Asimow, Judicial Review of Administrative Decision: Standing and Timing (Sept. 1992) ................. 229

Asimow, A Modern Judicial Review Statute to Replace Administrative Mandamus (Nov. 1993) .......... 403
To: The Honorable Pete Wilson
Governor of California, and
The Legislature of California

This recommendation would replace the various existing procedures for judicial review of agency action with a single straightforward statute for judicial review of all forms of state action, whether quasi-judicial, quasi-legislative, or otherwise, and of most nonlegislative forms of local agency action. It would clarify the standard of review and the rules for standing, exhaustion of administrative remedies, limitations periods, and other procedural matters.

This recommendation is submitted pursuant to Resolution Chapter 38 of the Statutes of 1996.

Respectfully submitted,

Allan L. Fink
Chairperson

The Commission appreciates their substantial involvement and contributions. The participation of a broad spectrum of experts and other persons interested in judicial review of agency action aids the Commission in preparing a better recommendation. The Commission benefits greatly from the public service performed by these individuals, agencies, and organizations.

JUDICIAL REVIEW OF AGENCY ACTION

BACKGROUND

This recommendation on judicial review of agency action is the second major part of the Commission’s continuing study of administrative law.1 The first part, governing administrative adjudication by state agencies, was enacted in 1995.2 The next part of the study will cover administrative rulemaking.

This recommendation proposes that California’s antiquated provisions for judicial review of agency action by administrative mandamus be replaced with a single, straightforward statute for judicial review of all forms of state action and most forms of non-legislative local agency action.3 The goal is to allow litigants and courts to resolve swiftly the substantive issues in dispute, rather than to waste resources disputing tangential procedural issues.

3. The proposed law does not apply to judicial review of an ordinance or regulation enacted by a county board of supervisors or city council, whether legislative, executive, or administrative in nature.
REPLACING MANDAMUS AND OTHER FORMS OF JUDICIAL REVIEW

Under existing law, on-the-record adjudicatory decisions of state and local government are reviewed by superior courts under the administrative mandamus provisions of Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.5. Regulations adopted by state agencies are reviewed by superior courts in actions for declaratory judgment. Various other agency actions are reviewed by traditional mandamus under Code of Civil Procedure Section 1085 or by declaratory judgment. Many statutes set forth special review procedures for particular agencies.

There are many problems with this patchwork scheme. First, it is often unclear whether judicial review should be sought by administrative mandamus, traditional mandamus,

5. Gov’t Code § 11350(a); Code Civ. Proc. § 1060.
7. See, e.g., Californians for Native Salmon Ass’n v. Department of Forestry, 221 Cal. App. 3d 1419, 271 Cal. Rptr. 270 (1990). Agency action can also be reviewed in the context of enforcement actions or criminal actions brought against individuals for violation of regulatory statutes or rules.
or declaratory relief. If an action for administrative mandamus can be brought, it must be brought under the administrative mandamus provisions. Parties regularly file under the wrong provisions. Some cases hold that if the trial court uses the wrong writ, the case must be reversed on appeal so it can be retried under the proper procedure, even if no one objects.

Second, it is often difficult to decide which form of mandamus to use because of the problematic distinction between quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial action, especially in local land use planning and environmental decisions. Administrative mandamus is proper to review quasi-judicial action, while traditional mandamus or declaratory relief is proper to review quasi-legislative action.

Third, if administrative mandamus is unavailable because statutory requirements are not met, and traditional mandamus is unavailable because there has been no deprivation of a clear legal right or an abuse of discretion, the case will be unreviewable by the courts.

Both administrative and traditional mandamus involve complex rules of pleading and procedure. The proceeding may be commenced by a petition for issuance of an alternative writ of mandamus or by a notice of motion for a peremptory writ. Trial courts must distinguish between these two forms of mandamus because there are many differences between them, including use of juries, statutes of limitation.

tions,14 exhaustion of remedies,15 stays,16 open or closed record,17 whether the agency must make findings,18 and possibly scope of review of factual issues.19

This awkward hybrid is the result of the historical development of judicial review procedures in California. At the time the administrative mandamus concept was devised in 1945, the California Constitution was thought to limit the ability of the Legislature to affect appellate jurisdiction of the courts.20 Since that time, the Constitution has been amended to delete the reference to the “writ of review,” and has been construed to allow the Legislature greater latitude in prescribing appropriate forms of judicial review if court discretion to deny review is preserved.21

The Law Revision Commission recommends that the archaic judicial review system that has evolved over the years be replaced by a simple and straightforward statute. The proposed law provides that final state or local agency action is reviewable by a petition for review filed with the appropriate court. Common law writs such as mandamus, certiorari, and prohibition, and equitable remedies such as injunction and declaratory judgment, would be replaced for judicial review of agency action by the unified scheme of the proposed law.

The proposed law makes clear the court continues to have discretion summarily to deny relief if the petition for review does not present a substantial issue for resolution by the court.

22. The proposed law does not apply to judicial review of ordinances, regulations, or legislative resolutions, enacted by a county board of supervisors or city council. These matters will continue to be reviewed by traditional mandamus or by an action for declaratory or injunctive relief. See, e.g., Carlton Santee Corp. v. Padre Dam Mun. Water Dist., 120 Cal. App. 3d 14, 18-19, 174 Cal. Rptr. 413 (1981) (mandamus to review validity of water district ordinance); 2 G. Ogden, California Public Agency Practice § 50.02[a] (1996).

23. The proposed law provides that an action to prevent an illegal expenditure by a local governmental entity under Section 526a of the Code of Civil Procedure must be brought under the proposed law. See infra text accompanying note 50. See generally Asimow, Judicial Review of Administrative Decision: Standing and Timing, 27 Cal. L. Revision Comm’n Reports 235-36 (1997); Asimow, supra note 4, at 422. The proposed law also makes clear that it does not apply where a statute provides for judicial review by a trial de novo, does not apply to an action for refund of taxes under Section 5140 or 5148 or under Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, does not apply to an action under the California Tort Claims Act, does not apply to litigation in which the sole issue is a claim for money damages or compensation if the agency whose action is at issue does not have statutory authority to determine the claim, does not apply to validating proceedings under the Code of Civil Procedure, does not apply to judicial review of a decision of a court, does not apply to judicial review of an award in binding arbitration under Government Code Section 11420.10, does not apply to judicial review of agency proceedings pursuant to a court-ordered reference, and does not limit use of the writ of habeas corpus. The proposed law does apply to judicial review of property taxation under Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, other than under Section 5140 or 5148 of that code.

AGENCIES TO WHICH PROPOSED LAW APPLIES

Existing statutes draw little or no distinction between judicial review of state and local agency action. The proposed law applies to all state and local government agencies, except three that are specifically exempted — the State Bar Court, Public Utilities Commission, and power plant siting decisions of the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission. The State Bar Court is exempted because, under the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers, regulation of attorney discipline is a judicial function where the California Supreme Court has inherent and primary regulatory power. The Public Utilities Commission is exempted because recently enacted procedures for judicial review of PUC matters are significantly different from the proposed law. Power plant siting decisions of the Energy Commission are exempted for reasons similar to the PUC exemption: these decisions are reviewed in the same manner as nonadjudicative decisions of the PUC, and are therefore reviewed exclusively in the California Supreme Court.

Under existing law, decisions of some nongovernmental entities are subject to judicial review by administrative mandamus. The proposed law generally continues this rule.

RULES OF PROCEDURE

The proposed law provides a few key procedural rules for judicial review, and authorizes the Judicial Council to provide procedural detail by rule not inconsistent with the proposed law. The proposed law generalizes the rule in administrative mandamus that proceedings are heard by the court sitting without a jury.30

Where no specific procedural rule is applicable, normal rules of civil procedure govern judicial review.31

STANDING TO SEEK JUDICIAL REVIEW

Existing California law on standing to seek judicial review of agency action is mostly uncodified.32 A petitioner for administrative or traditional mandamus to review a decision of a state or local agency must be beneficially interested in,33 or aggrieved by,34 the decision. This requirement is applied in various ways, depending on whether the action being reviewed is administrative adjudication, rulemaking, or quasi-legislative, informal, or ministerial action.

In practice, however, juries are seldom used in writ proceedings because factual issues are usually limited and most courts prefer to decide them without the aid of a jury. California Civil Writ Practice § 9.75, at 327 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 3d ed. 1996).

Administrative Adjudication and State Agency Regulations

A person seeking administrative mandamus to review an adjudicative proceeding under the Administrative Procedure Act must have been a party in the adjudicative proceeding.\(^{35}\) A person seeking administrative mandamus to review an adjudicative proceeding not under the Administrative Procedure Act must have been either a party or a person authorized to participate as an interested party.\(^{36}\) The proposed law codifies these rules.

For review of a state agency regulation by declaratory relief, the petitioner must be an interested person,\(^{37}\) i.e., a person subject to or affected by the regulation.\(^{38}\) If a regulation is reviewed by mandamus, the petitioner may have public interest standing by showing that he or she is interested as a citizen in having the law executed and the duty in question enforced.\(^{39}\) The proposed law generally continues these rules.

Quasi-Legislative, Informal, or Ministerial Action

A person seeking traditional mandamus to review agency action other than an adjudicative proceeding or state agency rulemaking must show that a substantial right is affected and that the person will suffer substantial damage if the action is not annulled. This requirement is relaxed if a public right is involved and judicial review is sought to enforce a public duty, in which case it is enough that the person seeking review is interested as a citizen in having the laws executed and the public duty enforced.

Private interest standing. By case law, a person has sufficient private interest to confer standing if the agency action is directed to that person, or if the person’s interest is over and above that of members of the general public. Non-pecuniary interests such as environmental or esthetic claims are sufficient to meet the private interest test. Associations such as unions, trade associations, or political associations have standing to sue on behalf of their members. But if a person has not suffered some kind of harm from the agency action, the person lacks private interest standing to seek judicial review. The proposed law codifies these rules.

Under the proposed law, the person seeking review need not personally have objected to the agency action, as long as the issue to be reviewed was raised before the agency by someone. This avoids the undesirable effect of requiring a person seeking review to associate in the review process another person who did protest to the agency but is not now interested in the judicial review proceeding.

The proposed law denies a person who complained to an agency about a professional licensee standing to challenge an agency decision in favor of the licensee.

The proposed law makes clear that a local agency may have private interest standing to seek judicial review of state action, and relaxes the limiting rule that local government has standing for constitutional challenges under the commerce or supremacy clause but not under the due process, equal protection, or contract clauses. There is no sound reason to treat certain constitutional claims differently for standing purposes.

Public interest standing. The proposed law codifies case law in traditional mandamus that a person who lacks private interest standing may nonetheless sue to vindicate the public interest. This promotes the policy of allowing a citizen to ensure that a government body does not impair or defeat the purpose of legislation establishing a public right. The proposed law adds safeguards to public interest standing by requiring the person to reside or conduct business in the agency’s jurisdiction, requires that the person will adequately protect the public interest, and requires the person first to request the agency to correct its action and to show that the agency has not done so within a reasonable time.

47. An exception to this rule permits the complaining person to challenge the agency decision if the person was either a party to the administrative proceeding or had a right to become a party under a statute specific to that agency. However, under existing law a complaining person has no general right to become a party to an administrative proceeding. See California Administrative Hearing Practice § 2.45, at 85 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar 1984).

The proposed law provides that a taxpayers’ suit to restrain illegal or wasteful expenditures must be brought under the proposed law, and continues the rule that a plaintiff in such an action has standing without the need to show any individual harm.

EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES

Under existing law, a litigant must fully complete all federal, state, and local administrative remedies before coming to court or defending against administrative enforcement unless an exception to the exhaustion of remedies rule applies. The proposed law codifies the exhaustion of remedies rule, including the rule that exhaustion of remedies is jurisdictional rather than than discretionary with the court. The proposed law provides exceptions to the exhaustion of remedies rule to the extent administrative remedies are inadequate or where requiring their exhaustion would result in irreparable harm disproportionate to the public and private benefit from requiring exhaustion. The proposed law continues the rule of existing statutes that a litigant is not required to request reconsideration from the agency before seeking judicial review.

The proposed law codifies the rule that, in order to be considered by the reviewing court, the exact issue must first have been presented to the agency. The proposed law reverses existing law by requiring exhaustion of remedies for a local tax assessment alleged to be a nullity. The proposed law eliminates the rule that in an adjudicative proceeding agency denial of a request for a continuance is judicially reviewable immediately. Judicial review of such matters should not

52. “Jurisdictional” in this context does not mean that the court wholly lacks power to hear the matter before administrative remedies have been exhausted. Rather it means that a writ of prohibition or certiorari from a higher court will lie to prevent a lower court from hearing it. See Abelleira v. District Court of Appeal, 17 Cal. 2d 280, 102 P.2d 329 (1941).

53. The inadequacy requirement includes and accommodates existing California exceptions to the exhaustion of remedies rule for futility, certain constitutional issues, and lack of notice. Asimow, supra note 32, at 279.

54. This provision was taken from the 1981 Model State Administrative Procedure Act, 15 U.L.A. 1 (1990). The proposed law expands the factors to be considered to include private as well as public benefit.

55. Gov’t Code §§ 11523 (Administrative Procedure Act), 19588 (State Personnel Board). However, the common law rule in California may be otherwise. See Alexander v. State Personnel Bd., 22 Cal. 2d 198, 137 P.2d 433 (1943). This rule would not preclude a litigant from requesting reconsideration or an agency on its own motion from reconsidering.

56. Gov’t Code § 11524(c). Such a denial will be subject to general rules requiring exhaustion of remedies, and thus will be subject to a possible exception because administrative remedies are inadequate or because to require exhaustion would result in irreparable harm. Similarly, judicial review of discovery orders will be postponed until after conclusion of the administrative proceeding.
occur until after conclusion of administrative proceedings.\footnote{57}

PRIMARY JURISDICTION

Under the doctrine of primary jurisdiction, a case properly filed in court may be shifted to an administrative agency that also has statutory power to resolve some or all of the issues in the case.\footnote{58} Thus the agency makes the initial decision in the case, but the court retains power to review the agency action.

The proposed law makes clear the doctrine of primary jurisdiction is distinct from exhaustion of remedies.\footnote{59} It provides that the court should send an entire case, or one or more issues in the case, to an agency for an initial decision only where the Legislature intended that the agency have exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction over that type of case or issue, or where the benefits to the court in doing so outweigh the extra delay and cost to the litigants.\footnote{60}

\footnote{57} Cf. Stenocord Corp. v. City and County of San Francisco, 2 Cal. 3d 984, 471 P.2d 966, 88 Cal. Rptr. 166 (1970) (complaint for recovery of taxes).

\footnote{58} Asimow, \textit{supra} note 32, at 281. The doctrine of primary jurisdiction must be distinguished from the doctrine of exhaustion of remedies. The rules are different with respect to burden of proof, presumption of jurisdiction, and applicability. \textit{Id.} at 283-84.

\footnote{59} Most California primary jurisdiction cases incorrectly describe the issue as one of exhaustion of remedies. Asimow, \textit{supra} note 32, at 285. The proposed law should clear up much of the confusion. For recent cases analyzing the issue correctly, see Farmers Ins. Exch. v. Superior Court, 2 Cal. 4th 377, 826 P.2d 730, 6 Cal. Rptr. 2d 487 (1992); Miller v. Superior Court, 50 Cal. App. 4th 1665, 58 Cal Rptr. 2d 584 (1996); State Farm Fire & Casualty Co. v. Superior Court, 45 Cal. App. 4th 1093, 53 Cal. Rptr. 2d 229 (1996).

\footnote{60} If the agency has concurrent jurisdiction, the party seeking to have the matter or issue referred to the agency must persuade the court that the efficiencies outweigh the cost, complexity, and delay inherent in so doing. Asimow, \textit{supra} note 32, at 284. The court in its discretion may ask the agency to file an amicus brief with its views on the matter as an alternative to sending the case to the agency. The court’s discretion to refer the matter or issue to the agency for action gives courts considerable flexibility in the interests of justice. See Farmers Ins. Exch. v. Superior Court, 2 Cal. 4th 377, 391-92, 826 P.2d 730, 6 Cal. Rptr. 2d 487, 496 (1992).
RIPENESS

The ripeness doctrine in administrative law counsels a court to refuse to hear an attack on the validity of an agency rule or policy until the agency takes further action to apply it in a specific fact situation.\textsuperscript{61} The ripeness doctrine is well accepted in California law,\textsuperscript{62} and the proposed law codifies it.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS FOR REVIEW OF ADJUDICATION

Existing statutes of limitations for judicial review of agency adjudication are scattered and inconsistent.\textsuperscript{63} The limitations period for judicial review of adjudication under the Administrative Procedure Act is 30 days,\textsuperscript{64} and for judicial review of a local agency decision other than by a school district is 90 days.\textsuperscript{65} Other sections applicable to particular agencies provide different limitations periods for commencing judicial review.\textsuperscript{66} Adjudicatory action not covered by any of these provisions is subject to the three-year or four-year limitations periods for civil actions generally. 67

The proposed law continues the 30-day limitations period for judicial review of adjudication under the Administrative Procedure Act, and generalizes it to apply to most state agency adjudication. 69 The proposed law continues the 90-day limitations period for local agency adjudication, 70 except that local agency adjudication under the Administrative Procedure Act will be 30 days as at present. 71 Special limitations periods under the California Environmental Quality Act and some other provisions 73 are preserved. Except where a special

67. These actions are also subject to the defense of laches.

68. The period for judicial review starts to run from the date the agency decision becomes effective, generally 30 days after issuance of the decision. Gov’t Code § 11519. The decision will inform the parties of the limitations period for judicial review. Failure to do so extends the period to six months.

69. The proposed law preserves a few limitations periods that are longer than the period prescribed in the proposed law: one-year for review of certain state personnel decisions (Gov’t Code § 19630), six months for review of decisions of the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board (Unemp. Ins. Code § 410), 90 days for review of certain driver’s license orders (Veh. Code § 14401(a)), and one year for review of a welfare decision of the Department of Social Services (Welf. & Inst. Code § 10962).

70. The period starts to run from the date the decision is announced or the date the local agency notifies the parties of the last day to file a petition for review, whichever is later.

71. For local agency adjudication now under the Administrative Procedure Act, see Educ. Code §§ 44944 (suspension or dismissal of certificated employee of school district), 44948.5 (employment of certificated employee of school district), 87679 (employee of community college district).

73. The proposed law does not override special limitations periods statutorily preserved for policy reasons, such as for judicial review of an administratively-issued withholding order for taxes (Code Civ. Proc. § 706.075), notice of deficiency of an assessment due from a producer under a commodity marketing program (Food & Agric. Code §§ 59234.5, 60016), State Personnel Board (Gov’t Code § 19630), Department of Personnel Administration (Gov’t Code § 19815.8), cancellation by a city or county of a contract limiting use of agricultural land under the Williamson Act (Gov’t Code § 51286), California Environmental Quality Act (Pub. Res. Code § 21167), decision of local legislative body... statute applies, non-adjudicatory action remains subject to the general three or four year limitations period for civil actions.

The proposed law requires the agency to give written notice to the parties of the date by which review must be sought, or of the shortest potentially applicable time period. This will be particularly helpful to a party who is not represented by counsel. Failure to give the notice will toll the running of the limitations period up to a maximum of 180 days after the decision is effective.

Under the existing Administrative Procedure Act and the existing statute for judicial review of a local agency decision, when a person seeking judicial review makes a timely request for the agency to prepare the record, the time to petition for review is extended until 30 days after the record is delivered. The proposed law continues and generalizes this rule.

The proposed law does not change the case law rule that an agency may be estopped to plead the statute of limitations if a

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Review of Agency Interpretation of Law

Under existing law, courts use independent judgment to review an agency interpretation of law.78 This is qualified by the rule that, depending on the context, courts should give great weight to a consistent construction of a statute by the agency responsible for its implementation.79 Deference is given to the agency’s interpretation if the court finds it appropriate to do so based on a number of factors. These factors are generally of two kinds — factors indicating that the agency has a comparative interpretive advantage over the courts, and factors indicating that the interpretation in question is probably correct.80

In the comparative advantage category are factors that assume the agency has expertise and technical knowledge, especially where the legal text to be interpreted is technical, obscure, complex, open-ended, or entwined with issues of fact, policy, and discretion. A court is more likely to defer to an agency’s interpretation of its own regulation than to its interpretation of a statute, since the agency is likely to be intimately familiar with regulations it authored and sensitive to the practical implications of one interpretation over another. A court is more likely to defer to an agency’s interpretation of a statute that the agency enforces than to its interpretation of some other statute, the common law, the constitution, or judicial precedent.81

Factors indicating that the interpretation in question is probably correct include the degree to which the agency’s interpretation appears to have been carefully considered by responsible agency officials. For example, an interpretation of a statute contained in a regulation adopted after public notice and comment is more deserving of deference than an interpretation contained in an advice letter prepared by a single staff member.82 Deference is called for if the agency has consistently maintained the interpretation in question, especially if the interpretation is long-standing. A vacillating position, however, is entitled to no deference.83 An interpretation is more worthy of deference if it first occurred contemporaneously with enactment of the statute being interpreted.84 Defer-

84. See Woosley v. State, 3 Cal. 4th 758, 776, 13 Cal. Rptr. 2d 30, 38-39 (1992), cert. denied, 113 S. Ct. 2416 (1993); California Ass’n of Psychology Providers v. Rank, 51 Cal. 3d 1, 17, 793 P.2d 2, 11, 270 Cal. Rptr. 796, 805 (1990); Dyna-Med, Inc. v. Fair Employment & Housing Comm’n, 43 Cal. 3d ence may also be appropriate if the Legislature reenacted the statute in question with knowledge of the agency’s prior interpretation.85

When a court reviews a regulation, it normally separates the issues, exercising independent judgment with appropriate deference on interpretive issues, such as whether the regulation conflicts with the governing statute, but applying the abuse of discretion standard on whether the regulation is reasonably necessary to effectuate the purpose of the statute.86

The Commission finds existing law on the standard of review of agency interpretation of law to be generally satisfactory. The proposed law continues independent judgment review of agency interpretation of law, with appropriate deference to the agency’s interpretation.87 The proposed law

87. The proposed law exempts three labor law agencies from the statutory standard of review of questions of law (independent judgment with appropriate deference). These agencies are the Agricultural Labor Relations Board, Public Employment Relations Board, and Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board. Thus the standard of review of questions of law for these agencies will continue to be determined by case law. See, e.g., Banning Teachers Ass’n v. Public Employment Relations Bd., 44 Cal. 3d 799, 804, 750 P.2d 313, 244 Cal. Rptr. 671 (1988); Agricultural Labor Relations Bd. v. Superior Court, 16 Cal. 3d 392, 400, 411, 546 P.2d 687, 128 Cal. Rptr. 183 (1976); Judson Steel Corp. v. Workers’ Compensation Appeals Bd., 22 Cal. 3d 658, 668, 586 P.2d 564, 150 Cal. Rptr. 250 (1978); United Farm Workers v. Agricultural Labor Relations Bd., 41 Cal. App. 4th 303, 48 Cal. Rptr. 2d 696, 703 (1995). These labor agencies are exempted because they must accommodate conflicting and contentious does not address the standard of review of agency application of law to fact, leaving existing law unaffected. 88

Review of Agency Factfinding

Basic fact-finding involves determining what happened (or will happen in the future), when it happened, the state of mind of the participants, and the like. Some basic facts are established by direct testimony, some by inference from circumstantial evidence. For example, suppose the agency finds from direct or circumstantial evidence that E, an employee of R, was driving home from a night school course at the time of the accident. R paid for the cost of the night school and encouraged but did not require E to take the course. Determinations of basic fact such as these can be made without knowing anything of the applicable law. 89

Under existing law, in reviewing factual determinations in an adjudication by an agency not given judicial power by the California Constitution, courts use independent judgment if the proceeding substantially deprives a party’s fundamental vested right. 90 California is the only jurisdiction in the United economic interests, and the Legislature appears to have wanted legal interpretations by these agencies within their regulatory authority to be given greater deference by the courts.

