Memorandum No. 57(1962)

Subject: Study No. 52(L) - Sovereign Immunity (Organization of Proposed Legislation)

Attached to this memorandum as Exhibit I (yellow pages) is an outline of the portion of the Government Code that will contain most of the Commission's recommended legislation. This outline is presented to you so that you may determine how the Commission's legislative program should be organized.

The staff suggests that the Commission's recommendations be presented to the Legislature by several bills:

- (1) General Liability Statute
- (2) Revision of Claims Statutes
- (3) Insurance
- (4) Defense of Public Officers and Employees
- (5) Workmen's Compensation Benefits
- (6) Vehicle Code Changes

This scheme will permit relatively noncontroversial recommendations to proceed through the legislative process without being prejudiced by the controversy that will be engendered by some of the other recommendations. It must be recognized, though, that it is possible for any of the Commission's proposals to fail to be enacted. Hence, the bills introduced by the Commission should be complete, i.e., the legislative scheme contained in each bill should make sense even though no other bill is enacted. In order that all enacted legislation will fit into an orderly scheme, at least two of the bills (items (3) and (4) listed above) must contain a "Double Jointing Clause," which results in duplicate provisions--one set to become effective if certain other legislation is enacted, another set to become effective if the other legislation is not enacted. Bills of this sort are frequently introduced into the Legislature, particularly when a code or a large portion of a code is being revised. This technique seems necessary here. See the revised tentative recommendations on insurance and defense which contain these provisions.

The proposed Division 3.6 that is attached would completely supersede the existing Division 3.5. Division 3.6 would be created by the general liability statute. Division 3.5 would be repealed by the bill enacting Parts 3 and 4 of Division 3.6. Parts 3 and 4 will contain the proposed legislation that will replace the existing claims statute. If the claims bill does not pass, Division 3.5 would remain in the code, and Parts 3 and 4 would not appear in Division 3.6.

A section outline has been included (in Exhibit I, attached) for most of Parts 3 and 4. This section outline includes all legislation proposed by the Commission relating to claims. The sections in Division 3.5 that have been left untouched by Commission recommendations have been placed in appropriate places in Parts 3 and 4. The section outline is very tentative; it is included merely to demonstrate that the Commission's recommended legislation and existing statutes can be integrated into a sensible scheme. Some portions of Parts 3 and 4 are still under consideration by the Commission and, hence, there may be some revisions of this scheme. For example, some of the special provisions relating to actions against the State may be made applicable to all entities; and this would necessitate moving a section from one article to another. But the section outline presents the basic scheme.

Although the details of proposed Division 3.6 shown on Exhibit I are still tentative, the overall scheme should nonetheless be approved by the Commission. This will permit the final assignment of section numbers to some of the approved legislation and will permit the staff to make arrangements to have the approved recommendations set in type. At the October meeting, the staff proposes to present to the Commission the insurance and defense recommendations to approve for printing. This cannot be done, however, unless the basic plan for the organization of the legislation has been approved. Moreover, we hope to have preprints of our bills made. This will serve two purposes: First, we will have the bills available for distribution to interested persons, and the interim committees will have our recommendations available in bill form. Second, we plan to use the same type as is used to preprint the bill for printing our printed pamphlet containing our recommendation. This will result in substantial savings in printing costs. If we do this, the length of the lines in the recommended legislation will be shorter than for the length of the lines in the text of the recommendation. However, we believe that the saving in printing costs will more than justify this difference in length of lines.

Respectfully submitted,

Joseph B. Harvey
Assistant Executive Secretary
