of attorney for health care - The recommendation is satisfactory, but the question is still with us. What do we do with all of those instruments which are now floating around and will probably lapse just before they are needed?

3. Uniform Statutory Rule Against Perpetuities - The uniform act is good. I would suggest that the language on page 30, in section 21230(c)(2) be changed by adding a "by" in the 3rd line so that the sentence reads, "The trust may be terminated by a court of competent jurisdiction on petition of the Attorney General or of any person who would be affected by the termination".

RE: Comments to Tentative Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern:

1. Probate Law and Procedure - Debts that are Contingent, Disputed, or Not Due.

We feel that this tentative recommendation is advisable as it provides flexibility to facilitate distribution and closing of an estate and, at the same time, provide for protection to the creditors and the estate's beneficiaries. Keeping an estate open until all issues involving debts are resolved or satisfied is not acceptable.

2. Elimination of Seven-Year Limit for Durable Powers of Attorney for Health Care.

While we do agree that a Durable Power of Attorney For Health Care should be reviewed on an established time basis, we also understand and agree with the statement that our clients are not efficient in reviewing and possibly renewing this statement every seven years. It has been our experience that even if reminded and encouraged to update their estate planning, clients often procrastinate. Also, quite often, we are unable to locate a client who has moved. Therefore, providing assurance that the Durable Power of Attorney For Health Care is in existence when it is necessary is more important than forcing an analysis and review by terminating the document if it is not actively renewed.

3. Alternate Beneficiaries for Unclaimed Distribution.

We agree that most testators would prefer to have unclaimed property go to an alternate taker rather escheat to the State.

Therefore, we agree with this recommendation. We do agree that the three year period for the primary distributee to claim his or her share is too short. We would be more agreeable to a five year time period.

4. Remedies of Creditor Where Personal Representative Fails to Give Notice.

We agree with this recommendation as a preliminary distribution is usually completed because of a matter of convenience to the beneficiary and should not be used as a device to defeat creditors who have failed to receive notice because of the bad faith of the personal representative. Therefore, we support this change in law.

Very truly yours,

Re: Tentative Recommendations

Gentlemen:

I support the following recommendations relating to:
debts that are contingent, disputed or not due; alternate beneficiaries for unclaimed distribution; and elimination of seven-year limit for durable power of attorney for health care.

With respect to remedies of creditor where personal representative fails to give notice, I am concerned about what types of actions or failure to act would constitute bad faith on the part of the personal representative. For example, when is failure to give notice to a known creditor bad faith as opposed to excusable neglect?

Gentlemen:

I am responding to five tentative recommendations issued by your organization pertaining to modifications of the Probate Code.

1. Contingent, Disputed or Not Due Debts:

Your proposal of April 1990 is excellent and I believe should be submitted as proposed. My only question relates to the use of the term "interested person." As you note in your comment, the term "interested person" is already defined in Section 48 of the Probate Code. Would it be redundant to expressly reference the definition of Section 48, which includes a creditor and would permit a creditor to petition the court. This would be appropriate if the executor failed to do so.

2. Creditor Remedies:

The recommendation relating to a personal representative who deals in bad faith makes no attempt to define the scope of bad faith. Perhaps it is your desire that this be left to a court to determine, but it seems appropriate that some definition be included when the purpose of this proposal is to expand the remedies of creditors for that specific purpose. Since bad faith may be very subjective, it might assist to provide specific examples which would be considered bad faith and for which the burden of proof might be imposed upon the personal representative. Such instances might include the intentional disregard of known or readily available evidence of the debt.

3. Alternate Beneficiaries for Unclaimed Distribution:

This is an excellent proposal.

4. Elimination of Seven-Year Limit for Durable Powers of Attorney:

I heartily concur. I have never understood why a limitation should be imposed; furthermore, if it is to be limited, I do not understand why it should differ from the limitation upon the directive to physicians. I concur with your proposal that the limitation be eliminated completely.

5. Litigation Involving Decedents:

Your proposal regarding litigation involving decedents is excellent. The ability to continue these actions without commencing a probate and appointing a personal representative is most practical. I have not had an opportunity to fully evaluate this proposal, but I support its intent and purpose. I will leave to those with greater litigation experience the full analysis of your proposal.

Dear Commissioners:

I have reviewed you tentative recommendations relating to elimination of the current seven year limit for effectiveness for a Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care. I concur wholeheartedly with your recommendations.

A negative factor that your comments did not address is that attorneys who assist their clients in preparing these documents arguably have an obligation to contact the client for renewal of the Power of Attorney sometime prior to the seven year expiration date. With today's mobile society there is no guarantee that the client will be at the address given to the attorney when the Power of Attorney was prepared.