89 Asimow, supra note 80, at 1211.

90 E.g., Bixby v. Pierno, 4 Cal. 3d 130, 481 P.2d 242, 93 Cal. Rptr. 234 (1971); see generally Asimow, supra, note 80. Bixby involved judicial review of a decision of the Commissioner of Corporations approving a recapitalization plan of a family-owned corporation as “fair, just and equitable,” an exercise of agency discretion. Bixby v. Pierno, supra, 4 Cal. 3d at 150-51. Exercise of agency discretion is subject to abuse of discretion review under the proposed law. See discussion in text infra accompanying notes 101-07. The substantial evidence test of the proposed law for factfinding applies only to the basic facts underlying the decision, not to application of law to basic facts or to the decision itself.
States that uses independent judgment so broadly as a standard for judicial review of agency action.\textsuperscript{91}

The independent judgment test was imposed by a 1936 California Supreme Court decision on the ground that constitutional doctrines of separation of powers or due process required it.\textsuperscript{92} The test applied to review of fact-finding by state agencies not established by the California Constitution, because it was thought those agencies could not constitutionally exercise judicial power. But courts have subsequently rejected any constitutional basis for the independent judgment test,\textsuperscript{93} so the Legislature or the courts are now free to abolish it. Nonetheless, courts have continued to apply the independent judgment test to decisions of nonconstitutional state agencies where fundamental vested rights are involved. Thus the substantial evidence test is applied to review decisions of constitutional state agencies, and of nonconstitutional state agencies where fundamental vested rights are not involved. Independent judgment review is applied to nonconstitutional state agencies where substantial vested rights are involved. There is no rational policy basis for distinguishing between agencies established by the constitution and those that are not.

Independent judgment review of state agency adjudication substitutes factual conclusions of a trial judge, often a non-expert generalist, for those of the administrative law judge and agency heads who are usually experienced in their professional field. Especially in cases involving technical material or the clash of expert witnesses, administrative law judges and agency heads are more likely to be in a position to reach the correct decision than a trial judge reviewing the record.94

Independent judgment review is inefficient because it requires parties to litigate the peripheral issue of whether or not independent judgment review applies. This involves the loose standard of the degree of “vestedness” and “fundamentalness” of the right affected. Independent judgment review requires closer scrutiny of the record, and the transcript may be lengthy. Independent judgment review also encourages more people to seek judicial review than would do so under a substantial evidence standard.95

Except in one limited case, the proposed law eliminates independent judgment review of state agency fact-finding, and instead requires the court to uphold agency findings if supported by substantial evidence in the record as a whole.96

Under the exception, if the agency head changes a determination of fact made in an adjudicative proceeding conducted by an administrative law judge employed by the Office of Administrative Hearings, the proposed law preserves independent judgment review of that determination of fact.

Under existing law, fact-finding in adjudication by local agencies is reviewed by the same standard as for state agencies that do not derive judicial power from the California Constitution — independent judgment if a fundamental

96. An important benefit of the substantial evidence test is that it greatly broadens the power of the appellate court in appeals from trial court decisions reviewing administrative action. Asimow, supra note 80, at 1168-69. The proposed law codifies the existing rule that a person challenging agency action has the burden of persuasion on overturning agency action. See California Administrative Mandamus §§ 4.157, 12.7 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 2d ed. 1989).
vested right is involved, otherwise substantial evidence. The proposed law continues these rules for local agency adjudication, i.e., proceedings involving an evidentiary hearing to determine a legal interest of a particular person.

Review of Agency Exercise of Discretion

An agency has discretion when the law allows it to choose between several alternative policies or courses of action. Examples include an agency’s power to choose a severe or lenient penalty, whether there is good cause to deny a license, whether to grant permission for various sorts of land uses, or to approve a corporate reorganization as fair. An agency might have power to prescribe the permitted level of a toxin in drinking water, to decide whether to favor the environment at the expense of economic development or vice versa, or to decide whom to investigate or charge when resources are limited.

Existing law is replete with conflicting doctrines on these important issues. California courts may review agency discretionary decisions on grounds of legality, procedural irregularity, or abuse of discretion despite broad statutory delegations

98. The argument for abandoning independent judgment review is weaker for local agency adjudication than for state agency adjudication. Local agency adjudication is often informal, and lacking procedural protections that apply to state agency hearings, including the administrative adjudication bill of rights. Gov’t Code §§ 11410.20 (application to state), 11425.10-11425.60 (administrative adjudication bill of rights) (operative July 1, 1997). Independent judgment review has been justified as needed to salvage administrative procedures which would otherwise violate due process. Bixby v. Pierno, 4 Cal. 3d 130, 140 n.6, 481 P.2d 242, 93 Cal. Rptr. 234 (1971). A local agency may voluntarily apply the administrative adjudication bill of rights to its adjudications, Gov’t Code § 11410.40 (operative July 1, 1997), but is not required to do so. The Commission has not made a detailed study of procedures in adjudications of the many types of local agencies. In the absence of such a study, the Commission believes existing law should be continued.

of discretionary authority.\textsuperscript{100} Under existing law, the court reviews adjudicative and quasi-legislative action by traditional mandamus generally on a closed record, but in reviewing ministerial or informal action, extra-record evidence is freely admissible if the facts are in dispute.\textsuperscript{101} The agency must give reasons for the discretionary action in the case of review of adjudicatory action,\textsuperscript{102} but not in the case of quasi-legislative action.\textsuperscript{103}

In reviewing discretionary action, a court first decides whether the agency’s choice was legally permissible and whether the agency followed legally required procedures, using independent judgment with appropriate deference.\textsuperscript{104} Within these limits, the agency has power to choose between alternatives, and a court must not substitute its judgment for the agency’s, since the Legislature gave discretionary power to the agency, not the court. But the court should reverse if the agency’s choice was an abuse of discretion. Review for abuse of discretion consists of two distinct inquiries: the adequacy of the factual underpinning of the discretionary decision, and the rationality of the choice.\textsuperscript{105}

In reviewing the adequacy of the factual underpinning, it is not clear whether the abuse of discretion test is merely another way to state the substantial evidence test, or whether the substantial evidence test gives the court greater leeway in reviewing the agency decision, but the prevailing view is that they are synonymous.\textsuperscript{106} Legislative history of a 1982 enactment\textsuperscript{107} also suggests that substantial evidence is the appropriate test whenever the issue is the factual basis for agency discretionary action.

The proposed law requires the factual underpinnings of a discretionary decision to be reviewed by the same standards for other fact-finding — substantial evidence or independent judgment\textsuperscript{108} — whether the decision arose out of formal or informal adjudication, quasi-legislative action such as rule-making, or some other function.\textsuperscript{109}

\textbf{Review of Agency Procedure}

Under existing law, California courts use independent judgment on the question of whether agency action complied with procedural requirements of statutes or the constitution.\textsuperscript{110} California courts have occasionally mandated administrative \item \textsuperscript{108} See discussion \textit{supra} in text accompanying notes 89-98.

  \item \textsuperscript{109} The proposed law rejects case law indicating that an exercise of agency discretion can be disturbed only if evidentiary support is “entirely lacking” or that review is less intensive in abuse of discretion cases than in other cases. procedures not required by any statute, either in the interest of fair procedures\textsuperscript{111} or to facilitate judicial review.\textsuperscript{112}

The Commission believes that California courts should retain the power to impose administrative procedures not found in a statute. This power is necessary to prevent procedural unfairness to parties. However, while courts should continue to use independent judgment on procedural issues, they should normally accord considerable deference to agency decisions about how to implement procedural provisions in statutes. Agency expertise is just as relevant in establishing procedure as in fact-finding and determining law and policy.\textsuperscript{113}

The proposed law permits the court to exercise independent judgment in reviewing agency procedures, with deference to the agency’s determination of what procedures are appropriate.\textsuperscript{114}

EVIDENCE OUTSIDE THE ADMINISTRATIVE RECORD

Under existing law, in administrative mandamus\textsuperscript{115} to review an adjudicative proceeding, the court may remand to \item[114] An agency’s procedural choices under a general statute applicable to a variety of agencies, such as the Administrative Procedure Act, should be entitled to less deference than a choice made under a statute unique to that agency. Asimow, \textit{supra} note 80, at 1247. The proposed law provides that the standard of review of agency procedure does not apply to judicial review of state agency rulemaking under the Administrative Procedure Act. The Law Revision Commission is studying this question as part of its administrative rulemaking study.

the agency to admit additional evidence only if in the exercise of reasonable diligence the evidence could not have been produced at, or was improperly excluded from, the administrative hearing.\textsuperscript{116} For independent judgment review, the court may either admit the evidence itself or remand if one of those two conditions is satisfied.\textsuperscript{117}

In traditional mandamus to review ministerial or informal action, extra-record evidence is freely admissible if the facts are in dispute.\textsuperscript{118} The court simply takes evidence and determines the issues. In traditional mandamus to review quasilegislative action, extra-record evidence is admissible only if the evidence existed before the agency decision and it was not possible in the exercise of reasonable diligence to present it at the administrative proceeding.\textsuperscript{119}

The proposed law codifies a closed record requirement for review of agency action where the agency gave interested persons notice and an opportunity to submit oral or written comment and maintained a record or file of its proceedings.
These requirements will generally be satisfied for most administrative adjudication and quasi-legislative action. If these requirements are not satisfied, the court may either receive the evidence itself or remand to the agency to do so.
This will apply to most ministerial and informal action.

If the agency failed to give interested persons notice and an opportunity to submit oral or written comment, or did not maintain a record or file of its proceedings, the proposed law permits the court to remand to the agency to reconsider in light of additional evidence that in the exercise of reasonable diligence could not have been produced at, or was improperly excluded from, the agency proceeding. This is consistent with the agency’s role as the primary factfinder and the court’s role as a reviewing body. The court may receive the evidence itself without remanding the case to the agency in any of the following circumstances:

(1) The evidence is needed to decide whether those taking the agency action were improperly constituted as a decision-making body or whether there were grounds to disqualify them, whether the procedure or decisionmaking process was unlawful.

(2) The standard of review of an adjudicative proceeding is the independent judgment of the court.

(3) No hearing was held by the agency and the court finds that remand to the agency would be unlikely to result in a better record for review and the interests of economy and efficiency would be served by receiving the evidence itself.

PROPER COURT FOR REVIEW; VENUE

Under existing law, most judicial review of agency action is in superior court. Either the Supreme Court or the court of appeal reviews decisions of the Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board, Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, and Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals Board. The court of appeal reviews decisions of the Agricultural

120. The proposed law deals only with admissibility of new evidence on issues involved in the agency proceeding. It does not limit evidence on issues unique to judicial review, such as petitioner’s standing or capacity, or affirmative defenses such as laches for unreasonable delay in seeking judicial review.

121. This provision does not apply to judicial review of rulemaking.

Labor Relations Board and Public Employment Relations Board. The proposed law does not alter this scheme.

Under existing law, venue in superior court for administrative mandamus is in the county where the cause of action arose. The proposed law adds Sacramento County as an additional permissible county when a state agency is involved. For judicial review of local agency action, the proposed law provides that venue is in the county of jurisdiction of the agency. This is probably not a substantive change, since the cause of action is likely to arise in the county of the local agency’s jurisdiction. For judicial review of action of a nongovernmental entity, the proposed law provides that venue is in the county where the entity is located.

STAYS PENDING REVIEW

Under the existing APA, an agency has power to stay its own decision. Whether or not the agency does so, the superior court has discretion to stay the agency action, but should 127. Gov’t Code §§ 3520, 3542, 3564.

129. Most state agencies have their headquarters offices in Sacramento. The Sacramento County Superior Court is likely to have or develop expertise in judicial review proceedings. The provision for venue in Sacramento County does not apply to judicial review of a decision of a private hospital board under the proposed law. The proposed law also preserves the special venue rule for review of driver’s license proceedings. See Veh. Code § 13559 (licensee’s county of residence).
130. See discussion supra in text accompanying note 29.
131. Gov’t Code § 11519(b).
not impose or continue a stay if to do so would be against the public interest.132

A stricter standard applies in medical, osteopathic, or chiropractic cases in which a hearing was provided under the APA. The stricter standard also applies to non-health care APA cases in which the agency head adopts the proposed decision of the administrative law judge in its entirety or adopts the decision and reduces the penalty. Under the stricter standard, a stay should not be granted unless the court is satisfied that the public interest will not suffer and the agency is unlikely to prevail ultimately on the merits.133 The court may condition a stay order on the posting of a bond.

If the trial court denies the writ of mandamus and a stay is in effect, the appellate court can continue the stay.134 If the trial court grants the writ, the agency action is stayed pending appeal unless the appellate court orders otherwise.135

The proposed law simplifies this scheme by providing one standard regardless of the type of agency action being reviewed. Under the proposed law, the factors to be considered by the court in determining whether to grant a stay include, in addition to the public interest and the likelihood of success on the merits, the degree to which the applicant for a stay will suffer irreparable injury from denial of a stay and the

134. If a stay is in effect when a notice of appeal is filed, the stay is continued in effect by operation of law for 20 days from the filing of the notice. Code Civ. Proc. § 1094.5(g).

135. In cases not arising under the administrative mandamus statute, the trial and appellate courts presumably have their usual power to grant a stay. Asimow, supra note 4, at 436; see California Civil Writ Practice §§ 7.51-7.53, at 267-69 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 3d ed. 1996).
degree to which the grant of a stay would harm third parties.\textsuperscript{136}

\textbf{COSTS}

The proposed law consolidates and generalizes provisions on the fee for preparing a transcript and other portions of the record, recovering costs of suit by the prevailing party, and proceedings in forma pauperis.\textsuperscript{137}

\textsuperscript{136} These revisions will make the standard for granting a stay similar to the standard for granting a preliminary injunction. Asimow, \textit{supra} note 4, at 437.

\textsuperscript{137} See Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1094.5(a), 1094.6(c); Gov’t Code § 11523. The proposed law continues the existing provision in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.5(a) for proceedings in forma pauperis to review an adjudicative proceeding, but does not expand it to apply to review of matters other than adjudication. The proposed law also recodifies Government Code Section 800 (attorney fees where agency action was arbitrary or capricious) in the Code of Civil Procedure without substantive change.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

SEC. ___. Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) is added to Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

TITLE 2. JUDICIAL REVIEW OF AGENCY ACTION

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 1120. Entities to which title applies

1120. (a) Except as provided by statute, this title governs judicial review of agency action of any of the following entities:

(1) The state, including any agency or instrumentality of the state, whether exercising executive powers or otherwise.

(2) A local agency, including a county, city, district, public authority, public agency, or other political subdivision in the state.

(3) A public corporation in the state.

(b) This title governs judicial review of a decision of a nongovernmental entity if any of the following conditions is satisfied:

(1) A statute expressly so provides.

(2) The decision is made in a proceeding to which Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11400) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code applies.

(3) The decision is made in an adjudicative proceeding required by law, is quasi-public in nature, and affects fundamental vested rights, and the proceeding is of a kind likely to result in a record sufficient for judicial review.
Comment. Section 1120 makes clear that the judicial review provisions of this title apply to actions of local agencies as well as state government. But see Section 1121(d) (title does not apply to judicial review of a local agency ordinance, regulation, or legislative resolution). The term “local agency” is defined in Government Code Section 54951. See Section 1121.260 & Comment. The introductory clause of Section 1120 recognizes that some proceedings are exempted by statute from application of this title. See Bus. & Prof. Code § 6089 (State Bar Court); Gov’t Code § 11420.10 (award in binding arbitration under Administrative Procedure Act); Pub. Res. Code § 25531.5 (Energy Commission); Pub. Util. Code § 1768 (Public Utilities Commission). See also Gov’t Code § 19576.1 (disciplinary decisions not subject to judicial review). This title also does not apply to proceedings where the substantive right originates in the constitution, such as inverse condemnation. See California Government Tort Liability Practice § 2.97, at 181-82 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 3d ed. 1992). See also Section 1123.160 (condition of relief).

Paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) applies this title to judicial review of a decision of a nongovernmental entity if a statute expressly so provides. For a statute applying this title to a nongovernmental entity, see Health & Safety Code § 1339.63 (adjudication by private hospital board).

Paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) recognizes that Government Code Sections 11400-11470.50 apply to some private entities. See Gov’t Code § 11410.60 [in SB 68, administrative adjudication by quasi-public entities, introduced at the 1997 session].

Paragraph (3) of subdivision (b) is drawn from a portion of the first sentence of former Section 1094.5(a) (decision made in “proceeding in which by law a hearing is required to be given, evidence is required to be taken, and discretion in the determination of facts is vested in the inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or officer”) and from case law on the availability of administrative mandamus to review a decision of a nongovernmental entity. See, e.g., Anton v. San Antonio Community Hospital, 19 Cal. 3d 802, 814, 567 P.2d 1162, 140 Cal. Rptr. 442 (1979); Pomona College v. Superior Court, 45 Cal. App. 4th 1716, 53 Cal. Rptr. 2d 662 (1996); Delta Dental Plan v. Banasky, 27 Cal. App. 4th 1598, 33 Cal. Rptr. 2d 381 (1994); Wallin v. Vienna Sausage Mfg. Co., 156 Cal. App. 3d 1051, 203 Cal. Rptr. 375 (1984); Bray v. International Molders & Allied Workers Union, 155 Cal. App. 3d 608, 202 Cal. Rptr. 269 (1984); Coppernoll v. Board of Directors, 138 Cal. App. 3d 915, 188 Cal. Rptr. 394 (1983). The requirement in paragraph (3) that the proceeding be of a kind likely to result in a record sufficient for judicial review is new, and is necessary to avoid the unfairness that might result from applying the closed record requirement of this title. See Sections 1123.810, 1123.850.

Subdivision (b) applies this title only to nongovernmental action of specific application that determines a legal right, duty, privilege, immunity, or other legal interest of a particular person, and not to quasi-legislative acts. See Section 1121.250 (“decision” defined). If this title is not available to review a decision of a nongovernmental entity because the requirements of subdivision (b) are not met, traditional mandamus may be available under Section 1085. See California Civil Writ Practice §§ 6.16-6.17, at 203-05 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 3d ed. 1996). If the person seeking review uses the wrong procedure, the court should ordinarily permit amendment of the pleadings to use the proper procedure. See, e.g., Scott v. City of Indian Wells, 6 Cal. 3d 541, 549-50, 492 P.2d 1137, 99 Cal. Rptr. 745 (1972) (reversible error to sustain general demurrer to complaint for declaratory relief without leave to amend when proper remedy is administrative mandamus).

§ 1121. Proceedings to which title does not apply

1121. This title does not apply to any of the following:

(a) Judicial review of agency action by any of the following means:

(1) Where a statute provides for trial de novo.

(2) Action for refund of taxes or fees under Section 5140 or 5148 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, or under Division 2 (commencing with Section 6001) of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(3) Action under Division 3.6 (commencing with Section 810) of the Government Code, relating to claims and actions against public entities and public employees.

(b) Litigation in which the sole issue is a claim for money damages or compensation and the agency whose action is at issue does not have statutory authority to determine the claim.

(c) Judicial review of a decision of a court.
(d) Judicial review of either of the following enacted by a county board of supervisors or city council:

(1) An ordinance or regulation.

(2) A resolution that is legislative in nature.

(e) Judicial review of agency proceedings pursuant to a reference to the agency ordered by the court.

Comment. Under subdivision (a)(1) of Section 1121, this title does not apply where a statute provides for judicial review by a trial de novo. Such statutes include: Educ. Code §§ 33354 (hearing on compliance with federal law on interscholastic activities), 67137.5 (judicial review of college or university withholding student records); Food & Agric. Code § 31622 (hearing concerning vicious dog); Gov’t Code § 53088.2 (judicial review of local action concerning video provider); Lab. Code §§ 98.2 (judicial review of order of Labor Commissioner on employee complaint), 1543 (judicial review of determination of Labor Commissioner involving athlete agent), 1700.44 (judicial review of order of Labor Commissioner involving talent agency); Rev. & Tax. Code § 1605.5 (change of property ownership or new construction); Welf. & Inst. Code § 5334 (judicial review of capacity hearing).

Subdivision (a)(2) exempts from this title actions for refund of taxes under Section 5140 or 5148 of, or Division 2 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, but does not generally exempt property taxation under Division 1 of that code. This is consistent with existing law under which judicial review of a property tax assessment is not by trial de novo, but is based on the administrative record. See Bret Harte Inn, Inc. v. City & County of San Francisco, 16 Cal. 3d 14, 544 P.2d 1354, 127 Cal. Rptr. 154 (1976); DeLuz Homes, Inc. v. County of San Diego, 45 Cal. 2d 546, 290 P.2d 544 (1955); Prudential Ins. Co. v. City & County of San Francisco, 191 Cal. App. 3d 1142, 236 Cal. Rptr. 869 (1987); Kaiser Center, Inc. v. County of Alameda, 189 Cal. App. 3d 978, 234 Cal. Rptr. 603 (1987); Trailer Train Co. v. State Bd. of Equalization, 180 Cal. App. 3d 565, 225 Cal. Rptr. 717 (1986); Hunt-Wesson Foods, Inc. v. County of Alameda, 41 Cal. App. 3d 163, 116 Cal. Rptr. 160 (1974); Westlake Farms, Inc. v. County of Kings, 39 Cal. App. 3d 179, 114 Cal. Rptr. 137 (1974). See also Cal. Const. art. XIII, § 32 (courts may not prevent or enjoin collection of any tax).

Subdivision (a)(3) provides that this title does not apply to an action brought under the California Tort Claims Act. However, subdivision (a)(3) does not prevent the claims requirements of the Tort Claims Act from applying to an action seeking primarily money damages and also extraordinary relief incidental to the prayer for damages. See Section 1123.730(b) (damages subject to Tort Claims Act if applicable); Eureka Teacher’s Ass’n v. Board of Educ., 202 Cal. App. 3d 469, 474-76, 247 Cal. Rptr. 790 (1988); Loehr v. Ventura County Community College Dist., 147 Cal. App. 3d 1071, 1081, 195 Cal. Rptr. 576 (1983). However, this title does apply to compel an agency to pay a claim that has been allowed and is required to be paid. Gov’t Code § 942.

Under subdivision (b), this title does not apply, for example, to enforcement of a government bond in an action at law, or to actions involving contract, intellectual property, or copyright. This title does apply to denial by the Department of Health Services of a claim by a health care provider where the department has statutory authority to determine such claims. See, e.g., Welf. & Inst. Code §§ 14103.6, 14103.7. Judicial review of denial of such a claim is under this title and not, for example, in small claims court. See Section 1121.120 (this title provides exclusive procedure for judicial review of agency action).

