

Second Supplement to Memorandum 2009-27

Nonsubstantive Reorganization of Deadly Weapon Statutes: Disposition Table

In the First Supplement to Memorandum 2009-27, the staff raised the possibility of including a Supplemental Disposition Table in the Commission’s report. The idea was to include dispositional information that did not readily fit into the format of the regular disposition table. A draft of a Supplemental Disposition Table was attached to the memorandum, together with a new draft of the regular disposition table, which includes cross-references to the Supplemental Disposition Table.

An alternative approach would be to condense the information from the Supplemental Disposition Table to fit within the format of the regular disposition table. For example, the entry for Section 12001.1 in the Supplemental Disposition Table reads:

Existing Provision: Section 12001.1 Corresponding New Provisions: Article 6 (commencing with Section 20810) of Chapter 2 of Division 5 of Title 3 of Part 6, which is the same as Sections 20810 to 20820, inclusive plus ... Section 17290 (“undetectable knife”)

The cross-reference in the regular disposition table reads:

12001.1 (entirety). See Supp. Disp. Table (pp. 465-76)

Those two entries could be replaced by a single entry in the regular disposition table, which would read:

12001.1 (entirety). 17920, 20810-20820 (entire article)

Any California Law Revision Commission document referred to in this memorandum can be obtained from the Commission. Recent materials can be downloaded from the Commission’s website (www.clrc.ca.gov). Other materials can be obtained by contacting the Commission’s staff, through the website or otherwise.

This alternative approach would have both advantages and disadvantages. It would avoid the need to flip back and forth between two different tables to find dispositional information. That would make it more straightforward to use and perhaps prevent some confusion.

But it would also provide less information than the Supplemental Disposition Table. For example, it would not differentiate between substantive and definitional provisions, it would not identify the definition, and it would not give the name of the article.

Attached for the Commission’s consideration is a new draft of the regular disposition table, which would implement the alternative approach. To facilitate review, all changes from the draft that was attached to the First Supplement are shown in boldface.

The alternative approach works neatly for some provisions. For example, the entry for Section 12021 in the Supplemental Disposition Table reads:

Existing Provision: Section 12021 Corresponding New Provisions: Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 29800) of Division 9 of Title 4 of Part 6, which is the same as Sections 29800 to 29875 (inclusive)

The cross-reference in the regular disposition table reads:

12021 (entirety). See Supp. Disp. Table (pp. 465-76)

Under the alternative approach, those two entries would be replaced by a single entry in the regular disposition table, which would read:

12021 (entirety). 29800-29875 (entire chapter)

For other provisions, the alternative approach is less satisfying, because it omits potentially useful information. For example, under that approach the entry for Section 12071 would simply state:

12071. 16130, 16400, 16550, 16810, 17110, 26700-26915 (inclusive)

In contrast, the entry for Section 12071 in the Supplemental Disposition Table would make obvious how that provision was reorganized:

Existing Provision: Section 12071 Corresponding New Provisions: Sections 26700 to 26915, inclusive, which is the same as Article 1 (commencing with Section 26700) and Article 2 (commencing with Section 26800) of Chapter 2 of Division 6 of Title 4 of Part 6 plus ... Sections 16130 (“agent”), 16400 (“clear evidence of the person’s identity and age”), 16550 (“firearm transaction record”), 16810 (“licensed premises,” “licensee’s business premises,” and “licensee’s place of business”), and 17110 (“secure facility” for firearm storage by dealer)

The Commission and interested persons should compare the following drafts of the disposition table and determine which approach to use in the final recommendation:

- (1) The draft attached to the tentative recommendation, which does not provide the information included in the Supplemental Disposition Table.
- (2) The draft attached to the First Supplement to Memorandum 2009-27, which includes the Supplemental Disposition Table.
- (3) The attached draft, which implements the alternative approach discussed in this supplement.

The staff believes that the information in the Supplemental Disposition Table is potentially useful and should be presented in some form. As between Option #2 and Option #3, we do not have strong feelings about which is preferable.

Respectfully submitted,

Barbara Gaal
Chief Deputy Counsel

DISPOSITION OF EXISTING LAW

Note. This table shows the proposed disposition of Penal Code Section 653k and Title 2 of Part 4 of the Penal Code (Penal Code Sections 12000-12809), as the law existed on January 1, 2009. Unless otherwise indicated, all statutory references are to the Penal Code.