Putting the burden for review on the client rather than the attorney is to the advantage of practitioners everywhere.

Sincerely,

Ruth E. Ratzlaff

Dear Administrator:

I agree with the tentative recommendations as proposed for all of the above cited sections of the Probate Code.

I found one typographical error in the first sentence of the proposed Section 11463. I have attached a photocopy of the proposed Section pointing out the typing error.

Reference to the note on Probate Code Section 11603 (amended) concerning a three-year or four-year period for the primary distributee to claim distribution. I believe three years should be adequate. If a four-year period is set forth it will shorten the alternate distributee's claim period to one year unless you extend the time delay for the assets to escheat to the state. Two years for the alternate distributee appears to be more equitable.

Re: Tentative Recommendations Relating to Alternate Beneficiaries for Unclaimed Distribution and Elimination of Seven Year Limit for Durable Powers of Attorney for Health Care

Gentlemen:

I support your tentative recommendations regarding alternate beneficiaries for unclaimed distribution. I have had a number of probates in the last several years where unclaimed bequests have essentially gone "down the drain" because the named beneficiary could not be found. While the decedent had other heirs or devisees who could have benefitted from the gift, because of existing law, the monies eventually escheated to the State. Thus, I think your recommendation is a good one.

With regards to the seven year limit for Durable Powers of Attorney for Health Care, I also endorse your recommendation. The seven year limitation is one of the few things my clients consistently inquire about, uniformly asking why the Durable Power can only last seven years. From a pragmatic standpoint, it also adds another layer of "follow-up" to our filing system that I do not believe is necessary.

CALIFORNIA LAW REVISION COMMISSION

TENTATIVE RECOMMENDATION

relating to

Elimination of Seven-Year Limit
for Durable Powers of Attorney
for Health Care

April 1990

This tentative recommendation is being distributed so interested persons will be advised of the Commission's tentative conclusions and can make their views known to the Commission. Comments sent to the Commission are a public record, and will be considered at a public meeting of the Commission. It is just as important to advise the Commission that you approve the tentative recommendation as it is to advise the Commission that you believe it should be revised.

COMMENTS ON THIS TENTATIVE RECOMMENDATION SHOULD BE RECEIVED BY THE COMMISSION NOT LATER THAN JULY 1, 1990.

The Commission often substantially revises tentative recommendations as a result of the comments it receives. Hence, this tentative recommendation is not necessarily the recommendation the Commission will submit to the Legislature.

4000 Middlefield Road, Suite D-2
Palo Alto, California 94303-4739

RECOMMENDATION

A durable power of attorney for health care¹ authorizes an attorney in fact to make health care decisions for the principal after the principal is no longer able to give informed consent. This is a useful and effective alternative to leaving authority to make health care decisions with the courts for persons who cannot give informed consent.² It promotes self-determination and personal autonomy: Instead of leaving health care decisions to a judge, the principal may choose a trusted relative or friend to make health care decisions on his or her behalf if the need should arise.

A durable power of attorney for health care expires seven years after its execution, unless at the end of the seven-year period the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions.³ The seven-year limit was included in the 1983 legislation because it was thought that a person who makes a durable power of attorney for health care should review it

1. Durable powers of attorney for health care are authorized by a 1983 statute enacted on recommendation of the Law Revision Commission. See 1983 Cal. Stat. ch. 1204, § 10 (codified at Civ. Code §§ 2430-2443); Recommendation Relating to Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Decisions, 17 Cal. L. Revision Comm'n Reports 105 (1984). See also 1984 Cal. Stat. ch. 312 (statutory form for durable power of attorney for health care); Recommendation Relating to Statutory Forms for Durable Powers of Attorney, 17 Cal. L. Revision Comm'n Reports 701 (1984).

2. See Prob. Code §§ 2354 (medical treatment of conservatee not adjudicated to lack capacity to give informed consent), 2355 (medical treatment of conservatee adjudicated to lack capacity to give informed consent), 2357 (court-ordered medical treatment), 3200-3211 (court-ordered medical treatment for person without conservator).

3. Civ. Code § 2436.5. If at the end of the seven-year period the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions, the durable power of attorney for health care continues in effect until the principal regains capacity. Under Section 2436.5, the durable power of attorney for health care may provide that it expires earlier than seven years after its execution. The principal may also revoke the durable power at any time if the principal has legal capacity. Civ. Code § 2437.