Subdivision (d) provides that this title does not apply to judicial review of an ordinance or regulation of a county board of supervisors or city council, or of a resolution of those bodies that is legislative in nature. For an example of a resolution that is legislative in nature, see Valentine v. Town of Ross, 39 Cal. App. 3d 954, 114 Cal. Rptr. 678 (1974) (resolution approving flood control project). For examples of resolutions that are not legislative in nature, see Simpson v. Hite, 36 Cal. 2d 125, 222 P.2d 225 (1950) (resolution designating site for court buildings); Burdick v. City of San Diego, 29 Cal. App. 2d 565, 84 P.2d 1064 (1938) (resolution designating site for city jail, police headquarters, and courtrooms). Matters exempted from this title by subdivision (d) remain subject to judicial review by traditional mandamus or by an action for injunctive or declaratory relief. See, e.g., Karlson v. City of Camarillo, 100 Cal. App. 3d 789, 798, 161 Cal. Rptr. 260 (1980) (mandamus to review amendment of city’s general plan); cf. Guidotti v. County of Yolo, 214 Cal. App. 3d 1552, 1561-63, 271 Cal. Rptr. 858, 863-64 (1986) (declaratory and injunctive relief and mandamus to review setting by county of levels of general relief). If a proceeding is brought under this title to review ministerial or informal action and a separate proceeding for traditional mandamus is brought to review an ordinance, regulation, or legislative resolution upon which the action is based, the two proceedings may be consolidated by the court under Section 1048. See Section 1123.710.

Subdivision (e) makes clear this title does not apply where an agency acts as referee in a court-ordered reference. See, e.g., Water Code §§ 2000-2048. However, notwithstanding subdivision (e), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1122.010) on primary jurisdiction may still apply. Section 1122.010; see generally National Audubon Soc’y v.

§ 1121.110. Conflicting or inconsistent statute controls

1121.110. A statute applicable to a particular entity or a particular agency action prevails over a conflicting or inconsistent provision of this title.

Comment. Section 1121.110 is drawn from the first sentence of former Government Code Section 11523 (judicial review in accordance with provisions of Code of Civil Procedure “subject, however, to the statutes relating to the particular agency”). As used in Section 1121.110, “statute” does not include a local ordinance. See Cal. Const. art. IV, § 8(b) (statute enacted only by bill in the Legislature); id. art. XI, § 7 (local ordinance).

§ 1121.120. Other forms of judicial review replaced

1121.120. (a) The procedure provided in this title for judicial review of agency action is a proceeding for extraordinary relief in the nature of mandamus and shall be used in place of administrative mandamus, ordinary mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, declaratory relief, injunctive relief, and any other judicial procedure, to the extent those procedures might otherwise be used for judicial review of agency action.

(b) Nothing in this title limits use of the writ of habeas corpus.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 427.10, no cause of action may be joined in a proceeding under this title unless it states independent grounds for relief.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1121.120 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-101. By establishing this title as the exclusive method for judicial review of agency action, Section 1121.120 continues and broadens the effect of former Section 1094.5. See, e.g., Viso v. State, 92 Cal. App. 3d 15, 21, 154 Cal. Rptr. 580, 584 (1979).
Subdivision (a) implements the original writ jurisdiction given by Article VI, Section 10, of the California Constitution (original jurisdiction for extraordinary relief in the nature of mandamus). Nothing in this title limits the original writ jurisdiction of the courts. See Section 1123.510(b).

Under subdivision (b), this title does not apply to the writ of habeas corpus. See Cal. Const. art. I, § 11, art. VI, § 10. See also In re McVickers, 29 Cal. 2d 264, 176 P.2d 40 (1946); In re Stewart, 24 Cal. 2d 344, 149 P.2d 689 (1944); In re DeMond, 165 Cal. App. 3d 932, 211 Cal. Rptr. 680 (1985).

Subdivision (c) continues prior law. See, e.g., State v. Superior Court, 12 Cal. 3d 237, 249-51, 524 P.2d 1281, 115 Cal. Rptr. 497, 504 (1974) (declaratory relief not appropriate to review administrative decision, but is appropriate to declare a statute facially unconstitutional); Hensler v. City of Glendale, 8 Cal. 4th 1, 876 P.2d 1043, 32 Cal. Rptr. 2d 244, 253 (1994) (inverse condemnation action may be joined in administrative mandamus proceeding involving same facts); Mata v. City of Los Angeles, 20 Cal. App. 4th 141, 147-48, 24 Cal. Rptr. 2d 314, 318 (1993) (complaint for violation of civil rights may be joined with administrative mandamus). If other causes of action are joined with a proceeding for judicial review, the court may sever the causes for trial. See Section 1048. See also Section 598.

Nothing in this section limits the type of relief or remedial action available in a proceeding under this title. See Section 1123.730 (type of relief).

§ 1121.130. Injunctive relief ancillary

1121.130. Injunctive relief is ancillary to and may be used as a supplemental remedy in connection with a proceeding under this title.

Comment. Section 1121.130 makes clear that the procedures for injunctive relief may be used in a proceeding under this title. See also Section 1123.730 (injunctive relief authorized).

§ 1121.140. Exercise of agency discretion

1121.140. Nothing in this title authorizes the court to interfere with a valid exercise of agency discretion or to direct an agency how to exercise its discretion.
Comment. Section 1121.140 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 1-116(c)(8)(i), and is consistent with the last clause in former Section 1094.5(f).

§ 1121.150. Application of new law

1121.150. (a) This title applies to a proceeding commenced on or after January 1, 1998, for judicial review of agency action.

(b) The applicable law in effect before January 1, 1998, continues to apply to a proceeding for judicial review of agency action pending on January 1, 1998.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1121.150 applies this title to a proceeding commenced on or after the operative date. Subdivision (b) is drawn from a portion of 1981 Model State APA Section 1-108. Pending proceedings for administrative mandamus, declaratory relief, and other proceedings for judicial review of agency action are not governed by this title, but should be completed under the applicable provisions other than this title.

Article 2. Definitions

§ 1121.210. Application of definitions

1121.210. Unless the provision or context requires otherwise, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this title.

Comment. Section 1121.210 limits these definitions to judicial review of agency action. Some parallel provisions may be found in the statutes governing adjudicative proceedings by state agencies. See Gov’t Code §§ 11405.10-11405.80 (operative July 1, 1997).

§ 1121.220. Adjudicative proceeding

1121.220. “Adjudicative proceeding” means an evidentiary hearing for determination of facts pursuant to which an agency formulates and issues a decision.

Comment. Section 1121.220 is drawn from the Administrative Procedure Act. See Gov’t Code § 11405.20 (operative July 1, 1997) & Comment (“adjudicative proceeding” defined). See also Sections 1121.230 (“agency” defined), 1121.250 (“decision” defined).
§ 1121.230. Agency
1121.230. (a) “Agency” means a board, bureau, commission, department, division, governmental subdivision or unit of a governmental subdivision, office, officer, or other administrative unit, including the agency head, and one or more members of the agency head or agency employees or other persons directly or indirectly purporting to act on behalf of or under the authority of the agency head.

(b) When this title applies to judicial review of a decision of a nongovernmental entity, “agency” includes that entity.

Comment. Section 1121.230 is drawn from the Administrative Procedure Act. See Gov’t Code § 11405.30 (operative July 1, 1997) & Comment (“agency” defined). Subdivision (a) is broadly drawn to subject all governmental units to this title unless expressly excepted by statute. See Comment to Section 1120.

§ 1121.240. Agency action
1121.240. “Agency action” means any of the following:
(a) The whole or a part of a rule or a decision.
(b) The failure to issue a rule or a decision.
(c) An agency’s performance of any other duty, function, or activity, discretionary or otherwise.
(d) An agency’s failure to perform any duty, function, or activity, discretionary or otherwise, that the law requires to be performed or that would be an abuse of discretion if not performed.

Comment. Section 1121.240 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 1-102(2). The term “agency action” includes a “rule” and a “decision” defined in Sections 1121.290 (rule) and 1121.250 (decision), and an agency’s failure to issue a rule or decision. It goes further, however. Subdivisions (c) and (d) make clear that “agency action” includes everything and anything else that an agency does or does not do, whether its action or inaction is discretionary or otherwise. There are no exclusions from that all-encompassing definition. As a consequence, there is a category of “agency action” that is neither a “decision” nor a “rule” because it neither establishes the legal rights of any particular person nor establishes law or policy of general applicability. See also Section 1123.110(b) (court may summarily decline to grant review if petition does not present substantial issue).

The principal effect of the broad definition of “agency action” is that everything an agency does or does not do is subject to judicial review if the limitations provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1123.110) are satisfied. See Section 1123.110 (requirements for judicial review). Success on the merits in such cases, however, is another thing. See also Sections 1121.230 (“agency” defined), 1123.160 (condition of relief).

§ 1121.250. Decision

1121.250. “Decision” means an agency action of specific application that determines a legal right, duty, privilege, immunity, or other legal interest of a particular person.

Comment. Section 1121.250 is drawn from the Administrative Procedure Act. See Gov’t Code § 11405.50 (operative July 1, 1997) & Comment (“decision” defined). See also Sections 1121.240 (“agency action” defined), 1121.280 (“person” defined).

§ 1121.260. Local agency

Comment. Section 1121.260 is drawn from former Section 1094.6, and is broadened to include school districts. Under Government Code Section 54951, “local agency” means “a county, city, whether general law or chartered, city and county, town, school district, municipal corporation, district, political subdivision, or any board, commission or agency thereof, or other local public agency.” See also Section 1121.230 (“agency” defined).

§ 1121.270. Party

1121.270. (a) As it relates to agency proceedings, “party” means the agency that is taking action, the person to which the agency action is directed, and any other person named as a party or allowed to appear or intervene in the agency proceedings.

(b) As it relates to judicial review proceedings, “party” means the person seeking judicial review of agency action and any other person named as a party or allowed to participate as a party in the judicial review proceedings.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1121.270 is drawn from the Administrative Procedure Act. See Gov’t Code § 11405.60 (operative July 1, 1997) & Comment (“party” defined). This section does not address the question of whether a person is entitled to judicial review. Standing to obtain judicial review is dealt with in Article 2 (commencing with Section 1123.210) of Chapter 3. See also Section 1121.230 (“agency” defined).

§ 1121.280. Person

1121.280. “Person” includes an individual, partnership, corporation, governmental subdivision or unit of a governmental subdivision, or public or private organization or entity of any character.

Comment. Section 1121.280 is drawn from the Administrative Procedure Act. See Gov’t Code § 11405.70 (operative July 1, 1997) & Comment (“person” defined). It supplements the definition in Code of Civil Procedure Section 17 and is broader in its application to a governmental subdivision or unit. This includes an agency other than the agency against which rights under this title are asserted by the person. Inclusion of such agencies and units of government insures, therefore, that other agencies or other governmental bodies will be accorded all the rights that a person has under this title.

§ 1121.290. Rule

1121.290. “Rule” means the whole or a part of an agency regulation, including a “regulation” as defined in Section 11342 of the Government Code, order, or standard of general applicability that implements, interprets, makes specific, or prescribes law or policy, or the organization, procedure, or practice requirements of an agency, except one that relates only to the internal management of the agency. The term includes the amendment, supplement, repeal, or suspension of an existing rule.

Comment. Section 1121.290 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 1-102(10) and Government Code Section 11342(g). The definition includes all agency orders of general applicability that implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy, without regard to the terminology used by the issuing agency to describe them. The exception for an agency standard that relates only to the internal management of the agency is drawn from Government Code Section 11342(g), and is generalized to apply to local agencies. See also Sections 1121 (this title does not apply to local agency ordinance), 1121.230 ("agency" defined), 1121.260 ("local agency" defined).

This title applies to an agency rule whether or not the rule is a "regulation" to which the rulemaking provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act apply.

CHAPTER 2. PRIMARY JURISDICTION

§ 1122.010. Application of chapter

1122.010. Notwithstanding Section 1121, this chapter applies if a judicial proceeding is pending and the court determines that an agency has exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction over the subject matter of the proceeding or an issue in the proceeding.

Comment. Section 1122.010 makes clear that the provisions governing primary jurisdiction come into play only when there is exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction in an agency over a matter that is the subject of a pending judicial proceeding. The introductory clause makes clear this chapter applies, for example, to a judicial proceeding involving a trial de novo. The term "judicial proceeding" is used to mean any proceeding in court, including a civil action or a special proceeding.

This chapter deals with original jurisdiction over a matter, rather than with judicial review of previous agency action on the matter. If the matter has previously been the subject of agency action and is currently the subject of judicial review, the governing provisions relating to the court's jurisdiction are found in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1123.110) (judicial review) rather than in this chapter.

§ 1122.020. Exclusive agency jurisdiction

1122.020. If an agency has exclusive jurisdiction over the subject matter of the proceeding or an issue in the proceeding, the court shall decline to exercise jurisdiction over the subject matter or the issue. The court may dismiss the proceeding or retain jurisdiction pending agency action on the matter or issue.

Comment. Section 1122.020 requires the court to yield primary jurisdiction to an agency if there is a legislative scheme to vest the determination in the agency. Adverse agency action is subject to judicial review. See Section 1122.040 (judicial review following agency action).

§ 1122.030. Concurrent agency jurisdiction

1122.030. (a) If an agency has concurrent jurisdiction over the subject matter of the proceeding or an issue in the proceeding, the court shall exercise jurisdiction over the subject matter or issue unless the court in its discretion refers the matter or issue for agency action. The court may exercise its discretion to refer the matter or issue for agency action if the court determines the reference is appropriate taking into consideration all relevant factors including, but not limited to, the following:

1. Whether agency expertise is important for proper resolution of a highly technical matter or issue.
2. Whether the area is so pervasively regulated by the agency that the regulatory scheme should not be subject to judicial interference.
3. Whether there is a need for uniformity that would be jeopardized by the possibility of conflicting judicial decisions.
4. Whether there is a need for immediate resolution of the matter, and any delay that would be caused by referral for agency action.
5. The costs to the parties of additional administrative proceedings.
6. Whether agency remedies are adequate and whether any delay for agency action would limit judicial remedies, either practically or due to running of statutes of limitation or otherwise.
7. Any legislative intent to prefer cumulative remedies or to prefer administrative resolution.
(b) This section does not apply to a criminal proceeding.
(c) Nothing in this section confers concurrent jurisdiction on a court over the subject matter of a pending disciplinary proceeding under the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

Court retention of jurisdiction does not preclude agency involvement. For example, the court in its discretion may request that the agency file an amicus brief setting forth its views on the matter as an alternative to referring the matter to the agency. If the matter is referred to the agency, the agency action remains subject to judicial review. Section 1122.040 (judicial review following agency action).

§ 1122.040. Judicial review following agency action

1122.040. If an agency has exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction over the subject matter of the proceeding or an issue in the proceeding, agency action on the matter or issue is subject to judicial review to the extent provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1123.110).

Comment. Section 1122.040 makes clear that judicial review principles apply to agency action even though an agency has exclusive jurisdiction or the court refers a matter of concurrent jurisdiction to the agency for action under this chapter.

CHAPTER 3. JUDICIAL REVIEW

§ 1123.110. Requirements for judicial review

1123.110. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), a person who has standing under this chapter and who satisfies the requirements governing exhaustion of administrative remedies, ripeness, time for filing, and other preconditions is entitled to judicial review of final agency action.

(b) The court may summarily decline to grant judicial review if the petition for review does not present a substantial issue for resolution by the court.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.110 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-102(a). It ties together the threshold requirements for obtaining judicial review of final agency action, and guarantees the right to judicial review if these requirements are met. See, e.g., Sections 1123.120 (finality), 1123.130 (judicial review of agency rule), 1123.210 (standing), 1123.310 (exhaustion of administrative remedies), 1123.630-1123.640 (time for filing petition for review of decision in adjudicative proceeding).

The term “agency action” is defined in Section 1121.240. The term includes rules, decisions, and other types of agency action and inaction. This chapter contains provisions for judicial review of all types of agency action.

Subdivision (b) continues the former discretion of the courts to decline to grant a writ of administrative mandamus. Parker v. Bowron, 40 Cal. 2d 344, 351, 254 P.2d 6, 9 (1953); Dare v. Board of Medical Examiners, 21 Cal. 2d 790, 796, 136 P.2d 304, 308 (1943); Berry v. Coronado Bd. of Educ., 238 Cal. App. 2d 391, 397, 47 Cal. Rptr. 727 (1965); California Administrative Mandamus § 1.3, at 5 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 2d ed. 1989). See also Section 1121.120 (judicial review as proceeding for extraordinary relief in the nature of mandamus).

§ 1123.120. Finality

1123.120. A person may not obtain judicial review of agency action unless the agency action is final.

Comment. Section 1123.120 continues the finality requirement of former Section 1094.5(a) in language drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-102(b)(2). Agency action is typically not final if the agency intends the action to be preliminary, preparatory, procedural, or intermediate with regard to subsequent action of that agency or another agency. For example, state agency action concerning a proposed rule subject to the rulemaking part of the Administrative Procedure Act is not final until the agency submits the proposed rule to the Office of Administrative Law for review as provided by that act, and the Office of Administrative Law approves the rule pursuant to Government Code.
Section 11349.3. See also Section 1123.130 (rulemaking may not be enjoined or prohibited, and rule may not be reviewed until it has been applied).

For an exception to the requirement of finality, see Section 1123.140.

§ 1123.130. Judicial review of agency rule

1123.130. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a court may not enjoin or otherwise prohibit an agency from adopting a rule.

(b) A person may not obtain judicial review of an agency rule until the rule has been applied by the agency.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.130 continues State Water Resources Control Bd. v. Office of Admin. Law, 12 Cal. App. 4th 697, 707-08, 16 Cal. Rptr. 2d 25, 31-32 (1993). Subdivision (a) prohibits, for example, a court from enjoining a state agency from holding a public hearing or otherwise proceeding to adopt a proposed rule on the ground that the notice was legally defective. Similarly, subdivision (a) prohibits a court from enjoining the Office of Administrative Law from reviewing or approving a proposed rule that has been submitted by a regulatory agency pursuant to Government Code Section 11343(a). A rule is subject to judicial review after it is adopted. See Sections 1120, 1123.110. See also Section 1123.140 (rule must be fit for immediate judicial review).

Subdivision (b) codifies the case law ripeness requirement for judicial review of an agency rule. See, e.g., Pacific Legal Foundation v. California Coastal Comm’n, 33 Cal. 3d 158, 655 P.2d 306, 188 Cal. Rptr. 104 (1982). See also Section 1121.290 (“rule” defined). For an exception to the requirement of ripeness, see Section 1123.140. An allegation that procedures followed in adopting a state agency rule were legally deficient would not be ripe for judicial review until the agency completes the rulemaking process and formally adopts the rule (typically by submitting it to the Office of Administrative Law pursuant to Government Code Section 11343), the Office of Administrative Law approves the rule and submits it to the Secretary of State pursuant to Government Code Section 11349.3 thus allowing it to become final, and the adopting agency applies the rule.

§ 1123.140. Exception to finality and ripeness requirements

1123.140. Notwithstanding Sections 1123.120 and 1123.130, a person may obtain judicial review of agency action that is not final or, in the case of an agency rule, that has not been applied by the agency, if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) It appears likely that the person will be able to obtain judicial review of the agency action when it becomes final or, in the case of an agency rule, when it has been applied by the agency.

(b) The issue is fit for immediate judicial review.

(c) Postponement of judicial review would result in an inadequate remedy or irreparable harm disproportionate to the public benefit derived from postponement.

Comment. Section 1123.140 codifies an exception to the finality and ripeness requirements in language drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-103. An issue is fit for immediate judicial review if it is primarily legal rather than factual in nature and can be adequately reviewed in the absence of concrete application by the agency. Under this language the court must assess and balance the fitness of the issues for immediate judicial review, the hardship to the person from deferring review, and the public interest in granting or deferring review. See, e.g., BKHN, Inc. v. Department of Health Servs., 3 Cal. App. 4th 301, 4 Cal. Rptr. 2d 188 (1992); Abbott Laboratories v. Gardner, 387 U.S. 136 (1967).

§ 1123.150. Proceeding not moot because penalty completed

1123.150. A proceeding under this chapter is not made moot by satisfaction during the pendency of the proceeding of a penalty imposed by the agency.

Comment. Section 1123.150 continues the substance of the seventh sentence of former Section 1094.5(g) and the fourth sentence of former Section 1094.5(h)(3).

§ 1123.160. Condition of relief

1123.160. (a) The court may grant relief under this chapter only on grounds specified in Article 4 (commencing with Section 1123.410) for reviewing agency action.

(b) The court may grant relief under this chapter from procedural error only if the error was prejudicial.
Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.160 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-116(c) (introductory clause). It supersedes the provision in former Section 1094.5(b) that the inquiry in an administrative mandamus case is whether the agency proceeded without or in excess of jurisdiction, whether there was a fair trial, and whether there was any prejudicial abuse of discretion. The grounds for review of agency action under Article 4 are the following (see Sections 1123.420-1123.460):

1. Whether the agency has erroneously interpreted the law.
2. Whether agency action is based on an erroneous determination of fact made or implied by the agency.
3. Whether agency action is a proper exercise of discretion.
4. Whether the agency has engaged in an unlawful procedure or decisionmaking process, or has failed to follow prescribed procedure.
5. Whether the persons taking the agency action were improperly constituted as a decisionmaking body or subject to disqualification.

Subdivision (b) is drawn from Government Code Section 65010 (planning and zoning law).

Article 2. Standing

§ 1123.210. No standing unless authorized by statute

1123.210. A person does not have standing to obtain judicial review of agency action unless standing is conferred by this article or is otherwise expressly provided by statute.

Comment. Section 1123.210 states the intent of this article to override existing case law standing principles and to replace them with the statutory standards prescribed in this article. Other statutes conferring standing include Public Resources Code Section 30801 (judicial review of decision of Coastal Commission by “any aggrieved person”).

This title provides a single judicial review procedure for all types of agency action. See Section 1121.120. The provisions on standing therefore accommodate persons who seek judicial review of the entire range of agency actions, including rules, decisions, and other action or inaction. See Section 1121.240 (“agency action” defined).

§ 1123.220. Private interest standing

1123.220. An interested person has standing to obtain judicial review of agency action. For the purpose of this section, a person is not interested by the mere filing of a complaint with the agency where the complaint is not authorized by statute or ordinance.

Comment. Section 1123.220 governs private interest standing for judicial review of agency action other than adjudication. For special rules governing standing for judicial review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding, see Section 1123.240. See also Section 1121.240 (“agency action” defined). The provision that an “interested” person has standing is drawn from the law governing writs of mandate, and from the law governing judicial review of state agency regulations. See, e.g., Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1060 (interested person may obtain declaratory relief), 1069 (party beneficially interested may obtain writ of review), 1086 (party beneficially interested may obtain writ of mandate); Gov’t Code § 11350(a) (interested person may obtain judicial declaration on validity of state agency regulation); cf. Code Civ. Proc. § 902 (appeal by party aggrieved). This requirement continues case law that a person must suffer some harm from the agency action in order to have standing to obtain judicial review of the action on a basis of private, as opposed to public, interest. See, e.g., Sperry & Hutchinson Co. v. California State Bd. of Pharmacy, 241 Cal. App. 2d 229, 50 Cal. Rptr. 489 (1966); Silva v. City of Cypress, 204 Cal. App. 2d 374, 22 Cal. Rptr. 453 (1962). A plaintiff’s private interest is sufficient to confer standing if that interest is over and above that of members of the general public. Carsten v. Psychology Examining Comm., 27 Cal. 3d 793, 796, 614 P.2d 276, 166 Cal. Rptr. 844 (1980). Non-pecuniary injuries, such as environmental or aesthetic claims, are sufficient to satisfy the private interest test. Bozung v. Local Agency Formation Comm’n, 13 Cal. 3d 263, 529 P.2d 1017, 118 Cal. Rptr. 249 (1975); Albion River Watershed Protection Ass’n v. Department of Forestry, 235 Cal. App. 3d 358, 286 Cal. Rptr. 573 (1991); Kane v. Redevelopment Agency of Hidden Hills, 179 Cal. App. 3d 899, 224 Cal. Rptr. 922 (1986); Citizens Ass’n for Sensible Development v. County of Inyo, 172 Cal. App. 3d 151, 217 Cal. Rptr. 893 (1985). See generally Asimow, Judicial Review: Standing and Timing, 27 Cal. L. Revision Comm’n Reports 229, 236-38 (1997).

Section 1123.220 merely requires that a person be “interested” to seek judicial review. Thus if a person has sufficient interest in the subject matter, the person may seek judicial review even though the person did not personally participate in the agency proceeding. See Friends of Mammoth v. Board of Supervisors, 8 Cal. 3d 247, 267-68, 502 P.2d 1049, 104 Cal. Rptr. 761 (1972). However, in most cases the exhaustion of remedies rule requires the issue to be reviewed to have been raised before the agency by someone. See Section 1123.350.
Standing of a person to obtain judicial review under this section is not limited to private persons, but extends to public entities as well, whether state or local. See Section 1121.280 (“person” includes governmental subdivision). See also Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090 (Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control may get judicial review of decision of Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals Board); Martin v. Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals Bd., 52 Cal. 2d 238, 243, 340 P.2d 1, 4 (1959) (same); Veh. Code § 3058 (DMV may get judicial review of order of New Motor Vehicle Board); Tieberg v. Superior Court, 243 Cal. App. 2d 277, 283, 52 Cal. Rptr. 33, 37 (1966) (Director of Department of Employment may get judicial review of decision of Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board, a division of that department); Los Angeles County Dep’t of Health Servs. v. Kennedy, 163 Cal. App. 3d 799, 209 Cal. Rptr. 595 (1984) (county department of health services may get judicial review of decision of county civil service commission); County of Los Angeles v. Tax Appeals Bd. No. 2, 267 Cal. App. 2d 830, 834, 73 Cal. Rptr. 469, 471 (1968) (county may get judicial review of tax appeals board decision); County of Contra Costa v. Social Welfare Bd., 199 Cal. App. 2d 468, 471, 18 Cal. Rptr. 573, 575 (1962) (county may get judicial review of State Social Welfare Board decision ordering county to reinstate welfare benefits); Board of Permit Appeals v. Central Permit Bureau, 186 Cal. App. 2d 633, 9 Cal. Rptr. 83 (1960) (local permit appeals board may get traditional mandamus against inferior agency that did not comply with its decision). But cf. Star-Kist Foods, Inc. v. County of Los Angeles, 42 Cal. 3d 1, 719 P.2d 987, 227 Cal. Rptr. 391 (1986) (city or county standing to challenge state action as violating federal constitutional rights).

If a person is authorized by statute or ordinance to file a complaint with the agency and the complaint is rejected, the person is “interested” within the meaning of Section 1123.220. Covert v. State Bd. of Equalization, 29 Cal. 2d 125, 130, 173 P.2d 545 (1946). See also Spear v. Board of Medical Examiners, 146 Cal. App. 2d 207, 303 P.2d 886 (1956) (standing to challenge agency refusal to file charges of person expressly authorized by statute to file complaint).

§ 1123.230. Public interest standing

1123.230. Whether or not a person has standing under Section 1123.220, a person has standing to obtain judicial review of agency action that concerns an important right affecting the public interest if all of the following conditions are satisfied:
(a) The person resides or conducts business in the jurisdiction of the agency or is an organization that has a member that resides or conducts business in the jurisdiction of the agency and the agency action is germane to the purposes of the organization.

(b) The person will adequately protect the public interest.

(c) The person has previously requested the agency to correct the agency action and the agency has not, within a reasonable time, done so. The request shall be in writing unless made orally on the record in the agency proceeding. The agency may by rule require the request to be directed to the proper agency official. As used in this subdivision, a reasonable time shall not be less than 30 days unless the request shows that a shorter period is required to avoid irreparable harm. This subdivision does not apply to judicial review of an agency rule.

Comment. Section 1123.230 governs public interest standing for judicial review of agency action other than adjudication. For special rules governing standing for judicial review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding, see Section 1123.240. See also Section 1121.240 ("agency action" defined).

Section 1123.230 supersedes the standing rules of Section 526a (taxpayer actions). Under Section 1123.230 a person, whether or not a taxpayer within the jurisdiction, has standing to obtain judicial review, including restraining and preventing illegal expenditure or injury by a public entity, if the general public interest requirements of this section are satisfied.
Section 1123.230 applies to all types of relief sought, whether pecuniary or nonpecuniary, injunctive or declaratory, or otherwise. The test for standing under this section is whether there is a duty owed to the general public or a large class of persons. A person may have standing under the section to have the law enforced in the public interest, regardless of any private interest or personal adverse effect.

The limitations in subdivisions (a)-(c) are drawn loosely from other provisions of state and federal law. See, e.g., Section 1021.5 (attorney fees in public interest litigation); Section 1123.220 & Comment (private interest standing); first portion of Section 526a (taxpayer within jurisdiction); Corp. Code § 800(b)(2) (allegation in shareholder derivative action of efforts to secure action from board); Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 23(a) (representative must fairly and adequately protect interests of class). The requirement in subdivision (c) of a request to the agency does not supersede the California Environmental Quality Act. See Section 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute controls); Pub. Res. Code § 21177 (objection may be oral or written). Nor does the requirement in subdivision (c) of notice to the agency excuse exhaustion of administrative remedies under Sections 1123.310-1123.350, consistent with prior public interest standing cases. See, e.g., Sea & Sage Audubon Soc’y, Inc. v. Planning Comm’n, 34 Cal. 3d 412, 417-18, 668 P.2d 664, 194 Cal. Rptr. 357 (1983); California Aviation Council v. County of Amador, 200 Cal. App. 3d 337, 341-42, 246 Cal. Rptr. 110 (1988).

§ 1123.240. Standing for review of decision in adjudicative proceeding

1123.240. Notwithstanding Sections 1123.220 and 1123.230, a person does not have standing to obtain judicial review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding unless one of the following conditions is satisfied:

(a) The person was a party to the proceeding.

(b) The person (1) was a participant in the proceeding and is either interested or the person’s participation was authorized by statute or ordinance, or (2) has standing under Section 1123.230. This subdivision does not apply to judicial review of a proceeding under the formal hearing provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.
Comment. Section 1123.240 provides special rules for standing to obtain judicial review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding. Standing to obtain judicial review of other agency actions is governed by Sections 1123.220 (private interest standing) and 1123.230 (public interest standing). Special statutes governing standing requirements for judicial review of an agency decision prevail over this section. Section 1123.210 (standing expressly provided by statute); see, e.g., Pub. Res. Code § 30801 (judicial review of decision of Coastal Commission by “any aggrieved person”).

Subdivision (a) governs standing to challenge a decision in an adjudicative proceeding under the Administrative Procedure Act. The provision is thus limited primarily to a state agency adjudication where an evidentiary hearing for determination of facts is statutorily or constitutionally required for formulation and issuance of a decision. See Gov’t Code §§ 11410.10-11410.50 (application of administrative adjudication provisions of Administrative Procedure Act) (operative July 1, 1997).

A party to an adjudicative proceeding under the Administrative Procedure Act includes the person to whom the agency action is directed and any other person named as a party or allowed to intervene in the proceeding. Section 1121.270 (“party” defined). This codifies existing law. See, e.g., Temescal Water Co. v. Department of Public Works, 44 Cal. 2d 90, 279 P.2d 1 (1955); Covert v. State Bd. of Equalization, 29 Cal. 2d 125, 173 P.2d 545 (1946). Under this test, a complainant or victim who is not made a party does not have standing. A nonparty who might otherwise have private or public interest standing under Section 1123.220 or 1123.230 would not have standing to obtain judicial review of a decision under the Administrative Procedure Act.

Subdivision (b) applies to a decision in an adjudicative proceeding other than a proceeding subject to the Administrative Procedure Act. Under this provision, a person does not have standing to obtain judicial review unless the person (1) was a participant in the proceeding and is either “interested” or participated as authorized by statute or ordinance, or (2) has public interest standing under Section 1123.230. Participation may include appearing and testifying, submitting written comments, or other appropriate activity that indicates a direct involvement in the agency action. Giving standing to a participant who satisfies the requirements for public interest standing is consistent with Environmental Law Fund, Inc. v. Town of Corte Madera, 49 Cal. App. 3d 105, 114, 122 Cal. Rptr. 282 (1975). Thus a person may have public interest standing for judicial review of adjudication if the right to be vindicated is an important one affecting the public interest, the person resides or conducts business in the jurisdiction of the agency or meets the requirements for organizational standing, the person will adequately protect the public interest, and the person has requested the agency to correct the action and the agency has not done so within a reasonable time. Section 1123.230. Moreover, the requirement of exhaustion of administrative remedies must be satisfied, including the rule that the issue on judicial review must have been raised before the agency by someone. Section 1123.350. See also See & Sage Audubon Soc’y v. Planning Comm’n, 34 Cal. 3d 412, 417-18, 668 P.2d 664, 194 Cal. Rptr. 357 (1983); California Aviation Council v. County of Amador, 200 Cal. App. 3d 337, 246 Cal. Rptr. 110 (1988); Resource Defense Fund v. Local Agency Formation Comm’n, 191 Cal. App. 3d 886, 895, 236 Cal. Rptr. 794, 799 (1987).

§ 1123.250. Organizational standing

1123.250. An organization that does not otherwise have standing under this article has standing if a person who has standing is a member of the organization, or a nonmember the organization is required to represent, and the agency action is related to the purposes of the organization, and the person consents.

Comment. Section 1123.250 codifies case law giving an incorporated or unincorporated association, such as a trade union or neighborhood association, standing to obtain judicial review on behalf of its members. See, e.g., Professional Fire Fighters, Inc. v. City of Los Angeles, 60 Cal. 2d 276, 384 P.2d 158, 32 Cal. Rptr. 830 (1963); Residents of Beverly Glen, Inc. v. City of Los Angeles, 34 Cal. App. 3d 117, 109 Cal. Rptr. 724 (1973). This principle extends to standing of the organization to obtain judicial review where a nonmember is adversely affected, as where a trade union is required to represent the interests of nonmembers.

Article 3. Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies

§ 1123.310. Exhaustion required

1123.310. A person may obtain judicial review of agency action only after exhausting all administrative remedies available within the agency whose action is to be reviewed and within any other agency authorized to exercise administrative review, unless judicial review before that time is permitted by this article or otherwise expressly provided by statute.

Comment. Section 1123.310 codifies the exhaustion of remedies doctrine of existing law. See, e.g., Abelleira v. District Court of Appeal, 17 Cal. 2d 280, 109 P.2d 942 (1941) (exhaustion requirement jurisdictional). Exceptions to the exhaustion requirement are stated in other provisions of this article. See Sections 1123.340 (exceptions to exhaustion of administrative remedies), 1123.350 (exact issue rule).

This chapter does not provide an exception from the exhaustion requirement for judicial review of an administrative law judge’s denial of a continuance. Cf. former subdivision (c) of Gov’t Code § 11524. Nor does it provide an exception for discovery decisions. Cf. Shively v. Stewart, 65 Cal. 2d 475, 421 P.2d 65, 55 Cal. Rptr. 217 (1966). This chapter does not continue the exemption found in the cases for a local tax assessment alleged to be a nullity. Cf. Stenocord Corp. v. City & County of San Francisco, 2 Cal. 3d 984, 471 P.2d 966, 88 Cal. Rptr. 166 (1970). Judicial review of such matters should not occur until conclusion of administrative proceedings.

This chapter does not require a person seeking judicial review of a rule to have participated in the rulemaking proceeding on which the rule is based. Section 1123.330. However, this chapter does prohibit judicial review of proposed regulations (see Section 1123.130), regulations that have been preliminarily adopted but are not yet final (Section 1123.120), and adopted regulations that have not yet been applied (Section 1123.130).

§ 1123.320. Administrative review of adjudicative proceeding

1123.320. If the agency action being challenged is a decision in an adjudicative proceeding, all administrative remedies available within an agency are deemed exhausted for the purpose of Section 1123.310 if no higher level of review is available within the agency, whether or not a rehearing or other lower level of review is available within the agency, unless a statute or regulation requires a petition for rehearing or other administrative review.

Comment. Section 1123.320 restates the existing California rule that a petition for a rehearing or other lower level administrative review is not a prerequisite to judicial review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding. See former Gov’t Code § 11523; Gov’t Code § 19588 (State Administrative remedies are deemed exhausted under this section only when no further higher level review is available within the agency issuing the decision. This does not excuse a requirement of further administrative review by another agency, such as an appeals board.

§ 1123.330. Judicial review of rulemaking

1123.330. (a) A person may obtain judicial review of rulemaking notwithstanding the person’s failure to do either of the following:

(1) Participate in the rulemaking proceeding on which the rule is based.

(2) Petition the agency promulgating the rule for, or otherwise to seek, amendment, repeal, or reconsideration of the rule after it has become final.

(b) A person may obtain judicial review of an agency’s failure to adopt a rule under Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, notwithstanding the person’s failure to request or obtain a determination from the Office of Administrative Law under Section 11340.5 of the Government Code.

Comment. Subdivision (a)(2) of Section 1123.330 continues the former second sentence of subdivision (a) of Government Code Section 11350, and generalizes it to apply to local agencies as well as state agencies. See Sections 1120 (application of title), 1121.230 (“agency” defined), 1121.290 (“rule” defined). The petition to the agency referred to in subdivision (a) is authorized by Government Code Section 11340.6.

Subdivision (b) is new, and makes clear that exhaustion of remedies does not require filing a complaint with the Office of Administrative Law that an agency rule is an underground regulation. Cf. Gov’t Code § 11340.5.

§ 1123.340. Exceptions to exhaustion of administrative remedies

1123.340. The requirement of exhaustion of administrative remedies is jurisdictional and the court may not relieve a person of the requirement unless any of the following conditions is satisfied:

(a) The remedies would be inadequate.
(b) The requirement would be futile.
(c) The requirement would result in irreparable harm disproportionate to the public and private benefit derived from exhaustion.
(d) The person was entitled to notice of a proceeding in which relief could be provided but lacked timely notice of the proceeding. The court’s authority under this subdivision is limited to remanding the case to the agency to conduct a supplemental proceeding in which the person has an opportunity to participate.
(e) The person seeks judicial review on the ground that the agency lacks subject matter jurisdiction in the proceeding.
(f) The person seeks judicial review on the ground that a statute, regulation, or procedure is facially unconstitutional.

Comment. Section 1123.340 authorizes the reviewing court to relieve the person seeking judicial review of the exhaustion requirement in limited circumstances. This enables the court to exercise some discretion. See generally Asimow, Judicial Review: Standing and Timing, 27 Cal. L. Revision Comm’n Reports 229, 260-71 (1997). This section may not be used as a means to avoid compliance with other requirements for judicial review, however, such as the exact issue rule. See Section 1123.350.

The exceptions to the exhaustion of remedies requirement consolidate and codify a number of existing case law exceptions, including:

Inadequate remedies. Under subdivision (a), administrative remedies need not be exhausted if the available administrative review procedure or the relief available through administrative review is insufficient. This codifies case law. See, e.g., Common Cause v. Board of Supervisors, 49 Cal. 3d 432, 443, 777 P.2d 610, 261 Cal. Rptr. 574 (1989); Endler v. Schutzbank, 68 Cal. 2d 162, 168, 436 P.2d 297, 65 Cal. Rptr. 297 (1968); Rosenfield v. Malcolm, 65 Cal. 2d 559, 421 P.2d 697, 55 Cal. Rptr. 505 (1967).

Futility. The exhaustion requirement is excused under subdivision (b) if it is certain, not merely probable, that the agency would deny the requested relief. See Ogo Assocs. v. City of Torrance, 37 Cal. App. 3d 830, 112 Cal. Rptr. 761 (1974).
Irreparable harm. Subdivision (c) codifies the existing narrow case law exception to the exhaustion of remedies requirement where exhaustion would result in irreparable harm disproportionate to the benefit derived from requiring exhaustion. The standard is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-107(3), but expands the factors to be considered to include private as well as public benefit.

Lack of subject matter jurisdiction. Subdivision (e) recognizes an exception to the exhaustion requirement where the challenge is to the agency’s subject matter jurisdiction in the proceeding. See, e.g., County of Contra Costa v. State of California, 177 Cal. App. 3d 62, 73, 222 Cal. Rptr. 750, 758 (1986).

Constitutional issues. Under subdivision (f) administrative remedies need not be exhausted for a challenge to a statute, regulation, or procedure as unconstitutional on its face. See, e.g., Horn v. County of Ventura, 24 Cal. 3d 605, 611, 596 P.2d 1134, 156 Cal. Rptr. 718 (1979); Chevrolet Motor Div. v. New Motor Vehicle Bd., 146 Cal. App. 3d 533, 539, 194 Cal. Rptr. 270 (1983). There is no exception for a challenge to a provision as applied, even though phrased in constitutional terms.

§ 1123.350. Exact issue rule

1123.350. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), a person may not obtain judicial review of an issue that was not raised before the agency either by the person seeking judicial review or by another person.

(b) The court may permit judicial review of an issue that was not raised before the agency if any of the following conditions is satisfied:

(1) The agency did not have jurisdiction to grant an adequate remedy based on a determination of the issue.

(2) The person did not know and was under no duty to discover, or was under a duty to discover but could not reasonably have discovered, facts giving rise to the issue.

(3) The agency action subject to judicial review is a rule and the person has not been a party in an adjudicative proceeding that provided an adequate opportunity to raise the issue.
(4) The agency action subject to judicial review is a decision in an adjudicative proceeding and the person was not adequately notified of the adjudicative proceeding. If a statute or rule requires the person to maintain an address with the agency, adequate notice includes notice given to the person at the address maintained with the agency.

(5) The interests of justice would be served by judicial resolution of an issue arising from a change in controlling law occurring after the agency action or from agency action occurring after the person exhausted the last feasible opportunity to seek relief from the agency.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.350 codifies the case law exact issue rule. See, e.g., Resource Defense Fund v. Local Agency Formation Comm’n, 191 Cal. App. 3d 886, 894, 236 Cal. Rptr. 794, 798 (1987); Coalition for Student Action v. City of Fullerton, 153 Cal. App. 3d 1194, 200 Cal. Rptr. 855 (1984); see generally Asimow, Judicial Review: Standing and Timing, 27 Cal. L. Revision Comm’n Reports 229, 259-60 (1997). It limits the issues that may be raised and considered in the reviewing court to those that were raised before the agency. The exact issue rule is in a sense a variation of the exhaustion of remedies requirement — the agency must first have had an opportunity to determine the issue that is subject to judicial review.

Under subdivision (b) the court may relieve a person of the exact issue requirement in circumstances that are in effect an elaboration of the doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies. See also Section 1123.340 & Comment (exceptions to exhaustion of administrative remedies).

The intent of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) is to permit the court to consider an issue that was not raised before the agency if the agency did not have jurisdiction to grant an adequate remedy based on a determination of the issue. Examples include: (A) an issue as to the facial constitutionality of the statute that enables the agency to function to the extent state law prohibits the agency from passing on the validity of the statute; (B) an issue as to the amount of compensation due as a result of an agency’s breach of contract to the extent state law prohibits the agency from passing on this type of question.

Paragraph (2) permits a party to raise a new issue in the reviewing court if the issue arises from newly discovered facts that the party excusably did not know at the time of the agency proceedings.
Paragraph (3) permits a party to raise a new issue in the reviewing court if the challenged agency action is an agency rule and if the person seeking to raise the new issue in court was not a party in an adjudicative proceeding which provided an opportunity to raise the issue before the agency.

Paragraph (4) permits a new issue to be raised in the reviewing court by a person who was not properly notified of the adjudicative proceeding which produced the challenged decision. This does not give standing to a person not otherwise entitled to notice of the adjudicative proceeding.

Paragraph (5) permits a new issue to be raised in the reviewing court if the interests of justice would be served thereby, and the new issue arises from a change in controlling law or from agency action after the person exhausted the last opportunity for seeking relief from the agency. See Lindeleaf v. Agricultural Labor Relations Bd., 41 Cal. 3d 861, 718 P.2d 106, 226 Cal. Rptr. 119 (1986).

Article 4. Standards of Review

§ 1123.410. Standards of review of agency action

1123.410. Except as otherwise provided by statute, agency action shall be judicially reviewed under the standards provided in this article.

Comment. Section 1123.410 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-116(a)(2). The appropriate review standard of this article to be applied by the court depends on the issue being considered. For example, in exercising discretion, an agency may be called upon to interpret a statute, to determine basic facts, and to make the discretionary decision. In reviewing this action, the court would use the standard of Section 1123.420 (independent judgment with appropriate deference) in reviewing the statutory interpretation, the standard of Section 1123.430 (substantial evidence) or 1123.440 (substantial evidence or independent judgment) in reviewing the determination of facts, and the standard of Section 1123.450 (abuse of discretion) in reviewing the exercise of discretion.

The scope of judicial review provided in this article may be qualified by another statute that establishes review based on different standards than those in this article. See, e.g., Rev. & Tax. Code §§ 5170, 6931-6937.
§ 1123.420. Review of agency interpretation of law

1123.420. (a) The standard for judicial review of agency interpretation of law is the independent judgment of the court, giving deference to the determination of the agency appropriate to the circumstances of the agency action.

(b) This section does not apply to interpretation of law by the Public Employment Relations Board, Agricultural Labor Relations Board, or Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board within the regulatory authority of those agencies.

Comment. Section 1123.420 clarifies and codifies existing case law on judicial review of agency interpretation of law.

Subdivision (a) applies the independent judgment test for judicial review of agency interpretation of law with appropriate deference to the agency’s determination. Subdivision (a) codifies the case law rule that the final responsibility to decide legal questions belongs to the courts, not to administrative agencies. See, e.g., Association of Psychology Providers v. Rank, 51 Cal. 3d 1, 793 P.2d 2, 270 Cal. Rptr. 796 (1990). This rule is qualified by the requirement that the courts give deference to the agency’s interpretation appropriate to the circumstances of the agency action. Factors in determining the deference appropriate include such matters as (1) whether the agency is interpreting a statute or its own regulation, (2) whether the agency’s interpretation was contemporaneous with enactment of the law, (3) whether the agency has been consistent in its interpretation and the interpretation is long-standing, (4) whether there has been a reenactment with knowledge of the existing interpretation, (5) the degree to which the legal text is technical, obscure, or complex and the agency has interpretive qualifications superior to the court’s, and (6) the degree to which the interpretation appears to have been carefully considered by responsible agency officials. See Asimow, The Scope of Judicial Review of Decisions of California Administrative Agencies, 42 UCLA L. Rev. 1157, 1195-98 (1995). See also Jones v. Tracy School Dist., 27 Cal. 3d 99, 108, 611 P.2d 441, 165 Cal. Rptr. 100 (1980) (no deference for statutory interpretation in internal memo not subject to notice and hearing process for regulation and written after agency became amicus curiae in case at bench); Hudgins v. Neiman Marcus Group, Inc., 34 Cal. App. 4th 1109, 41 Cal. Rptr. 2d 46 (1995) (deference to contemporaneous interpretation long acquiesced in by interested persons); Grier v. Kizer, 219 Cal. App. 3d 422, 434, 268 Cal. Rptr. 244 (1990) (deference to OAL interpretation of statute it enforces); City of Los Angeles v. Los Olivos Mobile Home Park, 213 Cal. App. 3d 1427, 262 Cal. Rptr. 446 (1989) (no deference for interpretation of city...