The seven-year limit was not in the legislation recommended by the Law Revision Commission. See Recommendation Relating to Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care Decisions, 17 Cal. L. Revision Comm'n Reports 105 (1984). It was added in the Legislature at the urging of interested groups, and only applies to a durable power of attorney executed after January 1, 1984.

periodically, and at least every seven years. But experienced probate practitioners report that this has not been the effect of the legislation; instead it is a potential trap and is inconsistent with the intent of people who make a durable power of attorney for health care.⁴ The seven-year limit creates a likelihood that the durable power will expire and the principal will be unaware of the expiration. If this happens and the principal loses capacity, he or she will be unable to get needed health care without cumbersome and expensive court proceedings.

For this reason, the Commission recommends that the seven-year limit for durable powers of attorney for health care be eliminated.⁵ Although the mandatory seven-year limit is not continued, a person who so desires can provide in the durable power that it will expire seven years, or at some other longer or shorter time, after its execution.

The statutory form for a durable power of attorney for health care⁶ is revised in the recommended legislation to substitute for the seven-year limit a provision that the principal can complete if the principal desires to limit the duration of the durable power.⁷ This will alert the person

4. Letter from William J. Hoehler to Nathaniel Sterling (February 16, 1990).

5. The recommended legislation keeps the seven-year limit for durable powers of attorney for health care executed after January 1, 1984, but before January 1, 1992 (the operative date of the recommended legislation), and for those executed on a form that contains a warning statement that refers to a seven-year limit on its duration. Such a power will expire seven years from the date of its execution unless at the end of the seven-year period the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions, in which case the power will continue in effect until the principal regains capacity. This will avoid catching unawares a person who made a durable power in reliance on automatic revocation at the end of seven years.

6. Civ. Code § 2500. The recommended legislation also conforms the warning statement in a durable power of attorney for health care by deleting the reference to the seven-year limit. See id. §§ 2433, 2500.

7. If a person uses an old form that refers to the seven-year limit after the recommended legislation becomes operative, the power will expire seven years from its execution unless at the end of the seven-year period the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions, in which case the power will continue in effect until the principal regains capacity. See supra note 5.

using the statutory form to the need to consider whether the duration of the durable power should be limited.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

Civil Code § 2433 (amended). Warning statement

2433. (a) A printed form durable power of attorney for health care that is sold or otherwise distributed in this state for use by a person who does not have the advice of legal counsel shall provide no other authority than the authority to make health care decisions on behalf of the principal and shall contain, in not less than 10-point boldface type or a reasonable equivalent thereof, the following warning statement:

WARNING TO PERSON EXECUTING THIS DOCUMENT

This is an important legal document. Before executing this document, you should know these important facts:

This document gives the person you designate as your agent (the attorney in fact) the power to make health care decisions for you. Your agent must act consistently with your desires as stated in this document or otherwise made known.

Except as you otherwise specify in this document, this document gives your agent the power to consent to your doctor not giving treatment or stopping treatment necessary to keep you alive.

Notwithstanding this document, you have the right to make medical and other health care decisions for yourself so long as you can give informed consent with respect to the particular decision. In addition, no treatment may be given to you over your objection, and health care necessary to keep you alive may not be stopped or withheld if you object at the time.

This document gives your agent authority to consent, to refuse consent, or to withdraw consent to any care, treatment, service, or procedure to maintain, diagnose, or treat a physical or mental condition. This power is subject to any statement of your desires and any limitations that you include in this document. You may state in this document any types of treatment that you do not desire. In addition, the court can take away the power of your agent to make health care decisions for you if your agent (1) authorizes anything that is illegal, (2) acts contrary to your known desires, or (3) where your desires are not known, does anything that is clearly contrary to your best interests.

~~Unless you specify a shorter period in this document, this power will exist for seven years from the date you execute this document and, if you are unable to make health care decisions for yourself at the time when this seven-year period ends, this power will continue to exist until the time when you become able to make health care decisions for yourself. This power will exist for an indefinite period of time unless you limit its duration in this document.~~

You have the right to revoke the authority of your agent by notifying your agent or your treating doctor, hospital, or other health care provider orally or in writing of the revocation.

Your agent has the right to examine your medical records and to consent to their disclosure unless you limit this right in this document.

Unless you otherwise specify in this document, this document gives you agent the power after you die to (1) authorize an autopsy, (2) donate your body or parts thereof for transplant or therapeutic or educational or scientific purposes, and (3) direct the disposition of your remains.

If there is anything in this document that you do not understand, you should ask a lawyer to explain it to you.

(b) The printed form described in subdivision (a) shall also include the following notice: "This power of attorney will not be valid for making health care decisions unless it is either (1) signed by two qualified adult witnesses who are personally known to you and who are present when you sign or acknowledge your signature or (2) acknowledged before a notary public in California."

(c) A durable power of attorney prepared for execution by a person resident in this state that permits the attorney in fact to make health care decisions and that is not a printed form shall include one of the following:

(1) The substance of the statements provided for in subdivision (a) in capital letters.