Under subdivision (a), the question of the appropriate degree of judicial deference to the agency interpretation of law is treated as “a continuum with nonreviewability at one end and independent judgment at the other.” See Western States Petroleum Ass’n v. Superior Court, 9 Cal. 4th 559, 575-76, 888 P.2d 1268, 38 Cal. Rptr. 2d 139, 147-48 (1995). Subdivision (a) is consistent with and continues the substance of cases saying courts must accept statutory interpretation by an agency within its expertise unless “clearly erroneous” as that standard was applied. See Bodinson Mfg. Co. v. California Employment Comm’n, 17 Cal. 2d 321, 325-26, 109 P.2d 935 (1941).

The deference due the agency’s determination does not override the ultimate authority of the court to substitute its own judgment for that of the agency under the standard of subdivision (a), especially when constitutional questions are involved. See People v. Louis, 42 Cal. 3d 969, 987, 728 P.2d 15, 232 Cal. Rptr. 110 (1986); Cal. Const. art. III, § 3.5.

Agency interpretation of law under subdivision (a) may include such questions as whether agency action, or the statute or regulation on which it is based, is unconstitutional, whether the agency acted beyond its jurisdiction, and whether the agency decided all issues requiring resolution.

Section 1123.420 does not deal with the question of agency application of law to fact. Thus this title does not affect existing law on this question. See, e.g., S. G. Borello & Sons, Inc. v. Dept. of Indus. Relations, 48 Cal. 3d 341, 349, 769 P.2d 399, 256 Cal. Rptr. 543 (1989); Halaco Engineering Co. v. South Central Coast Regional Comm’n, 42 Cal. 3d 52, 74-77, 720 P.2d 15, 227 Cal. Rptr. 667 (1986); Asimow, The Scope of Judicial Review of Decisions of California Administrative Agencies, 42 UCLA L. Rev. 1157, 1213-14 (1995).
Under subdivision (b), Section 1123.420 does not affect case law under which legal interpretations by the Public Employment Relations Board, Agricultural Labor Relations Board, or Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board of statutes within their area of expertise have been given special deference. See, e.g., Banning Teachers Ass’n v. Public Employment Relations Bd., 44 Cal. 3d 799, 804, 750 P.2d 313, 244 Cal. Rptr. 671 (1988); Agricultural Labor Relations Bd. v. Superior Court, 16 Cal. 3d 392, 400, 411, 546 P.2d 687, 128 Cal. Rptr. 183 (1976); Judson Steel Corp. v. Workers’ Compensation Appeals Bd., 22 Cal. 3d 658, 668, 586 P.2d 564, 150 Cal. Rptr. 250 (1978); Agricultural Labor Relations Bd. v. Superior Court, 48 Cal. App. 4th 1489, 56 Cal. Rptr. 2d 409 (1996); United Farm Workers v. Agricultural Labor Relations Bd., 41 Cal. App. 4th 303, 48 Cal. Rptr. 2d 696, 703 (1995).

§ 1123.430. Review of agency factfinding

1123.430. (a) Except as provided in Section 1123.440, the standard for judicial review of whether agency action is based on an erroneous determination of fact made or implied by the agency is whether the agency’s determination is supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

(b) If the factual basis for a decision in a state agency adjudication includes a determination of the presiding officer based substantially on the credibility of a witness, the court shall give great weight to the determination to the extent the determination identifies the observed demeanor, manner, or attitude of the witness that supports it.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the standard for judicial review of a determination of fact made by an administrative law judge employed by the Office of Administrative Hearings that is changed by the agency head is the independent judgment of the court whether the agency’s determination of that fact is supported by the weight of the evidence.

Comment. Section 1123.430 supersedes former Section 1094.5(b)-(c) (abuse of discretion if decision not supported by findings or findings not supported by evidence).

Subdivision (a) eliminates for state agencies the rule of former Section 1094.5(c), providing for independent judgment review in cases where “authorized by law.” The former standard was interpreted to provide for independent judgment review where a fundamental vested right is involved. Bixby v. Pierno, 4 Cal. 3d 130, 144, 481 P.2d 242, 93 Cal. Rptr. 234 (1971); see generally Asimow, The Scope of Judicial Review of Decisions of California Administrative Agencies, 42 UCLA L. Rev. 1157, 1161-76 (1995).

The substantial evidence test of subdivision (a) is not a toothless standard which calls for the court merely to rubber stamp an agency’s finding if there is any evidence to support it: The court must examine the evidence in the record both supporting and opposing the agency’s findings. Bixby v. Pierno, supra. If a reasonable person could have made the agency’s findings, the court must sustain them. But if the agency head comes to a different conclusion about credibility than the administrative law judge, the substantiality of the evidence supporting the agency’s decision is called into question.

Subdivision (b) continues the substance of language formerly found in Government Code Section 11425.50(b). The requirement that the presiding officer identify specific evidence of observed demeanor, manner, or attitude of the witness in credibility cases is in that section.

Under subdivision (c), independent judgment review of a changed determination of fact is limited to that fact. All other factual determinations are reviewed using the standard of subdivision (a) — substantial evidence in light of the whole record.

§ 1123.440. Review of factfinding in local agency adjudication

1123.440. The standard for judicial review of whether a decision of a local agency in an adjudicative proceeding is based on an erroneous determination of fact made or implied by the agency is:

(a) In cases in which the court is authorized by law to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence, the independent judgment of the court whether the determination is supported by the weight of the evidence.

(b) In all other cases, whether the determination is supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

Comment. Section 1123.440 continues former Section 1094.5(c) as it applied to factfinding in local agency adjudication. See Strumsky v. San Diego County Employees Retirement Ass’n, 11 Cal. 3d 28, 32, 520 P.2d 29, 112 Cal. Rptr. 805 (1974).
§ 1123.450. Review of agency exercise of discretion

1123.450. The standard for judicial review of whether agency action is a proper exercise of discretion, including an agency’s determination under Section 11342.2 of the Government Code that a regulation is reasonably necessary to effectuate the purpose of the statute that authorizes the regulation, is abuse of discretion.

Comment. Section 1123.450 codifies the existing authority of the court to review agency action that constitutes an exercise of agency discretion. A court may decline to exercise review of discretionary action in circumstances where the Legislature so intended or where there are no standards by which a court can conduct review. Cf. 5 U.S.C. § 701(a)(2) (federal APA).

Section 1123.450 continues a portion of former Section 1094.5(b) (prejudicial abuse of discretion). It clarifies the standards for court determination of abuse of discretion but does not significantly change existing law. See former Code Civ. Proc. § 1094.5(c) (administrative mandamus); Gov’t Code § 11350(b) (review of regulations). The reference to an agency determination under Government Code Section 11342.2 that a regulation is reasonably necessary continues existing law. See Moore v. State Bd. of Accountancy, 2 Cal. 4th 999, 1015, 831 P.2d }
The standard for reviewing agency discretionary action is whether there is abuse of discretion. The analysis consists of two elements. First, to the extent that the discretionary action is based on factual determinations, the standard of review of those factual determinations is provided in Section 1123.430 or, for local agency adjudication, in Section 1123.440. However, discretionary action such as agency rulemaking is frequently based on findings of legislative rather than adjudicative facts. Legislative facts are general in nature and are necessary for making law or policy (as opposed to adjudicative facts which are specific to the conduct of particular parties). Legislative facts are often scientific, technical, or economic in nature. Often, the determination of such facts requires specialized expertise and the factfindings involve guesswork or prophecy. A reviewing court must be appropriately deferential to agency findings of legislative fact and should not demand that such facts be proved with certainty. Nevertheless, a court can still legitimately review the rationality of legislative factfinding in light of the evidence in the whole record.

Second, discretionary action is based on a choice or judgment. A court reviews this choice by asking whether there is abuse of discretion in light of the record and the reasons stated by the agency. See Section 1123.820(d) (agency must supply reasons when necessary for proper judicial review). This standard is often encompassed by the terms “arbitrary” or “capricious.” The court must not substitute its judgment for that of the agency, but the agency action must be rational. See Asimow, The Scope of Judicial Review of Decisions of California Administrative Agencies, 42 UCLA L. Rev. 1157, 1228-29 (1995). Abuse of discretion is established if it appears from the record viewed as a whole that the agency action is unreasonable, arbitrary, or capricious. Cf: ABA Section on Administrative Law, Restatement of Scope of Review Doctrine, 38 Admin. L. Rev. 235 (1986) (grounds for reversal include policy judgment so unacceptable or reasoning so illogical as to make agency action arbitrary, or agency’s failure in other respects to use reasoned decisionmaking).

§ 1123.460. Review of agency procedure

1123.460. The standard for judicial review of the following issues is the independent judgment of the court, giving deference to the agency’s determination of appropriate procedures:
(a) Whether the agency has engaged in an unlawful procedure or decisionmaking process, or has failed to follow prescribed procedure.

(b) Whether the persons taking the agency action were improperly constituted as a decisionmaking body or subject to disqualification.

Comment. Section 1123.460 codifies existing law concerning the independent judgment of the court and the deference due agency determination of procedures. Cf. 5 U.S.C. § 706(2)(D) (federal APA); Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319 (1976). Section 1123.460 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-116(c)(5)-(6). It continues a portion of former Section 1094.5(b) (inquiry of the court extends to questions whether there has been a fair trial or the agency has not proceeded in the manner required by law). One example of an agency’s failure to follow prescribed procedure is the agency’s failure to act within the prescribed time upon a matter submitted to the agency.

The degree of deference to be given to the agency’s determination under Section 1123.460 is for the court to determine. The deference is not absolute. Ultimately, the court must still use its judgment on the issue.

Section 1123.460 does not apply to state agency rulemaking. Gov’t Code § 11350.

§ 1123.470. Burden of persuasion

1123.470. Except as otherwise provided by statute, the burden of demonstrating the invalidity of agency action or entitlement to relief is on the party asserting the invalidity or entitlement to relief.

Article 5. Superior Court Jurisdiction and Venue

§ 1123.510. Superior court jurisdiction

1123.510. (a) Except as otherwise provided by statute, jurisdiction for judicial review under this chapter is in the superior court.
(b) Nothing in this section prevents the Supreme Court or courts of appeal from exercising original jurisdiction under Section 10 of Article VI of the California Constitution.

Comment. Section 1123.510 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-104, alternative A. Under prior law, except where the issues were of great public importance and had to be resolved promptly or where otherwise provided by statute, the superior court was the proper court for administrative mandamus proceedings. See Mooney v. Pickett, 4 Cal. 3d 669, 674-75, 483 P.2d 1231, 94 Cal. Rptr. 279 (1971). Although the Supreme Court and courts of appeal may exercise original mandamus jurisdiction in exceptional circumstances, the superior court is in a better position to determine questions of fact than is an appellate tribunal and is therefore the preferred court. Roma Macaroni Factory v. Giambastiani, 219 Cal. 435, 437, 27 P.2d 371 (1933).

The introductory clause of Section 1123.510(a) recognizes that statutes applicable to some proceedings provide that judicial review is in the court of appeal or Supreme Court. See Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090 (Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals Board and Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control); Gov’t Code §§ 3520(c), 3542(c), 3564(c) (Public Employment Relations Board); Lab. Code §§ 1160.8 (Agricultural Labor Relations Board), 5950 (Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board).

§ 1123.520. Superior court venue

1123.520. (a) Except as otherwise provided by statute, the proper county for judicial review under this chapter is:

(1) In the case of state agency action, the county where the cause of action, or some part thereof, arose, or Sacramento County.

(2) In the case of action of a nongovernmental entity, the county where the entity is located.

(3) In cases not governed by paragraph (1) or (2), including local agency action, the county or counties of jurisdiction of the agency.

(b) A proceeding under this chapter may be transferred on the grounds and in the manner provided for transfer of a civil action under Title 4 (commencing with Section 392) of Part 2.

Subdivision (a)(3) is new, but is probably not a substantive change, since the cause of action is likely to arise in the county of the local agency’s jurisdiction. In addition to applying to local agencies (defined in Section 1121.260), subdivision (a)(3) applies to agencies that are neither state nor local. See, e.g., Gov’t Code § 66801 (Tahoe Regional Planning Agency).

Under subdivision (b), a case filed in the wrong county should not be dismissed, but should be transferred to the proper county. See Sections 1123.710(a) (applicability of rules of practice for civil actions), 396b. Cf. Padilla v. Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, 43 Cal. App. 4th 1151, 51 Cal. Rptr. 2d 133 (1996) (transfer from court lacking jurisdiction).

The venue rules of Section 1123.520 are subject to a conflicting or inconsistent statute applicable to a particular entity (Section 1121.110), such as Business and Professions Code Section 2019 (venue for proceedings against the Medical Board of California). For venue of judicial review of a decision of a private hospital board, see Health & Safety Code § 1339.63(b).

Article 6. Petition for Review; Time Limits

§ 1123.610. Petition for review

1123.610. (a) A person seeking judicial review of agency action may initiate judicial review by filing a petition for review with the court.

(b) The petition shall name as respondent the agency whose action is at issue or the agency head by title, and not individual employees of the agency.

(c) The petitioner shall cause a copy of the petition for review to be served on the parties in the same manner as service of a summons in a civil action.
Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.610 supersedes the first sentence of former Government Code Section 11523.

Subdivision (b) codifies existing practice. See California Administrative Mandamus §§ 6.1-6.3, at 225-27 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 2d ed. 1989). Although the petition may name the agency head as a respondent by title, subdivision (b) makes clear “agency” does not include individual employees of the agency. See Sections 1121.230 (“agency” defined), 1121.210 (definitions vary as required by the provision).

Subdivision (c) continues existing practice. See California Administrative Mandamus, supra, §§ 8.48, 9.17, 9.23, at 298-99, 320, 326. Since the petition for review serves the purpose of the alternative writ of mandamus or notice of motion under prior law, a summons is not required. See California Administrative Mandamus, supra, §§ 9.8, 9.21, at 315, 324.

§ 1123.620. Contents of petition for review

1123.620. The petition for review shall state all of the following:

(a) The name of the petitioner.

(b) The address and telephone number of the petitioner or, if the petitioner is represented by an attorney, of the petitioner’s attorney.

(c) The name and mailing address of the agency whose action is at issue.

(d) Identification of the agency action at issue, together with a duplicate copy, summary, or brief description of the agency action.

(e) Identification of persons who were parties in any adjudicative proceedings that led to the agency action.

(f) Facts to demonstrate that the petitioner is entitled to judicial review.

(g) The reasons why relief should be granted.

(h) A request for relief, specifying the type and extent of relief requested.

Comment. Section 1123.620 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-109.
§ 1123.630. Time for filing petition for review in adjudication of agency other than local agency and formal adjudication of local agency 1123.630. (a) The petition for review of a decision of an agency, other than a local agency, in an adjudicative proceeding, and of a decision of a local agency in a proceeding under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, shall be filed not later than 30 days after the decision is effective or after the notice required by subdivision (e) is delivered, served, or mailed, whichever is later.

(b) For the purpose of this section:

(1) A decision in a proceeding under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code is effective at the time provided in Section 11519 of the Government Code.

(2) In an adjudicative proceeding other than under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, a decision of an agency other than a local agency is effective 30 days after it is delivered or mailed to the person to which the decision is directed, unless any of the following conditions is satisfied:

(A) Reconsideration is ordered within that time pursuant to express statute or rule.

(B) The agency orders that the decision is effective sooner.

(C) A different effective date is provided by statute or regulation.

(c) Subject to subdivision (d), the time for filing the petition for review is extended for a party:

(1) During any period when the party is seeking reconsideration of the decision pursuant to express statute or rule.

(2) Until 30 days after the record is delivered to the party if, within 15 days after the decision is effective, the party makes a written request to the agency to prepare all or any part of the record, and, within 15 days after being notified of the estimated fee and cost, pays the fee and cost provided in Section 1123.910.

(d) In no case shall a petition for review of a decision described in subdivision (a) be filed later than one hundred eighty days after the decision is effective.

(e) In addition to any notice of agency action required by statute, in an adjudicative proceeding described in subdivision (a), the agency shall in the decision or otherwise give notice to the parties in substantially the following form: “The last day to file a petition with a court for review of the decision is [date] unless another statute provides a longer period or the time is extended as provided by law.”

Comment. Section 1123.630 provides a limitation period for initiating judicial review of specified agency adjudicative decisions. See Section 1121.250 (“decision” defined). See also Section 1123.640 (time for filing petition in other adjudicative proceedings). This preserves the distinction in existing law between limitation of judicial review of quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial agency actions. Other types of agency action may be subject to other limitation periods, or to equitable doctrines such as laches. The provision in subdivision (c)(2) making the extension of time during preparation of the record contingent on payment of the fee is drawn from former Government Code Section 11523. See also Sections 12-12b (computation of time).

Subdivision (a) supersedes the second sentence of former Government Code Section 11523 (30 days). It also unifies review periods formerly found in various special statutes. See, e.g., Gov’t Code § 3542 (Public Employment Relations Board); Lab. Code §§ 1160.8 (Agricultural Labor Relations Board), 5950 (Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board); Veh. Code § 13559 (Department of Motor Vehicles).

Section 1123.630 does not override special limitations periods statutorily preserved for policy reasons, such as for judicial review of an administratively-issued withholding order for taxes (Code Civ. Proc. § 706.075), notice of deficiency of an assessment due from a producer under a commodity marketing program (Food & Agric. Code §§ 59234.5, 60016), State Personnel Board (Gov’t Code § 19630), Department of Personnel Administration (Gov’t Code § 19815.8), Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board (Unemp. Ins. Code §§ 410, 1243), certain driver’s license orders (Veh. Code § 14401(a)), or welfare decisions of the Department of Social Services (Welf. & Inst. Code §

The time within which judicial review must be initiated under subdivision (a) begins to run on the date the decision is effective. A decision under the formal hearing procedure of the Administrative Procedure Act generally is effective 30 days after it becomes final, unless the agency head makes it effective sooner or stays its effective date. See Gov’t Code § 11519. For special statutes on the effective date of a decision, see Educ. Code §§ 94323, 94933; Gov’t Code § 8670.68; Health & Safety Code §§ 443.37, 25187, 25514.6, 108900, 111855, 111940, 128775; Ins. Code §§ 728, 1858.6, 12414.19; Pub. Res. Code § 2774.2; Veh. Code § 13953. Judicial review may only be had of a final decision. Section 1123.120.

Nothing in this section overrides standard restrictions on application of statutes of limitations, such as estoppel to plead the statute (see, e.g., Ginns v. Savage, 61 Cal. 2d 520, 393 P.2d 689, 39 Cal. Rptr. 377 (1964)), correction of technical defects (see, e.g., United Farm Workers of America v. ALRB, 37 Cal. 3d 912, 694 P.2d 138, 210 Cal. Rptr. 453 (1985)), computation of time (see Gov’t Code §§ 6800-6807), and application of due process principles to a notice of decision (see, e.g., State Farm Fire & Casualty v. Workers’ Compensation Appeals Bd., 119 Cal. App. 3d 193, 173 Cal. Rptr. 778 (1981)).

Subdivision (e) is drawn from former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.6(f). See also Unemp. Ins. Code § 410; Veh. Code § 14401(b). An agency notice that erroneously shows a date that is too soon does not shorten the period for review, since the substantive rules in Section 1123.630 govern. If the notice erroneously shows a date that is later than the last day to petition for review and the petition is filed before that later date, the agency may be estopped to assert that the time has expired. See Ginns v. Savage, 61 Cal. 2d 520, 523-25, 393 P.2d 689, 39 Cal. Rptr. 377 (1964).

The introductory clause of subdivision (e) makes clear that notice of agency action required by other special provisions do not override this section. Special provisions include those for judicial review of an administratively-issued withholding order for taxes (Code Civ. Proc. § 706.075), for an assessment due from a producer under a commodity marketing program (Food & Agric. Code §§ 59234.5, 60016), for denial by a county of disability retirement (Gov’t Code § 31725), and under the California Environmental Quality Act (Pub. Res. Code §§ 21108 (state agency), 21152 (local agency)). See Section 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute controls).
§ 1123.640. Time for filing petition for review in other adjudicative proceedings

1123.640. (a) The petition for review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding, other than a petition governed by Section 1123.630, shall be filed not later than 90 days after the decision is announced or after the notice required by subdivision (d) is delivered, served, or mailed, whichever is later.

(b) Subject to subdivision (c), the time for filing the petition for review is extended as to a party:

(1) During any period when the party is seeking reconsideration of the decision pursuant to express statute, rule, charter, or ordinance.

(2) Until 30 days after the record is delivered to the party if, within 15 days after the decision is effective, the party makes a written request to the agency to prepare all or any part of the record, and, within 15 days after being notified of the estimated fee and cost, pays the fee and cost provided in Section 1123.910.

(c) In no case shall a petition for review of a decision described in subdivision (a) be filed later than one hundred eighty days after the decision is announced or reconsideration is rejected, whichever is later.

(d) In addition to any notice of agency action required by statute, in an adjudicative proceeding described in subdivision (a), the agency shall in the decision or otherwise give notice to the parties in substantially the following form: “The last day to file a petition with a court for review of the decision may be as early as 90 days after the decision is announced, or in the case of a decision pursuant to environmental laws, as early as 30 days after the time begins to run.”

Comment. Section 1123.640 continues the 90-day limitations period for local agency adjudication in former Section 1094.6(b). The provision in subdivision (b)(2) making the extension of time during preparation of the record contingent on payment of the fee and cost is drawn from former Government Code Section 11523. See also Sections 12-12b (computation of time).

Section 1123.640 does not override special limitations periods applicable to particular proceedings, such as for cancellation by a city or county of a contract limiting use of agricultural land under the Williamson Act (Gov’t Code § 51286), decision of a local legislative body adopting or amending a general or specific plan, zoning ordinance, regulation attached to a specific plan, or development agreement (Gov’t Code § 65009), or a cease and desist order of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission and complaint by BCDC for administrative civil liability (Gov’t Code §§ 66639, 66641.7). See Section 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute controls). Section 1123.640 does not apply to proceedings under the California Environmental Quality Act. Pub. Res. Code § 21168(b).

Subdivision (d) is drawn from former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.6(f). For an example of a 30-day period under environmental laws, see Gov’t Code §§ 66639, 66641.7. See also the Comment to the parallel provision in Section 1123.630.

Article 7. Review Procedure

§ 1123.710. Applicability of rules of practice for civil actions

1123.710. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this title or by rules of court adopted by the Judicial Council not inconsistent with this title, Part 2 (commencing with Section 307) applies to proceedings under this title.

(b) The following provisions of Part 2 (commencing with Section 307) do not apply to a proceeding under this title:

(1) Section 426.30.
(2) Subdivision (a) of Section 1013.
(3) A party may obtain discovery in a proceeding under this title only of the following:

(1) Matters reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of evidence admissible under Section 1123.850.
(2) Matters in possession of the agency for the purpose of determining the accuracy of the affidavit of the agency official who compiled the administrative record for judicial review.
Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.710 continues the effect of Section 1109 in proceedings under this title. For example, under Section 632, upon the request of any party appearing at the trial, the court shall issue a statement of decision explaining the factual and legal basis for its decision as to each of the principal controverted issues at trial. See Delany v. Toomey, 111 Cal. App. 2d 570, 571-72, 245 P.2d 26 (1952).

Under subdivision (b)(1), the compulsory cross-complaint provisions of Section 426.30 do not apply to judicial review under this title.

Subdivision (b)(2) provides that the provisions of Section 1013(a) for extension of time when notice is mailed do not apply to judicial review under this title. This continues prior law for judicial review of local agency action under former Section 1094.6. Tielsch v. City of Anaheim, 160 Cal. App. 3d 576, 206 Cal. Rptr. 740 (1984). Prior law was unclear whether Section 1013(a) applied to judicial review of state agency proceedings under former Section 1094.5. See California Administrative Mandamus § 7.4, at 242 (Cal. Cont. Ed. Bar, 2d ed. 1989). For statutes providing that Section 1013 does apply, see Lab. Code § 98.2; Veh. Code § 40230. These statutes prevail over Section 1123.710(b)(2). See Section 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute controls).

Subdivision (c)(1) codifies City of Fairfield v. Superior Court, 14 Cal. 3d 768, 774-75, 537 P.2d 375, 122 Cal. Rptr. 543 (1975). The affidavit referred to in subdivision (c)(2) is provided for in Section 1123.820.

§ 1123.720. Stay of agency action

1123.720. (a) The filing of a petition for review under this title does not of itself stay or suspend the operation of any agency action.

(b) Subject to subdivision (g), on application of the petitioner, the reviewing court may grant a stay of the agency action pending the judgment of the court if it finds that all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The petitioner is likely to prevail ultimately on the merits.

(2) Without a stay the petitioner will suffer irreparable injury.

(3) The grant of a stay to the petitioner will not cause substantial harm to others.

(4) The grant of a stay to the petitioner will not substantially threaten the public health, safety, or welfare.
(c) The application for a stay shall be accompanied by proof of service of a copy of the application on the agency. Service shall be made in the same manner as service of a summons in a civil action.

(d) The court may condition a stay on appropriate terms, including the giving of security for the protection of parties or others.

(e) If an appeal is taken from a denial of relief by the superior court, the agency action shall not be further stayed except on order of the court to which the appeal is taken. However, in cases where a stay is in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal, the stay is continued by operation of law for a period of 20 days after the filing of the notice.

(f) Except as provided by statute, if an appeal is taken from a granting of relief by the superior court, the agency action is stayed pending the determination of the appeal unless the court to which the appeal is taken orders otherwise. Notwithstanding Section 916, the court to which the appeal is taken may direct that the appeal shall not stay the granting of relief by the superior court.

(g) No stay may be granted to prevent or enjoin the state or an officer of the state from collecting a tax.

Comment. Section 1123.720 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-111, and supersedes former Section 1094.5(g)-(h).

Subdivision (b)(1) generalizes the requirement of former Section 1094.5(h)(1) that a stay may not be granted unless the petitioner is likely to prevail on the merits. The former provision applied only to a decision of a licensed hospital or state agency made after a hearing under the formal hearing provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act.

Subdivision (b)(1) requires more than a conclusion that a possible viable defense exists. The court must make a preliminary assessment of the merits of the judicial review proceeding and conclude that the petitioner is likely to obtain relief in that proceeding. Medical Bd. of California v. Superior Court, 227 Cal. App. 3d 1458, 1461, 278 Cal. Rptr. 247 (1991); Board of Medical Quality Assurance v. Superior Court, 114 Cal. App. 3d 272, 276, 170 Cal. Rptr. 468 (1980).
Subdivision (c) continues a portion of the second sentence and all of the third sentence of former Section 1094.5(g), and a portion of the second sentence and all of the third sentence of former Section 1094.5(h)(1).

Subdivision (d) codifies case law. See Venice Canals Resident Home Owners Ass’n v. Superior Court, 72 Cal. App. 3d 675, 140 Cal. Rptr. 361 (1977) (stay conditioned on posting bond).

Subdivision (e) continues the fourth and fifth sentences of former Section 1094.5(g) and the first and second sentences of former Section 1094.5(h)(3).

The first sentence of subdivision (f) continues the sixth sentence of former Section 1094.5(g) and the third sentence of former Section 1094.5(h)(3). The introductory clause of the first sentence recognizes that statutes may provide special stay rules for particular proceedings. See, e.g., Section 1110a (proceedings concerning irrigation water). The second sentence of subdivision (f) is drawn from Section 1110b, and replaces Section 1110b for judicial review proceedings under this title.

Subdivision (g) recognizes that the California Constitution provides that no legal or equitable process shall issue against the state or any officer of the state to prevent or enjoin the collection of any tax. Cal. Const. art. XIII, § 32.

A decision in a formal adjudicative proceeding under the Administrative Procedure Act may also be stayed by the agency. Gov’t Code § 11519(b).

§ 1123.730. Type of relief

1123.730. (a) Subject to subdivision (c), the court may grant appropriate relief justified by the general set of facts alleged in the petition for review, whether mandatory, injunctive, or declaratory, preliminary or final, temporary or permanent, equitable or legal. In granting relief, the court may order agency action required by law, order agency exercise of discretion required by law, set aside or modify agency action, enjoin or stay the effectiveness of agency action, remand the matter for further proceedings, render a declaratory judgment, or take any other action that is authorized and appropriate. The court may grant necessary ancillary relief to redress the effects of official action wrongfully taken or withheld.
(b) The court may award damages or compensation, subject to any of the following that are applicable:

1. Division 3.6 (commencing with Section 810) of the Government Code.

2. The procedure for a claim against a local agency prescribed in a charter, ordinance, or regulation adopted pursuant to Section 935 of the Government Code.

3. Other express statute.

(c) In reviewing a decision in a proceeding in a state agency adjudication subject to Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11400) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, the court shall enter judgment either commanding the agency to set aside the decision or denying relief. If the judgment commands that the decision be set aside, the court may order reconsideration of the case in light of the court’s opinion and judgment and may order the agency to take further action that is specially enjoined upon it by law.

(d) The court may award attorney’s fees or witness fees only to the extent expressly authorized by statute.

(e) If the court sets aside or modifies agency action or remands the matter for further proceedings, the court may make any interlocutory order necessary to preserve the interests of the parties and the public pending further proceedings or agency action.

Comment. Section 1123.730 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-117, and supersedes former Section 1094.5(f). Section 1123.730 makes clear that the single form of action established by Sections 1121.120 and 1123.610 encompasses any appropriate type of relief, with the exceptions indicated.

Subdivision (b) continues the effect of Code of Civil Procedure Section 1095 permitting the court to award damages in an appropriate case. Under subdivision (b), the court may award damages or compensation subject to the Tort Claims Act, if applicable. The claim presentation requirements of the Tort Claims Act do not apply, for example, to a claim against a local public entity for earned salary or wages. Gov’t Code § 905(c). See also Snipes v. City of Bakersfield, 145 Cal. App. 3d 861, 193 Cal. Rptr. 760 (1983) (claims requirements of Tort Claims Act do not apply to actions under Fair Employment and Housing Act; O’Hagan v. Board of Zoning Adjustment, 38 Cal. App. 3d 722, 729, 113 Cal. Rptr. 501, 506 (1974) (claim for damages for revocation of use permit subject to Tort Claims Act); Eureka Teacher’s Ass’n v. Board of Educ., 202 Cal. App. 3d 469, 475-76, 247 Cal. Rptr. 790 (1988) (action seeking damages incidental to extraordinary relief not subject to claims requirements of Tort Claims Act); Loehr v. Ventura County Community College Dist., 147 Cal. App. 3d 1071, 1081, 195 Cal. Rptr. 576 (1983) (action primarily for money damages seeking extraordinary relief incidental to damages is subject to claims requirements of Tort Claims Act). Nothing in Section 1123.730 authorizes the court to interfere with a valid exercise of agency discretion or to direct an agency how to exercise its discretion. Section 1121.140.

Subdivision (c) continues the first sentence and first portion of the second sentence of former Section 1094.5(f). Subdivision (c) applies to state agency adjudications subject to Government Code Sections 11400-11470.50. These provisions apply to all state agency adjudications unless specifically excepted. Gov’t Code § 11410.20 (operative July 1, 1997) and Comment.

For statutes authorizing an award of attorney’s fees, see Sections 1028.5, 1123.950. See also Gov’t Code §§ 68092.5 (expert witness fees), 68093 (mileage and fees in civil cases in superior court), 68096.1-68097.10 (witness fees of public officers and employees). Cf. Gov’t Code § 11450.40 (fees for witness appearing in APA proceeding pursuant to subpoena) (operative July 1, 1997).

§ 1123.740. Jury trial

1123.740. All proceedings shall be heard by the court sitting without a jury.

Comment. Section 1123.740 continues a portion of the first sentence of former Section 1094.5(a) and generalizes it to apply to all proceedings under this title.

Article 8. Record for Judicial Review

§ 1123.810. Administrative record exclusive basis for judicial review

1123.810. (a) Except as provided in Section 1123.850 or as otherwise provided by statute, the administrative record is the exclusive basis for judicial review of agency action if both of the following requirements are satisfied:
(1) The agency gave interested persons notice and an opportunity to submit oral or written comment.
(2) The agency maintained a record or file of its proceedings.
(b) If the requirements of subdivision (a) are not satisfied, the court may either receive evidence itself or remand to the agency to do so.

The closed record rule of subdivision (a) is limited to cases where the agency gave notice and an opportunity to submit oral or written comment, and maintained a record or file of its proceedings. These requirements will generally be satisfied in most administrative adjudication and quasi-legislative action. In other cases, subdivision (b) makes clear the court may either receive evidence itself or may remand to the agency to receive the evidence. This will apply to most ministerial and informal action. These rules are generally consistent with Western States Petroleum Ass’n v. Superior Court, 9 Cal. 4th 559, 888 P.2d 1268, 38 Cal. Rptr. 2d 139 (1995).

If the closed record requirement of Section 1123.810(a) applies, the court still has some discretion to remand to the agency. See Section 1123.850(c).

§ 1123.820. Contents of administrative record

1123.820. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the administrative record for judicial review of agency action consists of all of the following:
(1) Any agency documents expressing the agency action.
(2) Other documents identified by the agency as having been considered by it before its action and used as a basis for its action.
(3) All material submitted to the agency in connection with the agency action.
(4) A transcript of any hearing, if one was maintained, or minutes of the proceeding. In case of electronic reporting of proceedings, the transcript or a copy of the electronic reporting shall be part of the administrative record in accordance with the rules applicable to the record on appeal in judicial proceedings.

(5) Any other material described by statute as the administrative record for the type of agency action at issue.

(6) An affidavit of the agency official who has compiled the administrative record for judicial review specifying the date on which the record was closed and that the record is complete.

(7) Any other matter expressly prescribed for inclusion in the administrative record by rules of court adopted by the Judicial Council.

(b) The administrative record for judicial review of rulemaking under Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code is the file of the rulemaking proceeding prescribed by Section 11347.3 of the Government Code.

(c) By stipulation of all parties to judicial review proceedings, the administrative record for judicial review may be shortened, summarized, or organized, or may be an agreed or settled statement of the parties, in accordance with the rules applicable to the record on appeal in judicial proceedings.

(d) If an explanation of reasons for the agency action is not otherwise included in the administrative record, the court may require the agency to add to the administrative record for judicial review a brief explanation of the reasons for the agency action to the extent necessary for proper judicial review.

Comment. Section 1123.820 is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-115(a), (d), (f)-(g). For authority to augment the administrative record for judicial review, see Section 1123.850 (new evidence on judicial review). The administrative record for judicial review is related but not necessarily identical to the record of agency proceedings that is prepared and maintained by the agency. The administrative record for judicial review specified in this section is subject to the provisions of this section on shortening, summarizing, or organizing the record, or stipulation to an agreed or settled statement of the parties. Subdivision (c).

Subdivision (a) supersedes the seventh sentence of former Government Code Section 11523 (judicial review of formal adjudicative proceedings under Administrative Procedure Act). In the case of an adjudicative proceeding, the record will include the final decision and all notices and orders issued by the agency (subdivision (a)(1)), any proposed decision by an administrative law judge (subdivision (a)(2)), the pleadings, the exhibits admitted or rejected, and the written evidence and any other papers in the case (subdivision (a)(3)), and a transcript of all proceedings (subdivision (a)(4)).

Treatment of the record in the case of electronic reporting of proceedings in subdivision (a)(4) is derived from Rule 980.5 of the California Rules of Court (electronic recording as official record of proceedings).

The affidavit requirement in subdivision (a)(6) may be satisfied by a declaration under penalty of perjury. Section 2015.5.

Subdivision (d) supersedes the case law requirement of Topanga Ass’n for a Scenic Community v. County of Los Angeles, 11 Cal. 3d 506, 522 P.2d 12, 113 Cal. Rptr. 836 (1974), that adjudicative decisions reviewed under former Section 1094.5 be explained, and extends it to other agency action such as rulemaking and discretionary action. The court should not require an explanation of the agency action if it is not necessary for proper judicial review, for example if the explanation is obvious. A decision in an adjudicative proceeding under the Administrative Procedure Act must include a statement of the factual and legal basis for the decision. Gov’t Code § 11425.50 (operative July 1, 1997).

If there is an issue of completeness of the administrative record, the court may permit limited discovery of the agency file for the purpose of determining the accuracy of the affidavit of completeness. See Section 1123.710(c) (discovery in judicial review proceeding). A party is not entitled to discovery of material in the agency file that is privileged. See, e.g., Gov’t Code § 6254 (exemptions from California Public Records Act). Moreover, the administrative record reflects the actual documents that are the basis of the agency action. Except as provided in subdivision (d), the agency cannot be ordered to prepare a document that does not exist, such as a summary of an oral ex parte contact in a case where the contact is permissible and no other documentation requirement exists. If judicial review reveals that the agency action is not supported by the record, the court may grant appropriate relief, including setting aside, modifying, enjoining, or staying the agency action, or remanding for further proceedings. Section 1123.730.

§ 1123.830. Preparation of record

1123.830. (a) On request of the petitioner for the administrative record for judicial review of agency action:

(1) If the agency action is a decision in an adjudicative proceeding required to be conducted by an administrative law judge employed by the Office of Administrative Hearings, the administrative record shall be prepared by the Office of Administrative Hearings.

(2) If the agency action is other than that described in paragraph (1), the administrative record shall be prepared by the agency.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by statute, the administrative record shall be delivered to the petitioner as follows:

(1) Within 30 days after the request and payment of the fee provided in Section 1123.910 in an adjudicative proceeding involving an evidentiary hearing of 10 days or less.

(2) Within 60 days after the request and payment of the fee provided in Section 1123.910 in a nonadjudicative proceeding, or in an adjudicative proceeding involving an evidentiary hearing of more than 10 days.

(c) For good cause shown, the time limits provided in subdivision (b) may be extended by either or both of the following:

(1) By the court for a reasonable period.

(2) By the agency for a period not exceeding 190 days after the request and payment of the fee and cost provided in Section 1123.910. This paragraph does not apply to review of an adjudicative proceeding under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.
(d) If the agency fails timely to deliver the record, the court may order the agency to deliver the record, and may impose sanctions and grant other appropriate relief for failure to comply with any such order.

Comment. Section 1123.830 supersedes the fourth sentence of former Government Code Section 11523 and the first sentence of subdivision (c) of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.6. Under former Section 11523, in judicial review of proceedings under the Administrative Procedure Act, the record was to be prepared either by the Office of Administrative Hearings or by the agency. However, in practice the record was prepared by the Office of Administrative Hearings, consistent with subdivision (a)(1). The provision in subdivision (b) making the agency’s duty to prepare and deliver the record contingent on payment of the fee is drawn from former Government Code Section 11523.

Although Section 1123.830 requires the Office of Administrative Hearings or the agency to prepare the record, the burden is on the petitioner attacking the administrative decision to show entitlement to judicial relief, so it is petitioner’s responsibility to make the administrative record available to the court. Foster v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 142 Cal. App. 3d 444, 453, 190 Cal. Rptr. 893, 899 (1983). However, this does not authorize use of an unofficial record for judicial review.

Although subdivision (a) requires the agency to prepare the record on request of the petitioner for review, in state agency rulemaking under the Administrative Procedure Act, the file is already complete at the time of review. See Gov’t Code § 11347.3.

The introductory clause of subdivision (b) recognizes that some statutes prescribe the time to prepare the record in particular proceedings. See, e.g., Gov’t Code § 3564 (10-day limit for Public Employment Relations Board).

§ 1123.840. Disposal of administrative record

1123.840. Any administrative record received for filing by the clerk of the court may be disposed of as provided in Sections 1952, 1952.2, and 1952.3.

Comment. Section 1123.840 continues former Section 1094.5(i) without change. Rulemaking records should be carefully safeguarded by the agency. Concerning retention of rulemaking records by the Secretary of State, see Gov’t Code §§ 11347.3, 12223.5, 14755.
§ 1123.850. New evidence on judicial review

1123.850. (a) If the court finds that there is relevant evidence that, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, could not have been produced or that was improperly excluded in the agency proceedings, it may enter judgment remanding the case for reconsideration in the light of that evidence. Except as provided in this section, the court shall not admit the evidence on judicial review without remanding the case.

(b) The court may receive evidence described in subdivision (a) without remanding the case in any of the following circumstances:

(1) The evidence relates to the validity of the agency action and is needed to decide (i) improper constitution as a decisionmaking body, or grounds for disqualification, of those taking the agency action, or (ii) unlawfulness of procedure or of decisionmaking process.

(2) The agency action is a decision in an adjudicative proceeding and the evidence relates to an issue for which the standard of review is the independent judgment of the court.

(c) Whether or not the evidence is described in subdivision (a), the court may receive evidence in addition to that contained in the administrative record for judicial review without remanding the case if no hearing was held by the agency, and the court finds that remand to the agency would be unlikely to result in a better record for review and the interests of economy and efficiency would be served by receiving the evidence itself. This subdivision does not apply to judicial review of rulemaking.

(d) If jurisdiction for judicial review is in the Supreme Court or court of appeal and the court is to receive evidence pursuant to this section, the court shall appoint a referee, master, or trial court judge for this purpose, having due regard for the convenience of the parties.
(e) Nothing in this section precludes the court from taking judicial notice of a decision designated by the agency as a precedent decision pursuant to Section 11425.60 of the Government Code.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1123.850 supersedes former Section 1094.5(e), which permitted the court to admit evidence without remanding the case in cases in which the court was authorized by law to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence. Under this section and Section 1123.810, the court is limited to evidence in the administrative record except under subdivision (b). The provision in subdivision (a) permitting new evidence that could not in the exercise of reasonable diligence have been produced in the administrative proceeding should be narrowly construed. Such evidence is admissible only in rare instances. See Western States Petroleum Ass’n v. Superior Court, 9 Cal. 4th 559, 578, 888 P.2d 1268, 1278, 38 Cal. Rptr. 2d 139, 149 (1995). For rulemaking, no evidence is admissible that was not in existence at the time of the agency proceeding. Gov’t Code § 11350 (state agency rulemaking under the Administrative Procedure Act); Western States Petroleum Ass’n v. Superior Court, supra (quasi-legislative action generally).

Subdivision (b)(1) is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-114(a)(1)-(2). Evidence may be received only if it is likely to contribute to the court’s determination of the validity of agency action under one or more of the standards set forth in Sections 1123.410-1123.460.

Subdivision (b)(2) applies to judicial review of agency interpretation of law under Section 1123.420, and to factfinding in local agency proceedings to which the independent judgment standard applies under Section 1123.440. Admission of evidence under this provision is discretionary with the court.

As used in subdivision (c), “hearing” includes both informal and formal hearings.

Subdivision (d) is drawn from 1981 Model State APA Section 5-104(c), alternative B. Statutes that provide for judicial review in the court of appeal or Supreme Court are: Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090 (Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals Board and Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control); Gov’t Code §§ 3520(c), 3542(c), 3564(c) (Public Employment Relations Board); Lab. Code §§ 1160.8 (Agricultural Labor Relations Board), 5950 (Workers’ Compensation Appeals Board).

Section 1123.850 deals only with admissibility of new evidence on issues involved in the agency proceeding. It does not limit evidence on issues unique to judicial review, such as petitioner’s standing or capacity.
or affirmative defenses such as laches for unreasonable delay in seeking judicial review. For standing rules, see Sections 1123.210-1123.250.

Subdivision (e) makes clear this section does not prevent the court from taking judicial notice of a precedent decision. See Evid. Code § 452.

For a special rule requiring the court to consider all relevant evidence, see Water Code § 1813. This special rule prevails over Section 1123.850. See Section 1121.120 (conflicting or inconsistent statute controls).

Article 9. Costs and Fees

§ 1123.910. Fee for transcript and preparation and certification of record

1123.910. The agency preparing the administrative record for judicial review shall charge the petitioner the fee provided in Section 69950 of the Government Code for the transcript, if any, and the reasonable cost of preparation of other portions of the record and certification of the record.

Comment. Section 1123.910 continues the substance of a portion of the fourth sentence of former Section 11523 of the Government Code, the third sentence of subdivision (a) of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.5, and the second sentence of subdivision (c) of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.6.

§ 1123.920. Recovery of costs of suit

1123.920. Except as otherwise provided by rules of court adopted by the Judicial Council, the prevailing party is entitled to recover the following costs of suit borne by the party:

(a) The cost of preparing the transcript, if any.
(b) The cost of compiling and certifying the record.
(c) Any filing fee.
(d) Fees for service of documents on the other parties.

Comment. Section 1123.920 supersedes the sixth sentence of subdivision (a) of former Section 1094.5, and the fifth and tenth sentences of former Section 11523 of the Government Code. Section 1123.920 generalizes these provisions to apply to all proceedings for judicial review of agency action. See also Bus. & Prof. Code § 125.3 (recovery of costs of investigation and enforcement in a disciplinary proceeding by a board in the Department of Consumer Affairs or the Osteopathic Medical Board).

§ 1123.930. No renewal or reinstatement of license on failure to pay costs

1123.930. No license of a petitioner for judicial review of a decision in an adjudicative proceeding under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code shall be renewed or reinstated if the petitioner fails to pay all of the costs required under Section 1123.920.

Comment. Section 1123.930 continues the substance of a portion of the sixth sentence of former Section 11523 of the Government Code.

§ 1123.940. Proceedings in forma pauperis

1123.940. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, if the petitioner has proceeded pursuant to Section 68511.3 of the Government Code and the rules of court implementing that section and if the transcript is necessary to a proper review of an adjudicative proceeding, the cost of preparing the transcript shall be borne by the agency.

Comment. Section 1123.940 continues the substance of the fourth sentence of subdivision (a) of former Section 1094.5 (proceedings in forma pauperis).
§ 1123.950. Attorney fees in action to review administrative proceeding 1123.950. (a) If it is shown that an agency decision under state law was the result of arbitrary or capricious action or conduct by an agency or officer in an official capacity, the petitioner if the petitioner prevails on judicial review may collect reasonable attorney’s fees, computed at one hundred dollars ($100) per hour, but not to exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500), where the petitioner is personally obligated to pay the fees, from the agency, in addition to any other relief granted or other costs awarded.

(b) This section is ancillary only, and does not create a new cause of action.

(c) Refusal by an agency or officer to admit liability pursuant to a contract of insurance is not arbitrary or capricious action or conduct within the meaning of this section.

(d) This section does not apply to judicial review of actions of the State Board of Control or of a private hospital board.