(2) A certificate signed by the principal's lawyer stating: "I am a lawyer authorized to practice law in the state where this power of attorney was executed, and the principal was my client at the time this power of attorney was executed. I have advised my client concerning his or her rights in connection with this power of attorney and the applicable law and the consequences of signing or not signing this power of attorney, and my client, after being so advised, has executed this power of attorney."

(d) If a durable power of attorney includes the certificate provided for in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) and permits the attorney in fact to make health care decisions for the principal, the applicable law of which the client is to be advised by the lawyer signing the certificate includes, but is not limited to, the matters listed in subdivision (a).

Comment. Section 2433 is amended to delete the former reference to the seven-year limit on a durable power of attorney for health care, and to substitute new language drawn from the warning statement for a printed form durable power of attorney that is not a durable power of attorney for health care. See Section 2510. The former seven-year limit has been repealed for a power executed on or after January 1, 1992, that does not contain a warning statement that refers to a seven-year limit on its duration. See Section 2436.5.

Civil Code § 2436.5 (amended). Expiration of durable power of attorney for health care

2436.5. (a) This section applies only to a durable power of attorney for health care that satisfies one of the following requirements:

(1) The power of attorney was executed after January 1, 1984, but before January 1, 1992.

(2) The power of attorney was executed on or after January 1, 1992, and contains a warning statement that refers to a seven-year limit on its duration.

(b) Unless a shorter period is provided in the durable power of attorney for health care, a durable power of attorney for health care ~~executed after January 1, 1984~~, expires seven years after the date of its execution unless at the end of the seven-year period the principal lacks the capacity to make health care decisions for himself or herself, in which case the durable power of attorney for health care continues in effect until the time when the principal regains the capacity to make health care decisions for himself or herself.

Comment. Section 2436.5 is amended to add subdivision (a). Subdivision (a) restricts the seven-year limit for a durable power of attorney for health care (1) to those executed between January 1, 1984, and December 31, 1991, and (2) to those containing a warning statement that refers to a seven-year limit on its duration. For a durable power of attorney for health care executed on or after January 1, 1992, that does not contain a warning statement that refers to a seven-year limit on its duration, there is no statutory limit, but only the limit, if any, provided in the durable power itself.

The principal may revoke a durable power of attorney for health care if the principal has legal capacity. Civ. Code § 2437. A durable power of attorney for health care is also revoked by death of the principal or attorney in fact. Civ. Code §§ 2355, 2356.

Note. The January 1, 1992, date assumes the proposed legislation will be introduced and enacted in 1991, with an operative date of January 1, 1992.

Civil Code § 2444 (amended). Forms

2444. (a) Notwithstanding Section 2433, on and after January 1, 1986, a printed form of a durable power of attorney for health care may be sold or otherwise distributed if it complies with Section 2433 as amended by Section 5 of Chapter 312 of the Statutes of 1984, with Section 2433 as amended by Chapter 403 of the Statutes of 1985, or with Section 2433 as in effect at the time of sale or distribution.

However, any printed form of a durable power of attorney for health care printed on or after January 1, 1986, that is sold or otherwise distributed in this state for use by a person who does not have the advice of legal counsel shall comply with Section 2433 as in effect at the time of printing.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 2432, a printed form of a durable power of attorney for health care may be sold or otherwise distributed if it complies with Section 2342 as originally enacted, or with Section 2432 as subsequently amended. However, any printed form of a durable power of attorney for health care printed on or after January 1, 1986, shall comply with the requirements of Section 2432 in effect at the time of printing.

(c) A durable power of attorney for health care executed on or after January 1, 1986, is not invalid if it complies with Section 2432 as originally enacted or as subsequently amended. A Subject to Section 2436.5, a durable power of attorney for health care executed on or after January 1, 1986, using a printed form that complied with Section 2433 as amended by Section 5 of Chapter 312 of the Statutes of 1984, or with Section 2433 as amended by Chapter 403 of the Statutes of 1985, is as valid as if it had been executed using a printed form that complied with Section 2433 as thereafter amended.

Comment. Section 2444 is amended to validate a durable power of attorney for health care made on a printed form that complied with prior versions of Section 2433, including Section 2433 as amended by Chapter 403 of the Statutes of 1985.

A durable power of attorney for health care executed after January 1, 1984, but before January 1, 1992, or one that contains a warning statement that refers to a seven-year limit on its duration, expires seven years after the date of its execution unless at the end of the seven-year period the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions, in which case the durable power of attorney for health care continues in effect until the principal regains capacity to make health care decisions. Section 2436.5.