Comment. Section 1123.950 continues former Government Code Section 800. See also Sections 1121.230 (“agency” defined), 1121.250 (“decision” defined).
SELECTED CONFORMING REVISIONS

STATE BAR COURT

Bus. & Prof. Code § 6089 (added). Inapplicability of Code of Civil Procedure

6089. Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not apply to judicial review of proceedings of the State Bar Court.

Comment. Section 6089 makes clear the judicial review provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure do not apply to the State Bar Court.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE CONTROL APPEALS BOARD

Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090 (amended). Jurisdiction

23090. Any person affected by a final order of the board, including the department, may, within the time limit specified in this section, apply to petition the Supreme Court or to the court of appeal for the appellate district in which the proceeding arose, for a writ of judicial review of such the final order. The application for writ of review shall be made within 30 days after filing of the final order of the board.

Comment. Section 23090 is amended to change the application for a writ of review to a petition for judicial review, consistent with Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.610, and to delete the 30-day time limit formerly prescribed in this section. Under Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630, the petition for review must be filed not later than 30 days after the decision is effective. A decision is effective 30 days after it is delivered or mailed to the respondent, unless the agency orders that it shall become effective sooner. Gov’t Code § 11519.

Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090.1 (repealed). Writ of review

23090.1. The writ of review shall be made returnable at a time and place then or thereafter specified by court order and shall direct the board to certify the whole record of the department in the case to the court within the time specified. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the whole record of the department as certified to by the board.

Comment. Section 23090.1 is repealed because it is superseded by the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. See Section 23090.4. The provision in the first sentence for the return of the writ of review is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.710 (applicability of rules of practice for civil actions). The provision in the first sentence for the record of the department is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.820 (contents of administrative record). The second sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.810 (administrative record exclusive basis for judicial review) and 1123.850 (new evidence on judicial review).

Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090.2 (repealed). Scope of review

23090.2. The review by the court shall not extend further than to determine, based on the whole record of the department as certified by the board, whether:

(a) The department has proceeded without or in excess of its jurisdiction.

(b) The department has proceeded in the manner required by law.

(c) The decision of the department is supported by the findings.

(d) The findings in the department’s decision are supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

(e) There is relevant evidence which, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, could not have been produced at the hearing before the department.

Nothing in this article shall permit the court to hold a trial de novo, to take evidence, or to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence.

Comment. Subdivisions (a) through (d) of former Section 23090.2 are superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.410-1123.460 and 1123.160. Subdivision (e) is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.850. The last sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.420 (interpretation of law), 1123.430 (factfinding), 1123.810 (administrative record exclusive basis for judicial review), and 1123.850 (new evidence on judicial review). Nothing in the Code of Civil Procedure or in this article permits the court to hold a trial de novo.

Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090.3 (amended). Right to appear in judicial review proceeding 23090.3. The findings and conclusions of the department on questions of fact are conclusive and final and are not subject to review. Such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the department. The parties to a judicial review proceeding are the board, the department, and each party to the action or proceeding before the board shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Following the hearing, the court shall enter judgment either affirming or reversing the decision of the department, or the court may remand the case for further proceedings before or reconsideration by the department whose interest is adverse to the person seeking judicial review.

Comment. Section 23090.3 is largely superseded by the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. See Section 23090.4. The first sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.430 (review of agency factfinding). The second sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.420 (interpretation of law). The fourth sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.730 (type of relief).

23090.4. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to writs of review shall, insofar as applicable, apply to proceedings in the courts as provided by this article. A copy of every pleading filed pursuant to this article shall be served on the board, the department, and on each party who entered an appearance before the board. Judicial review shall be under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090.5 (amended). Courts having jurisdiction 23090.5. No court of this state, except the Supreme Court and the courts of appeal to the extent specified in this article, shall have jurisdiction to review, affirm, reverse, correct, or annul any order, rule, or decision of the department or to suspend, stay, or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin, or interfere with the department in the performance of its duties, but a writ of mandate shall lie from the Supreme Court or the courts of appeal in any proper case.

Comment. Section 23090.5 is amended to delete the former reference to a writ of mandate. The writ of mandate has been replaced by a petition for review. See Section 23090.4; Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.610 (petition for review). But cf. Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.510(b) (original jurisdiction of Supreme Court or courts of appeal under California Constitution not affected).

Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090.6 (repealed). Stay of order

23090.6. The filing of a petition for, or the pendency of, a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of any order, rule, or decision of the department, but the court before which the petition is filed may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the order, rule, or decision of the department subject to review, upon the terms and conditions which it by order directs.

Comment. Former Section 23090.6 is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.720 (stays). See Section 23090.4.
Bus. & Prof. Code § 23090.7 (amended). Effectiveness of order 23090.7. No Except for the purpose of Section 1123.630 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no decision of the department which has been appealed to the board and no final order of the board shall become effective during the period in which application a petition for review may be made for a writ of review, as provided by Section 23090.

Comment. Section 23090.7 is amended to add the “except” clause. Section 23090.7 is also amended to recognize that judicial review under the Code of Civil Procedure has been substituted for a writ of review under this article. See Section 23090.4.

TAXPAYER ACTIONS

Code Civ. Proc. § 526a (amended). Taxpayer actions

526a. An action to obtain a judgment, restraining and preventing any (a) A proceeding for judicial review of agency action to restrain or prevent illegal expenditure of, waste of, or injury to the estate, funds, or other property of a county, town, city or city and county of the state, may be maintained against any officer thereof, or any agent, or other person, acting in its behalf, either by a citizen resident therein, or by a corporation, who is assessed for and is liable to pay, or, within one year before the commencement of the action, has paid, a tax therein. under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3.

(b) This section does not affect any right of action in favor of a county, city, town, or city and county, or any public officer; provided that no injunction shall be granted restraining the offering for sale, sale, or issuance of any municipal bonds for public improvements or public utilities.

An action (c) A proceeding brought pursuant to this section to enjoin a public improvement project shall take special precedence over all civil matters on the calendar of the court except those matters to which equal precedence on the calendar is granted by law.

Comment. Section 526a is amended to make the former statutory and common law taxpayers’ action subject to the judicial review provisions of this code. See Sections 1120-1123.950. Under the judicial review provisions, the petitioner must show entitlement to relief on a ground specified in Sections 1123.410-1123.460. See Section 1123.160. The petition for review must name the agency as respondent or the agency head by title, not individual employees of the agency. Section 1123.610. Standing rules are provided in Sections 1123.210-1123.250. Concerning the common law taxpayers’ action, see Los Angeles v. Superior Court, 50 Cal. App. 4th 598, 57 Cal. Rptr. 2d 878, 885 (1996).

VALIDATING PROCEEDINGS

Code Civ. Proc. § 871 (added). Inapplicability of Title 2 of Part 3

871. Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 does not apply to proceedings under this chapter.

Comment. Section 871 makes clear the judicial review provisions in Title 2 of Part 3 do not apply to proceedings under this chapter.

WRIT OF MANDATE

1085. It (a) Subject to subdivision (b), a writ of mandate may be issued by any court, except a municipal or justice court, to any inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or person, to compel the performance of an act which the law specially enjoins, as a duty resulting from an office, trust, or station; or to compel the admission of a party to the use and enjoyment of a right or office to which he the party is entitled, and from which he the party is unlawfully precluded by such the inferior tribunal, corporation, board or person.

(b) Judicial review of agency action to which Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) applies shall be under that title, and not under this chapter.
Comment. Section 1085 is amended to add subdivision (b) and to make other technical revisions. The former reference to a justice court is deleted, because justice courts have been abolished. See Cal. Const. art. VI, § 1.

Code Civ. Proc. § 1085.5 (repealed). Action of Director of Food and Agriculture 1085.5. Notwithstanding this chapter, in any action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void, or annul the activity of the Director of Food and Agriculture under Division 4 (commencing with Section 5001) or Division 5 (commencing with Section 9101) of the Food and Agricultural Code, the procedure for issuance of a writ of mandate shall be in accordance with Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 5051) of Part 1 of Division 4 of that code.

Comment. Section 1085.5 is repealed as obsolete, since Sections 5051-5064 of the Food and Agricultural Code have been repealed.

Code Civ. Proc. § 1094.5 (repealed). Administrative mandamus

1094.5. (a) Where the writ is issued for the purpose of inquiring into the validity of any final administrative order or decision made as the result of a proceeding in which by law a hearing is required to be given, evidence is required to be taken, and discretion in the determination of facts is vested in the inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or officer, the case shall be heard by the court sitting without a jury. All or part of the record of the proceedings before the inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or officer may be filed with the petition, may be filed with respondent’s points and authorities, or may be ordered to be filed by the court. Except when otherwise prescribed by statute, the cost of preparing the record shall be borne by the petitioner. Where the petitioner has proceeded pursuant to Section 68511.3 of the Government Code and the Rules of Court implementing that section and where the transcript is necessary to a proper review of the administrative proceedings, the cost of preparing the transcript shall be borne by the respondent. Where the party seeking the writ has proceeded pursuant to Section 1088.5, the administrative record shall be filed as expeditiously as possible, and may be filed with the petition, or by the respondent after payment of the costs by the petitioner, where required, or as otherwise directed by the court. If the expense of preparing all or any part of the record has been borne by the prevailing party, the expense shall be taxable as costs.

(b) The inquiry in such a case shall extend to the questions whether the respondent has proceeded without, or in excess of jurisdiction; whether there was a fair trial; and whether there was any prejudicial abuse of discretion. Abuse of discretion is established if the respondent has not proceeded in the manner required by law, the order or decision is not supported by the findings, or the findings are not supported by the evidence.

(c) Where it is claimed that the findings are not supported by the evidence, in cases in which the court is authorized by law to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence, abuse of discretion is established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by the weight of the evidence. In all other cases, abuse of discretion is established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), in cases arising from private hospital boards or boards of directors of districts organized pursuant to The Local Hospital District Law, Division 23 (commencing with Section 32000) of the Health and Safety Code or governing bodies of municipal hospitals formed pursuant to Article 7 (commencing with Section 37600) or Article 8 (commencing with Section 37650) of Chapter 5 of Division 3 of Title 4 of the Government Code, abuse of discretion is established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record. However, in all cases in which the petition alleges discriminatory actions prohibited by Section 1316 of the Health and Safety Code, and the plaintiff makes a preliminary showing of substantial evidence in support of that allegation, the court shall exercise its independent judgment on the evidence and abuse of discretion shall be established if the court determines that the findings are not supported by the weight of the evidence.

(e) Where the court finds that there is relevant evidence which, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, could not have been produced or which was improperly excluded at the hearing before respondent, it may enter judgment as provided in subdivision (f) remanding the case to be reconsidered in the light of that evidence; or, in cases in which the court is authorized by law to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence, the court may admit the evidence at the hearing on the writ without remanding the case.

(f) The court shall enter judgment either commanding respondent to set aside the order or decision, or denying the writ. Where the judgment commands that the order or decision be set aside, it may order the reconsideration of the case in the light of the court’s opinion and judgment and may order respondent to take such further action as is specially enjoined upon it by law, but the judgment shall not limit or control in any way the discretion legally vested in the respondent.

(g) Except as provided in subdivision (h), the court in which proceedings under this section are instituted may stay the operation of the administrative order or decision pending the judgment of the court, or until the filing of a notice of appeal from the judgment or until the expiration of the time for filing the notice, whichever occurs first. However, no such stay shall be imposed or continued if the court is satisfied that it is against the public interest; provided that the application for the stay shall be accompanied by proof of service of a copy of the application on the respondent. Service shall be made in the manner provided by Title 5 (commencing with Section 405) of Part 2 or Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2. If an appeal is taken from a denial of the writ, the order or decision of the agency shall not be stayed except upon the order of the court to which the appeal is taken. However, in cases where a stay is in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal, the stay shall be continued by operation of law for a period of 20 days from the filing of the notice. If an appeal is taken from the granting of the writ, the order or decision of the agency is stayed pending the determination of the appeal unless the court to which the appeal is taken shall otherwise order. Where any final administrative order or decision is the subject of proceedings under this section, if the petition shall have been filed while the penalty imposed is in full force and effect, the determination shall not be considered to have become moot in cases where the penalty imposed by the administrative agency has been completed or complied with during the pendency of the proceedings.

(h) (1) The court in which proceedings under this section are instituted may stay the operation of the administrative order or decision of any licensed hospital or any state agency made after a hearing required by statute to be conducted under the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, as set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, conducted by the agency itself or an administrative law judge on the staff of the Office of Administrative Hearings pending the judgment of the court, or until the filing of a notice of appeal from the judgment or until the expiration of the time for filing the notice, whichever occurs first. However, the stay shall not be imposed or continued unless the court is satisfied that the public interest will not suffer and that the licensed hospital or agency is unlikely to prevail ultimately on the merits; and provided further that the application for the stay shall be accompanied by proof of service of a copy of the application on the respondent. Service shall be made in the manner provided by Title 5 (commencing with Section 405) of Part 2 or Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1010) of Title 14 of Part 2.

(2) The standard set forth in this subdivision for obtaining a stay shall apply to any administrative order or decision of an agency which issues licenses pursuant to Division 2 (commencing with Section 500) of the Business and Professions Code or pursuant to the Osteopathic Initiative Act or the Chiropractic Initiative Act. With respect to orders or decisions of other state agencies, the standard in this subdivision shall apply only when the agency has adopted the proposed decision of the administrative law judge in its entirety or has adopted the proposed decision but reduced the proposed penalty pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 11517 of the Government Code; otherwise the standard in subdivision (g) shall apply.

(3) If an appeal is taken from a denial of the writ, the order or decision of the hospital or agency shall not be stayed except upon the order of the court to which the appeal is taken. However, in cases where a stay is in effect at the time of filing the notice of appeal, the stay shall be continued by operation of law for a period of 20 days from the filing of the notice. If an appeal is taken from the granting of the writ, the order or decision of the hospital or agency is stayed pending the determination of the appeal unless the court to which the appeal is taken shall otherwise order. Where any final administrative order or decision is the subject of proceedings under this section, if the petition shall have been filed while the penalty imposed is in full force and effect, the determination shall not be considered to have become moot in cases where the penalty imposed by the administrative agency has been completed or complied with during the pendency of the proceedings.

(i) Any administrative record received for filing by the clerk of the court may be disposed of as provided in Sections 1952, 1952.2, and 1952.3.

(j) Effective January 1, 1996, this subdivision shall apply only to state employees in State Bargaining Unit 5. For purposes of this section, the court is not authorized to review any disciplinary decisions reached pursuant to Section 49576.1 of the Government Code.

The petition shall be filed within 30 days after issuance of the board’s final order, order denying reconsideration, or order joining in the request for judicial review, as applicable. The provisions of Title 1 (commencing with Section 1067) Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to writs shall, except where specifically superseded herein, apply to proceedings pursuant to this section.

The court shall not review the merits of the order.

Comment. Section 3520 is amended to make judicial review of the Public Employment Relations Board subject to the provisions for judicial review in the Code of Civil Procedure, except as provided in this section. The former second sentence of subdivision (c) which required the petition to be filed within 30 days after issuance of the board’s final order, order denying reconsideration, or order joining in the request for judicial review, is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630. Under that section, the petition for review must be filed not later than 30 days after the decision is effective. The board shall file in the court the record of the proceeding, certified by the board, and appropriate evidence disclosing the failure to comply with the decision or order. (3) Nonbinding arbitration by a neutral arbitrator. The arbitrator’s decision in a nonbinding arbitration is final unless within 30 days after the arbitrator delivers the award to the agency head a party requests that the agency conduct a de novo adjudicative proceeding. If the decision in the de novo proceeding is not more favorable to the party electing the de novo proceeding, the party shall pay the costs and fees specified in Section 1141.21 of the Code of Civil Procedure insofar as applicable in the adjudicative proceeding.

(b) If another statute requires mediation or arbitration in an adjudicative proceeding, that statute prevails over this section.

(c) This section does not apply in an adjudicative proceeding to the extent an agency by regulation provides that this section is not applicable in a proceeding of the agency.

Comment. Section 11420.10 is amended to make clear the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure do not apply to binding arbitration under this section.
Gov’t Code § 11425.50 (amended). Decision

11425.50. (a) The decision shall be in writing and shall include a statement of the factual and legal basis for the decision as to each of the principal controverted issues.

(b) The statement of the factual basis for the decision may be in the language of, or by reference to, the pleadings. If the statement is no more than mere repetition or paraphrase of the relevant statute or regulation, the statement shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts of record that support the decision. If the factual basis for the decision includes a determination of the presiding officer based substantially on the credibility of a witness, the statement shall identify any specific evidence of the observed demeanor, manner, or attitude of the witness that supports the determination, and on judicial administrative review the court agency shall give great weight to the determination to the extent the determination identifies the observed demeanor, manner, or attitude of the witness that supports it.

(c) The statement of the factual basis for the decision shall be based exclusively on the evidence of record in the proceeding and on matters officially noticed in the proceeding. The presiding officer’s experience, technical competence, and specialized knowledge may be used in evaluating evidence.

(d) Nothing in this section limits the information that may be contained in the decision, including a summary of evidence relied on.

(e) A penalty may not be based on a guideline, criterion, bulletin, manual, instruction, order, standard of general application or other rule unless it has been adopted as a regulation pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340).

Comment. Subdivision (b) of Section 11425.50 is amended to apply to the reviewing agency the requirement that great weight be given to factual determinations of the presiding officer based on credibility, consistent with requiring the court on judicial review to do the same. The former requirement in subdivision (b) that the court give great weight on judicial review to determinations of the presiding officer based on credibility is continued in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.430(b).

Subdivision (b) requires the agency to give great weight to factual determinations, but not to application of law to fact.

Gov’t Code § 11523 (repealed). Judicial review

11523. Judicial review may be had by filing a petition for a writ of mandate in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, subject, however, to the statutes relating to the particular agency. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the petition shall be filed within 30 days after the last day on which reconsideration can be ordered. The right to petition shall not be affected by the failure to seek reconsideration before the agency. On request of the petitioner for a record of the proceedings, the complete record of the proceedings, or the parts thereof as are designated by the petitioner in the request, shall be prepared by the Office of Administrative Hearings or the agency and shall be delivered to petitioner, within 30 days after the request, which time shall be extended for good cause shown, upon the payment of the fee specified in Section 69950 for the transcript, the cost of preparation of other portions of the record and for certification thereof. Thereafter, the remaining balance of any costs or charges for the preparation of the record shall be assessed against the petitioner whenever the agency prevails on judicial review following trial of the cause. These costs or charges constitute a debt of the petitioner which is collectible by the agency in the same manner as in the case of an obligation under a contract, and no license shall be renewed or reinstated where the petitioner has failed to pay all of these costs or charges. The complete record includes the pleadings, all notices and orders issued by the agency, any proposed decision by an administrative law judge, the final decision, a transcript of all proceedings, the exhibits admitted or rejected, the written evidence and any other papers in the case. Where petitioner, within 10 days after the last day on which reconsideration can be ordered, requests the agency to prepare all or any part of the record the time within which a petition may be filed shall be extended until 30 days after its delivery to him or her. The agency may file with the court the original of any document in the record in lieu of a copy thereof. In the event that the petitioner prevails in overturning the administrative decision following judicial review, the agency shall reimburse the petitioner for all costs of transcript preparation, compilation of the record, and certification.

Comment. The first sentence of former Section 11523 is continued in Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1120 (application of title) and 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute controls).

The second sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630 (time for filing petition for review of decision in adjudicative proceeding).

The third sentence is restated in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.320 (administrative review of final decision).

The first portion of the fourth sentence is continued in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.830 (preparation of record). The last portion of the fourth sentence is continued in substance in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.910 (fee for preparing record).

The fifth sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.920 (recovery of costs of suit).

The first portion of the sixth sentence is omitted as unnecessary, since under Section 1123.920(b) the cost of the record is recoverable by the prevailing party, and under general rules of civil procedure costs of suit are included in the judgment. See Code Civ. Proc. § 1034(a); Cal. Ct. R. 870(b)(4). The last portion of the sixth sentence is continued in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.930.

The seventh sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.820 (contents of administrative record).

The eighth sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630 (time for filing petition for review of decision in adjudicative proceeding).

The ninth sentence is continued in substance in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.710 (applicability of rules of practice for civil actions) and Evidence Code Section 1511 (duplicate and original of a writing generally admissible to same extent).

The tenth sentence is continued in substance in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.920.

Gov’t Code § 11524 (amended). Continuances

11524. (a) The agency may grant continuances. When an administrative law judge of the Office of Administrative Hearings has been assigned to the hearing, no continuance may be granted except by him or her or by the presiding judge of the appropriate regional office of the Office of Administrative Hearings, for good cause shown.

(b) When seeking a continuance, a party shall apply for the continuance within 10 working days following the time the party discovered or reasonably should have discovered the event or occurrence which establishes the good cause for the continuance. A continuance may be granted for good cause after the 10 working days have lapsed if the party seeking the continuance is not responsible for and has made a good faith effort to prevent the condition or event establishing the good cause.

(c) In the event that an application for a continuance by a party is denied by an administrative law judge of the Office of Administrative Hearings, and the party seeks judicial review thereof, the party shall, within 10 working days of the denial, make application for appropriate judicial relief in the superior court or be barred from judicial review thereof as a matter of jurisdiction. A party applying for judicial relief from the denial shall give notice to the agency and other parties. Notwithstanding Section 1010 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the notice may be either oral at the time of the denial of application for a continuance or written at the same time application is made in court for judicial relief. This subdivision does not apply to the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.
Comment. Section 11524 is amended to delete the provision for immediate review of denial of a continuance. Standard principles of finality and exhaustion of administrative remedies apply to this and other preliminary decisions in adjudicative proceeding. See, e.g., Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.310 (exhaustion required).

STATE PERSONNEL BOARD AND DEPARTMENT OF PERSONNEL ADMINISTRATION

19576.1. (a) Effective January 1, 1996, notwithstanding Section 19576, this section shall apply only to state employees in State Bargaining Unit 5.

(b) Whenever an answer is filed by an employee who has been suspended without pay for five days or less or who has received a formal reprimand or up to a five percent reduction in pay for five months or less, the Department of Personnel Administration or its authorized representative shall make an investigation, with or without a hearing, as it deems necessary. However, if he or she receives one of the cited actions in more than three instances in any 12-month period, he or she, upon each additional action within the same 12-month period, shall be afforded a hearing before the State Personnel Board if he or she files an answer to the action.

(c) The Department of Personnel Administration shall not have the above authority with regard to formal reprimands. Formal reprimands shall not be appealable by the receiving employee by any means, except that the State Personnel Board, pursuant to its constitutional authority, shall maintain its right to review all formal reprimands. Formal reprimands shall remain available for use by the appointing authorities for the purpose of progressive discipline.

(d) Disciplinary action taken pursuant to this section is not subject to Sections 19180, 19574.1, 19574.2, 19575, 19575.5, 19579, 19580, 19581, 19581.5, 19582, 19583, and 19587, or to State Personnel Board Rules 51.1 to 51.9, inclusive, 52, and 52.1 to 52.5, inclusive. Disciplinary action taken pursuant to this section is not subject to judicial review.

(e) Notwithstanding any law or rule, if the provisions of this section are in conflict with the provisions of the memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Section 3517.5, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if the provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

Comment. Section 19576.1 is amended to add the second sentence to subdivision (d). This continues the substance of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.5(j).

LOCAL AGENCIES

Gov’t Code § 54963 (added). Decision of local agency; judicial review

54963. (a) This section applies to a decision of a local agency as defined in Section 1121.250 of the Code of Civil Procedure, other than by a school district, suspending, demoting, or dismissing an officer or employee, revoking or denying an application for a permit, license, or other entitlement, or denying an application for any retirement benefit or allowance.

(b) If the decision is not announced at the close of the hearing, the date, time, and place of the announcement of the decision shall be announced at the hearing.

(c) Judicial review of the decision shall be under Title 2 (commencing with 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 54963 continues subdivision (e) of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.6. Subdivision (b) continues the third sentence of subdivision (b) of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.6. Subdivision (c) is new.
Section 54963 applies to agency action of specific application that determines a legal right, duty, privilege, immunity, or other legal interest of a particular person. Code Civ. Proc. § 1121.250 (“decision” defined).

Gov’t Code § 65009 (amended). Actions challenging local government decisions 65009. (a)(1) The Legislature finds and declares that there currently is a housing crisis in California and it is essential to reduce delays and restraints upon expeditiously completing housing projects.

(2) The Legislature further finds and declares that a legal action challenging a decision of a city, county, or city and county has a chilling effect on the confidence with which property owners and local governments can proceed with projects. Legal actions filed to attack, review, set aside, void, or annul a decision of a city, county, or city and county pursuant to this division can prevent the completion of needed developments even though the projects have received required governmental approvals.

(3) The purpose of this section is to provide certainty for property owners and local governments regarding decisions made pursuant to this division.

(b)(1) In an action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void, or annul a finding, determination, or decision of a public agency made pursuant to this title at a properly noticed public hearing, the issues raised shall be limited to those raised in the public hearing or in written correspondence delivered to the public agency prior to, or at, the public hearing, except where the court finds either of the following:

(A) The issue could not have been raised at the public hearing by persons exercising reasonable diligence.

(B) The body conducting the public hearing prevented the issue from being raised at the public hearing.

(2) If a public agency desires the provisions of this subdivision to apply to a matter, it shall include in any public notice issued pursuant to this title a notice substantially stating all of the following: “If you challenge the (nature of the proposed action) in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the (public entity conducting the hearing) at, or prior to, the public hearing.”

(3) The application of this subdivision to causes of action brought pursuant to subdivision (d) applies only to the final action taken in response to the notice to the city or county clerk. If no final action is taken, then the issue raised in the cause of action brought pursuant to subdivision (d) shall be limited to those matters presented at a properly noticed public hearing or to those matters specified in the notice given to the city or county clerk pursuant to subdivision (d), or both.

(c) Except as provided in subdivisions (d) and (i), no action or proceeding shall be maintained in any of the following cases by any person unless the action or proceeding is commenced and service is made on the legislative body within 90 days after the legislative body’s decision:

(1) To attack, review, set aside, void, or annul the decision of a legislative body to adopt or amend a general or specific plan. This paragraph does not apply where an action is brought based upon the complete absence of a general plan or a mandatory element thereof, but does apply to an action attacking a general plan or mandatory element thereof on the basis that it is inadequate.

(2) To attack, review, set aside, void, or annul the decision of a legislative body to adopt or amend a zoning ordinance.

(3) To determine the reasonableness, legality, or validity of any decision to adopt or amend any regulation attached to a specific plan.

(4) To attack, review, set aside, void, or annul the decision of a legislative body to adopt, amend, or modify a
An action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void, or annul the decisions of a legislative body to adopt, amend, or modify a development agreement shall only extend to the specific portion of the development agreement that is the subject of the adoption, amendment, or modification. This paragraph applies to development agreements, amendments, and modifications adopted on or after January 1, 1996.

(5) Concerning any of the proceedings, acts, or determinations taken, done, or made prior to any of the decisions listed in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4).

(d) An action or proceeding shall be commenced and the legislative body served within one year after the accrual of the cause of action as provided in this subdivision, if the action or proceeding meets both of the following requirements:

(1) It is brought in support of the development of housing which meet the requirements for housing for persons and families with low or moderate incomes set forth in Section 65915.

(2) It is brought with respect to actions taken pursuant to Article 10.6 (commencing with Section 65580) of Chapter 3 of this division, pursuant to Section 65589.5, 65863.6, 65915, or 66474.2 or pursuant to Chapter 4.2 (commencing with Section 65913).

A cause of action brought pursuant to this subdivision shall not be maintained until 60 days have expired following notice to the city or county clerk by the party bringing the cause of action, or his or her representative, specifying the deficiencies of the general plan, specific plan, or zoning ordinance. A cause of action brought pursuant to this subdivision shall accrue 60 days after notice is filed or the legislative body takes a final action in response to the notice, whichever occurs first. A notice or cause of action brought by one party pursuant to this subdivision shall not bar filing of a notice and initiation of a cause of action by any other party.

(e) Upon the expiration of the time limits provided for in this section, all persons are barred from any further action or proceeding.

(f) Notwithstanding Section 65700, this section shall apply to charter cities.

(g) Except as provided in subdivision subdivisions (d) and (j), this section shall not affect any law prescribing or authorizing a shorter period of limitation than that specified herein.

(h) Except as provided in paragraph (4) of subdivision (c), this section shall be applicable to those decisions of the legislative body of a city, county, or city and county made pursuant to this division on or after January 1, 1984.

(i) Where the action or proceeding challenges the adequacy of a housing element, the action or proceeding may be initiated up to 60 days following the date the Department of Housing and Community Development reports its findings concerning the housing element pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 65585.

(j) A challenge to action of a public agency under this section shall be brought under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except as follows:

(1) This subdivision does not apply to judicial review of an ordinance of a local agency.

(2) Sections 1123.630 and 1123.640 of the Code of Civil Procedure do not apply to proceedings governed by this section.

Comment. Section 65009 is amended to add subdivision (j) to make clear that judicial review under this section shall be under the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. See Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1120-1123.950. Paragraph (1) of subdivision (j) is consistent with Code of Civil Procedure Section 1121(d). Under paragraph (2) of subdivision (j), the time limits and notice provisions of Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.630 and 1123.640 do not apply to proceedings governed by this section.

ZONING ADMINISTRATION

Gov’t Code § 65907 (amended). Time for attacking administrative determination 65907. (a) Except as otherwise provided by ordinance, any action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void, or annul a proceeding for judicial review of any decision of matters listed in Sections 65901 and 65903, or concerning any of the proceedings, acts, or determinations taken, done, or made prior to such the decision, or to determine the reasonableness, legality, or validity of any condition attached thereto, shall not be maintained by any person unless the action or proceeding is commenced within 90 days and the legislative body is served within 120 days after the date of the decision. Thereafter, shall be under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. After the time provided in Section 1123.640 of the Code of Civil Procedure has expired, all persons are barred from any such action or a proceeding for judicial review or any defense of invalidity or unreasonableness of that decision or of these proceedings, acts, or determinations. All actions a proceeding for judicial review brought pursuant to this section shall be given preference over all other civil matters before the court, except probate, eminent domain, and forcible entry and unlawful detainer proceedings.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 65803, this section shall apply to charter cities.

(c) The amendments to subdivision (a) shall apply to decisions made pursuant to this division on or after January 1, 1984.
Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 65907 is amended to make proceedings to which it applies subject to the judicial review provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure. Subdivision (c) is deleted as no longer necessary.

PRIVATE HOSPITAL BOARDS

Health & Safety Code §§ 1339.62-1339.64 (added). Judicial review

Article 12. Judicial Review of Decision of Private Hospital Board

§ 1339.62. Definitions
1339.62. As used in this article:
(a) “Adjudicative proceeding” is defined in Section 1121.220 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
(b) “Decision” is defined in Section 1121.250 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Comment. Section 1339.62 applies definitions applicable to the judicial review provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 1339.63. Judicial review; venue
1339.63. (a) Judicial review of a decision of a private hospital board in an adjudicative proceeding shall be under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
(b) The proper county for judicial review of a decision of a private hospital board in an adjudicative proceeding is determined under Title 4 (commencing with Section 392) of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Comment. Subdivision (a) of Section 1339.63 continues the effect of former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.5(d). See also Anton v. San Antonio Community Hosp., 19 Cal. 3d 802, 815-20, 567 P.2d 1162, 140 Cal. Rptr. 442 (1979) (administrative mandamus available to review action by private hospital board).
Subdivision (b) continues the substance of existing law. See Code Civ. Proc. § 1109; California Administrative Mandamus § 8.16, at 269 (Cal.
Cont. Ed. Bar, 2d ed. 1989). See also Sections 1339.62 (“adjudicative proceeding” and “decision” defined); 1339.64 (standard of review of factfinding).

Judicial review of a decision of a public hospital is also under Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1120-1123.950. See Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1120 (title applies to judicial review of agency action), 1121.130 (“agency” broadly defined to include all governmental entities).

§ 1339.64. Standard of review of factfinding

1339.64. The standard for judicial review of whether a decision of a private hospital board in an adjudicative proceeding is based on an erroneous determination of fact made or implied by the board is whether the board’s determination is supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

Comment. Section 1339.64 continues former Code of Civil Procedure Section 1094.5(d), except that the independent judgment standard of review of alleged discriminatory action under Section 1316 is not continued.

AGRICULTURAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

Lab. Code § 1160.8 (amended). Review of final order of board; procedure

1160.8. Any person aggrieved by the final order of the board granting or denying in whole or in part the relief sought may obtain a review of such the order in the court of appeal having jurisdiction over the county wherein the unfair labor practice in question was alleged to have been engaged in, or wherein such the person resides or transacts business, by filing in such court a written petition requesting that the order of the board be modified or set aside. Such petition shall be filed with the court within 30 days from the date of the issuance of the board’s order under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Upon the filing of such the petition for review, the court shall cause notice to be served upon the board and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding. The board shall file in the court the record of the proceeding, certified by the board within 10 days after the clerk’s notice unless such the time is extended by the court for good cause shown. The court shall have jurisdiction to grant to the board such any temporary relief or restraining order it deems just and proper and in like manner to make and enter a decree enforcing, modifying and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part, the order of the board. The findings of the board with respect to questions of fact if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole shall in like manner be conclusive.

An order directing an election shall not be stayed pending review, but such the order may be reviewed as provided in Section 1158.

If the time for review of the board order has lapsed, and the person has not voluntarily complied with the board’s order, the board may apply to the superior court in any county in which the unfair labor practice occurred or wherein such the person resides or transacts business for enforcement of its order. If after hearing, the court determines that the order was issued pursuant to procedures established by the board and that the person refuses to comply with the order, the court shall enforce such the order by writ of injunction or other proper process. The court shall not review the merits of the order.

Comment. Section 1160.8 is amended to make proceedings to which it applies subject to the judicial review provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure.

The former second sentence of Section 1160.8 which required the petition to be filed within 30 days from the date of issuance of the board’s order is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630. Under that section, the petition for review must be filed not later than 30 days after the decision is effective. A decision is effective 30 days after it is delivered or mailed to the respondent, unless the agency orders that it shall become effective sooner. Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.630(b)(2).

WORKERS’ COMPENSATION APPEALS BOARD

5950. Any person affected by an order, decision, or award of the appeals board may, within the time limit specified in this section, apply to petition the Supreme Court or to the court of appeal for the appellate district in which he the person resides, for a writ of judicial review, for the purpose of inquiring into and determining the lawfulness of the original order, decision, or award of the order, decision, or award following reconsideration. The application for writ of review must be made within 45 days after a petition for reconsideration is denied, or, if a petition is granted or reconsideration is had on the appeal board’s own motion, within 45 days after the filing of the order, decision, or award following reconsideration.

Comment. Section 5950 is amended to delete the second sentence specifying the time limit for judicial review. Under Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630, the petition for review must be filed not later than 30 days after the decision is effective. A decision is effective 30 days after it is delivered or mailed to the respondent, unless the agency orders that it shall become effective sooner. Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.630(b)(2).

Lab. Code § 5951 (repealed). Writ of review

5951. The writ of review shall be made returnable at a time and place then or thereafter specified by court order and shall direct the appeals board to certify its record in the case to the court within the time therein specified. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the appeals board as certified to by it.
Comment. Section 5951 is repealed because it is superseded by the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. See Section 5954. The provision in the first sentence for the return of the writ of review is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.710 (applicability of rules of practice for civil actions). The provision in the first sentence for the record of the department is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.820 (contents of administrative record). The second sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.810 (administrative record exclusive basis for judicial review) and 1123.850 (new evidence on judicial review).

Lab. Code § 5952 (repealed). Scope of review

5952. The review by the court shall not be extended further than to determine, based upon the entire record which shall be certified by the appeals board, whether:

(a) The appeals board acted without or in excess of its powers.
(b) The order, decision, or award was procured by fraud.
(c) The order, decision, or award was unreasonable.
(d) The order, decision, or award was not supported by substantial evidence.
(e) If findings of fact are made, such findings of fact support the order, decision, or award under review.

Nothing in this section shall permit the court to hold a trial de novo, to take evidence, or to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence.

Comment. Subdivisions (a) through (e) of former Section 5952 are superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.410-1123.460. See also Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.160 (condition of relief). The last sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.430 (review of factfinding), 1123.810 (administrative record exclusive basis for review), and 1123.850 (new evidence). Nothing in the Code of Civil Procedure or in this article permits the court to hold a trial de novo.

5953. The findings and conclusions of the appeals board on questions of fact are conclusive and final and are not subject to review. Such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the appeals board. The parties to a judicial review proceeding are the appeals board and each party to the action or proceeding before the appeals board shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing, the court shall enter judgment either affirming or annulling the order, decision, or award, or the court may remand the case for further proceedings before the appeals board whose interest is adverse to the petitioner for judicial review.

Comment. Section 5953 is largely superseded by the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. See Section 5954. The first sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.430 (review of factfinding). The second sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.420 (review of interpretation of law). The fourth sentence is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.730 (type of relief).

5954. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable, apply to proceedings in the courts under the provisions of this article. A copy of every pleading filed pursuant to the terms of this article shall be served on the appeals board and upon every party who entered an appearance in the action before the appeals board and whose interest therein is adverse to the party filing such pleading. Judicial review shall be under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Comment. Section 5954 is amended to replace the former provisions with a reference to the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. Special provisions of this article prevail over general provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure governing judicial review. See

Lab. Code § 5955 (amended). Courts having jurisdiction; mandate

5955. No court of this state, except the Supreme Court and the courts of appeal to the extent herein specified, has jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct, or annul any order, rule, decision, or award of the appeals board, or to suspend or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin, or interfere with the appeals board in the performance of its duties but a writ of mandate shall lie from the Supreme Court or a court of appeal in all proper cases.

Comment. Section 5955 is amended to delete the former reference to a writ of mandate. The writ of mandate has been replaced by a petition for review. See Section 5954; Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.610 (petition for review). See also Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.510(b) (original writ jurisdiction of Supreme Court and courts of appeal not affected).

Lab. Code § 5956 (repealed). Stay of order

5956. The filing of a petition for, or the pendency of, a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of any order, rule, decision, or award of the appeals board, but the court before which the petition is filed may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the order, decision, or award of the appeals board subject to review, upon the terms and conditions which it by order directs, except as provided in Article 3 of this chapter.

Comment. Former Section 5956 is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.720 (stays). The stay provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure are subject to Article 3 (commencing with Section 6000) (undertaking on stay order). See Code Civ. Proc. § 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute prevails).
Lab. Code § 6000 (amended). Undertaking on stay order

6000. The operation of any order, decision, or award of the appeals board under the provisions of this division or any judgment entered thereon, shall not at any time be stayed by the court to which petition is made for a writ of judicial review, unless an undertaking is executed on the part of the petitioner.

Comment. Section 6000 is amended reflect replacement of the writ of review by the judicial review procedure in Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The stay provisions of Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.720 are subject to this article. See Code Civ. Proc. § 1121.110 (conflicting or inconsistent statute prevails).

CALIFORNIA ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY ACT

21168. Any (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), an action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void or annul a determination, finding, or decision of a public agency, made as a result of a proceeding in which by law a hearing is required to be given, evidence is required to be taken and discretion in the determination of facts is vested in a public agency, on the grounds of noncompliance with the provisions of this division shall be in accordance with the provisions of Section 1094.5 under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

In any such action proceeding, the court shall not exercise its independent judgment on the evidence, but shall only determine whether the act or decision is supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record.

(b) Sections 1123.630 and 1123.640 of the Code of Civil Procedure do not apply to judicial review of proceedings under this division.

Comment. Section 21168 is amended to revise the reference to the provisions for judicial review. See Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1120-1123.950.
The former reference to “a proceeding in which by law a hearing is required to be given, evidence is required to be taken and discretion in the determination of facts is vested in a public agency” is deleted so that Section 21168 will apply both to proceedings formerly reviewed by administrative mandamus and to those formerly reviewed by traditional mandamus.

Pub. Res. Code § 21168.5 (repealed). Inquiry limited to prejudicial abuse of discretion 21168.5. In any action or proceeding, other than an action or proceeding under Section 21168, to attack, review, set aside, void or annul a determination, finding, or decision of a public agency on the grounds of noncompliance with this division, the inquiry shall extend only to whether there was a prejudicial abuse of discretion. Abuse of discretion is established if the agency has not proceeded in a manner required by law or if the determination or decision is not supported by substantial evidence.

Comment. Section 21168.5, which applied to traditional mandamus, is superseded by Section 21168. Under Section 21168, both administrative and traditional mandamus under prior law are replaced by the new judicial review statute. See Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1120-1123.950. The provision of former Section 21168.5 limiting the inquiry to prejudicial abuse of discretion is superseded by Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.420-1123.460 (standards of review). Discretionary action is now reviewed using the standard of Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.450 (abuse of discretion).

STATE ENERGY RESOURCES CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

25531.5. Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not apply to judicial review of a decision of the commission on an application of an electric utility for certification of a site and related facility under this code.
Comment. Section 25531.5 makes clear the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure do not apply to power plant siting decisions of the Energy Commission under this code.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION

1768. Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not apply to judicial review of proceedings of the commission under this code.

Comment. Section 1768 makes clear the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure do not apply to proceedings of the Public Utilities Commission under this code.

PROPERTY TAXATION

2954. (a) An assessee may challenge a seizure of property made pursuant to Section 2953 by petitioning for a writ of prohibition or writ of mandate in the superior court alleging:

1. That there are no grounds for the seizure;
2. That the declaration of the tax collector is untrue or inaccurate; and
3. That there are and will be sufficient funds to pay the taxes prior to the date such taxes become delinquent.

(b) As a condition of maintaining the special review proceedings for a writ, the assessee shall file with the tax collector a bond sufficient to pay the taxes and all fees and charges actually incurred by the tax collector as a result of the seizure, and shall furnish proof of the bond with the court. Upon the filing of the bond, the tax collector shall release the property to the assessee.
Comment. Section 2954 is amended to make judicial review under the section subject to general provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure for review of agency action.

Rev. & Tax. Code § 2955 (technical amendment). Recovery of costs by assessee 2955. If the assessee prevails in the special review proceeding for a writ under Section 2954, the assessee is entitled to recover from the county all costs, including attorney's fees, incurred by virtue of the seizure and subsequent actions, and the tax collector shall bear the costs of seizure and any fees and expenses of keeping the seized property. If, however, subsequent to the date the taxes in question become delinquent, the taxes are not paid in full and it becomes necessary for the tax collector to seize property of the assessee in payment of the taxes or to commence an action against the assessee for recovery of the taxes, in addition to all taxes and delinquent penalties, the assessee shall reimburse the county for all costs incurred at the time of the original seizure and all other costs charged to the tax collector or the county as a result of the original seizure and any subsequent actions.

Comment. Section 2955 is amended to recognize that judicial review under Section 2954 is subject to general provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure for review of agency action.

Rev. & Tax. Code § 2956 (technical amendment). Precedence for court hearing 2956. In all special review proceedings for a writ brought under this article, all courts in which such proceedings are pending shall, upon the request of any party thereto, give such proceedings precedence over all other civil actions and proceedings, except actions and proceedings to which special precedence is otherwise given by law, in the matter of the setting of them for hearing or trial and in their hearing or trial, to the end that all such proceedings shall be quickly heard and determined.

Comment. Section 2956 is amended to recognize that judicial review under this article is subject to general provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure for review of agency action.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Rev. & Tax. Code § 7279.6 (amended). Judicial review

7279.6. An arbitrary and capricious action of the board in implementing the provisions of this chapter shall be reviewable by writ under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Comment. Section 7279.6 is amended to make judicial review under the section subject to general provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure for review of agency action.

CALIFORNIA UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE APPEALS BOARD

1243. A decision of the appeals board on an appeal from a denial of a protest under Section 1034 or on an appeal from a denial or granting of an application for transfer of reserve account under Article 5 (commencing with Section 1051) shall be subject to judicial review if an appropriate proceeding is filed by the employer within 90 days of the service of notice of the decision under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The director may, in writing, extend for a period of not exceeding two years the time provided in Section 1123.630 of the Code of Civil Procedure within which such proceeding may be instituted if written request for such extension is filed with the director within the 90-day period time prescribed by that section.
Comment. Section 1243 is amended to make clear that judicial review under the section shall be under Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1120-1123.950. The former 90-day time limit for a proceeding under this section is superseded by the time limit provided in Code of Civil Procedure Section 1123.630 (30 days from effective date of decision or giving of notice, whichever is later).

DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES

Veh. Code § 13559 (amended). Petition for review

13559. (a) Notwithstanding Section 14400 or 14401, within 30 days of the issuance of a person who has been issued a notice of determination of the department sustaining an order of suspension or revocation of the person’s privilege to operate a motor vehicle, after the hearing pursuant to Section 13558, the person may file a petition for review of the order in the court of competent jurisdiction in the person’s county of residence. The filing of a petition for judicial review shall not stay the order of suspension or revocation. The review shall be on the record of the hearing and the court shall not consider other evidence. If the court finds that the department exceeded its constitutional or statutory authority, made an erroneous interpretation of the law, acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner, or made a determination which is not supported by the evidence in the record, except as provided in this section, the proceedings shall be conducted under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. In addition to the relief authorized under Title 2, the court may order the department to rescind the order of suspension or revocation and return, or reissue a new license to, the person.

(b) A finding by the court after a review pursuant to this section shall have no collateral estoppel effect on a subsequent criminal prosecution and does not preclude relitigation of those same facts in the criminal proceeding.
Comment. Section 13559 is amended to make judicial review proceedings under the section subject to the judicial review provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. The special venue rule of Section 13559 is preserved.

Veh. Code § 14401 (amended). Statute of limitations on review

14401. (a) Any action brought in a court of competent jurisdiction to review any order of the department refusing, canceling, placing on probation, suspending, or revoking the privilege of a person to operate a motor vehicle shall be commenced within 90 days from the date the order is noticed.

(b) Upon final completion of all administrative appeals, the person whose driving privilege was refused, canceled, placed on probation, suspended, or revoked shall be given written notice by the department of his or her right to a review by a court pursuant to subdivision (a) under Title 2 (commencing with Section 1120) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Comment. Subdivision (b) of Section 14401 is amended to recognize that judicial review is under Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1120-1123.950. See Code Civ. Proc. § 1121.120 (other forms of judicial review replaced).

Such review, if granted, shall be the exclusive remedy available to the applicant or recipient or county for review of the director’s decision. The director shall be the sole respondent in such the proceedings. Immediately upon favorable decision.

Comment. Section 10962 is amended to make judicial review of a welfare decision of the Department of Social Services subject to the judicial review provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure. Judicial review is prescribed in Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1123.410-1123.460.

See also Code Civ. Proc. § 1123.160 (condition of relief).
